GRAND JURY TO USE THE PROBE

To Hear Criminal Charges Against Allegheny Officials.

ARRESTS TO BE MADE

District Attorney Stewart Has Retained Attorneys for the Prosecution.

TRIAL SURE TO BE NEXT WEEK

Weeks devoted to the investigation of the charges that certain officials of Allegheny have for months past been grafting among the residents of the First and Fourth wards have borne fruit in the form of evidence that will be used within a few days by District Attorney Robert E. Stewart, who will institute proceedings against those accused of misdemeanor. Maj. Stewart last night admitted that the investigation is to be held. At least three men holding official positions in Allegheny will be served with warrants within the next 48 hours and the trial that is to follow will be commenced without delay. Scores of witnesses have been secured.

The present grand jury, that would have otherwise adjourned today, will be continued by order of the court for another week.

Grand Jury to Continue.

"The present grand jury will be continued for several days; likely a week," said Maj. Stewart.

"Does this mean that the charges against Allegheny officials will be brought before that body at once?" was asked.

"That is a question that I must not answer, but you can say that the grand jury will sit for several days yet and that it will have plenty to do in this extra time. I have retained Attorneys John Marron, John C. Haymaker and Harry L. Goehring as special counsel to assist me in the prosecution. It has taken weeks to get the evidence necessary before action could be started, but everything is about ready now. The pressure of business in my office induced me to seek outside aid in the Allegheny case."

Attorney John C. Haymaker was asked what part he would play in the coming proceedings, and said:

"My part in the action will be a subordinate one. Maj. Stewart has this case in charge and will handle it. Any outside counsel will simply assist Maj. Stewart."

District Attorney Acted Wisely.

"I must say that Maj. Stewart has acted wisely in this matter. Despite adverse criticism he has gone ahead and collected the necessary evidence. If he had started proceedings several weeks ago he would have rushed head-long into this case without having in his possession the evidence necessary to place before the grand jury. The result would have been no investigation, because of lack of evidence."

John Marron said: "I understand the grand jury is to remain in session for several days. I will not say what part I shall take in the proceedings."

Mr. Goehring could not be found last night.

The cost of the trial is to be paid by public spirited citizens of Allegheny whose personalities will not appear in any manner in the investigation. The man who is acting as treasurer, and who made arrangements with the three attorneys who are to assist Maj. Stewart in the case, said last night:

An Awful State of Affairs.

"It was agreed upon several days ago that there was ample evidence in the possession of the district attorney and Mr. Marron to send several Allegheny officials to the penitentiary. I was present when Messrs. Goehring, Marron and Haymaker agreed to take part in the proceedings. I assured them that there was unlimited money to carry the investigation as far as it would go.

"The residents of Allegheny are to learn what an awful condition of affairs exists and the sensation that is coming will eclipse anything the North Side has ever experienced."

Director Thomas B. Seandrett was asked last night if the Allegheny officials were prepared with a defense to the charges made against them. He replied:

"What charges? I have not heard that any charges had been made against any one."

WE OWE THE FRENCH A DEBT OF GRATITUDE

Have Accomplished More in Four Months Than De Lesseps Did in Fifteen Years.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Chief Engineer John F. Wallace of the Panama canal stated at the Press club that George Ehle, an American engineer, had made discoveries in four months which the French failed to ascertain in the 15 years they spent trying to dig the canal.

"By the discoveries of Engineer Ehle," said Mr. Wallace, "the Chagres river has been diverted to the Pacific ocean and the trouble arising from the annual spring floods has been overcome. In their explorations, Ehle and his companions spent about four months in the tropical jungles and experienced great hardships, but their trouble has been amply rewarded. The course of the Chagres will be changed at a cost of about $16,000,000, thus saving $20,000,000 on the $36,000,000 appropriated for the building of locks and sea walls."

"The following comments upon conditions as he found them were made by Mr. Wallace:

"The French did everything in the world except dig the canal.

"My three months in Panama were no worse than a summer in St. Louis.

"The American people's debt of gratitude to the French is that they showed us what not to do."

CZAR'S ARMY FALLS BACK

Kuropatkin Retires from Mukden and Mines Approaches to City.

DA PASS IS TAKEN

Japanese Assume the Offensive and Are Pressing the Russian Left.

PORT ARTHUR IS CONFIDENT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Telegraphing from Niuchwang September 29, the Daily Mail's correspondent says:

"The main force of the Russian army has retired to the north of Mukden. Strong bodies of troops have been thrown out to defend both flanks and the southern approaches to the city have been carefully mined. The indications are that no serious attempt will be made to hold Mukden."

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 29.—News has been received here from Mukden that the Japanese have at last begun the offensive. They have captured Da pass and are pressing on Gen. Kuropatkin's left flank. Several other passes of the Da range eastward of Bentsiaputze, 20 miles southeast of Mukden, are also in the hands of the Japanese.

Kuropatkin is evidently drawing in his forces to the less mountainous country northwestward, where he may decide to give battle. In the meanwhile sharp fighting is regarded as imminent southeast of Mukden, whence the Japanese are expected to deliver their main attack, the flank movement from the west being of secondary importance.

Da pass, or Ta pass, meaning Great pass, is about 45 miles southeast of Mukden and about the same distance northeast of Liao-Yang. It is about 25 miles south of the Hun river. The Japanese attacked Da pass, which was occupied by the troops of Gens. Mistchenko and Samsonoff, September 24, but, according to dispatches from Harbin, were twice repulsed.

Staff Officers Appointed.

The emperor will return from Odessa October 4. The emperor stopped the train at Vilna in order to receive in audience Gen. Grippenberg, who is to command the second Manchurian army, who went there to hand over the charge of the military district. Gen. Grippenberg's chief of staff at Vilna, Gen. Rouzesky, has been appointed chief of staff of the second army. Rouzesky served with distinction during the Turkish war and was wounded at Plevna.

Gen. Schwank, chief of staff of the Sixth corps in Poland, has been appointed quartermaster general of the second army, which will be composed of six corps, including the Eighth Odessa corps and the Sixth Siberian corps. The latter is now with Gen. Kuropatkin. The remaining four corps are not yet designated, though it is understood they will include one corps from Kieff, one from the Caucasus and the Sixth corps from Lomja.

The cruiser Oleg, which was preparing for sea at Cronstadt, broke her cylinder while making her trial trip, and probably six weeks will be required to make the necessary repairs. The other ships of the Baltic squadron are still engaged in target practice at the fleet maneuvers at Reval.

Can Hold Out Till New Year.

VLADIVOSTOK, Sept. 29.—Private reports from Port Arthur state that the garrison there is confident of being able to hold out until the beginning of next year. The report is confirmed of the loss of three Japanese torpedo boats and the damaging of a Japanese cruiser by coming in contact with Russian mines.

Grand Duke Alexander Michaelovitch has telegraphed here offering the hospitality of a specially constructed villa on his estate at Aitodor, in the Crimea, to officers wounded in sea fighting. Admiral Skyrdloff has given permission to Lieut. Dombrovski and Midshipman Baron Aminoff to accept the invitations, and they will start for Aitodor shortly.

TIE PASS, Sept. 29.—The Japanese armies around Liao-Yang are reported to be decimated by epidemics, due to decaying corpses. The Japanese are said to have dammed the Liao river abreast of Liao-Yang, flooding the country in order to protect their left flank. War clothing is being received by the Japanese from America.

THE EARL OF YARMOUTH WILL GO TO CRESSON, PA.

Arrives on the Baltic on His Way to Join His Wife—Henry Phipps Home.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Among the passengers to arrive in New York today on the steamer Baltic were Henry Phipps of Pittsburgh and the earl of Yarmouth. Neither of these gentlemen would say a word to the reporters who met the vessel on any question whatever.

Mr. Phipps was driven to his residence in this city and the earl went to the Holland house. The earl is on his way to Cresson, Pa., where his wife, formerly Miss Alice Thaw of Pittsburgh, and her mother, Mrs. Thaw, are spending the fall. The earl declined to say whether or not he would visit Pittsburgh, indicating that that question depended upon any plans the countess may have made. He will remain on this side only a short while, and will be accompanied by the countess on his return to England.

The Baltic carried the largest cargo of human freight that ever crossed the Atlantic in one vessel. Among the notable persons aboard were Marshall Field of Chicago, Sir George Newnes of London, Dr. Boyd Carpenter, the lord bishop of Ripon; former Mayor Robert A. Van Wyck and Sir Charles Carter Drury, second naval lord of the British admiralty. Of the first cabin passengers there were 412, second cabin 247 and steerage 2,885.

HENRY C. PAYNE SERIOUSLY ILL

Postmaster General Again Develops Alarming Symptoms of Heart Trouble.

HIS CONDITION IS CRITICAL

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Postmaster General Henry C. Payne is seriously ill at the Hotel Arlington. Marked symptoms of heart trouble have developed. His condition became so serious during the day as to cause grave concern.

Dr. G. L. Lloyd Magruder, who was Mr. Payne's physician during his severe illness some months ago, has been attending him. Dr. Rixey, the surgeon general of the navy, also has been called in. President and Mrs. Roosevelt called at the hotel this evening and made inquiries regarding the postmaster general's condition. Dr. Magruder on leaving Mr. Payne's room late tonight gave out a bulletin as follows:

> The postmaster general has not been feeling well for several days. Recently, decided symtoms of heart trouble have developed. These were very serious during the night and the early part of today. He is responding to the remedies employed and is resting easier.

Francis H. Whitney, secretary to the postmaster general, remained at Mr. Payne's rooms until late this evening. Mr. Whitney made this statement:

> The postmaster general returned from his recent western trip apparently in better health than for some time past. Frequent comments were made on his improved appearance. He was at his desk at the office last Tuesday, and attended the cabinet meeting that day. He was at the office again Wednesday forenoon, though he had passed a very restless night. His will power kept him up till last evening, since which time he has been confined to his bed.

While Mr. Payne is resting easier tonight, it is admitted that he is in a very weakened and serious condition.

At midnight Mr. Payne was sleeping quietly. Dr. Magruder was still in attendance.

SENATOR HOAR'S LONG LIFE ENDED

Death Closes Career of One of Nation's Great Men and Noblest Patriots.

WONDERFUL FIGHT FOR LIFE

WORCESTER, MASS., Sept. 30.—George Frisbie Hoar, senior United States senator from Massachusetts, died at his home in this city at 1:35 o'clock this morning.

The end followed a period of unconsciousness that had continued since early Tuesday, and came so gently that only the attending physicians were aware of the exact moment of dissolution.

The attending physicians despaired of the senator's life six weeks ago, but such was the vitality exhibited by their distinguished patient that even they were surprised, and the public was at times led to cherish a faith in an ultimate recovery. On Sunday last, however, all hope was abandoned after an unsuccessful attempt to administer medicine and nourishment.

Brief lucid intervals were followed by longer durations of unconsciousness until Tuesday morning, when the venerable statesman sank into a state of coma, from which all efforts to rouse him proved futile.

Sketch of Mr. Hoar's Career.

Few men had filled a larger place in the public life of the country during the past half century than Senator George Frisbie Hoar. For many years his voice had been heard in the halls of congress and elsewhere when great questions of public policy were up for discussion and always he has spoken with rare eloquence and power for the highest ideals.

It is doubtful if any members of the senate in the history of that body was ever connected with so many learned societies or with so many educational institutions as was Mr. Hoar. Here is a partial list: An overseer of Harvard college since 1874; president of the Association of the Alumni of Harvard; formerly a regent of the Smithsonian Institution; formerly president (and now vice president) of the American Antiquarian society; president of the American Historical association; president of the board of trustees, Clark university;

BURGOO POPULAR IN VENANGO

By WALTER J. CHRISTY.
(Staff Correspondent.)
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

FRANKLIN, PA., Sept. 29.—Congressman Joseph C. Sibley today acted the host for the people of his district and more especially the residents of Venango county. They fed on burgoo, roasted ox and lamb and were entertained by orators from a half dozen states. Over 12,000 men, women and children partook of his hospitality.

Mr. Sibley and the other Republican candidates in Venango county decided to entertain their friends. An invitation was extended to all who cared to come. It was not necessary that a participant should be a Republican voter or live in this congressional district, made up of the counties of Venango, Mercer, Warren, Elk and Forest. The women, the children, the Democrat, the Populist, the Prohibitionist or the man of any political creed was just as welcome as the Republicans who will this year return Mr. Sibley to congress by a majority of 5,000. All shades of political faith were represented, and they advocated their parties while they supped the congressman's burgoo and disposed of great slices of the ox and lamb.

Monarch park never held such a crowd as was assembled in that pretty pleasure ground today. Mercer county sent 14 carloads, and 11 coaches filled with Warren people helped to swell the throng. The Sibley club was over from Forest county, and there was a good representation of Republicans from Elk. Of course Venango produced the majority of the guests. Had it not rained here early this morning the attendance would have been a great deal larger.

Whole Day of Merrymaking.

While the street cars conveyed most of the people to the park, hundreds drove to the barbecue. Almost every kind of vehicle was used, and numerous horse trades were made. Thousands of guests arrived long before the ox was ready for the knife, and it was late in the evening when the last of the merrymakers had left the park.

The people took advantage of the day to visit. They did not care much for oratory, although it has been seldom that such an array of spellbinders has been brought together. The list included Mr. Sibley, Congressmen Hepburn of Iowa, Bede of Minnesota, Hull of Iowa, Hamilton of Michigan, Vreeland and Sherman of New York and Bates of Pennsylvania. In addition to these colleagues in the national house, Mr. Sibley had secured the services of Maj. Alex McDowell, chief clerk of the house, and James F. Burke and Dr. A. J. Barchfeld of Pittsburgh, who will be members of the next congress. They all made short addresses, with the exception of Dr. Barchfeld, who missed his train and did not arrive until the speechmaking was over. An interested spectator from Pittsburgh was ex-Police Magistrate D. J. McGary.

Plenty of Food for All.

To feed 10,000 or 12,000 people and send them all home happy and satisfied is no small task. Provision was made on a liberal basis, and enough food was wasted today to have kept thousands from hunger. W. H. Roth of Oil City had charge of the cooking and John R. Connor of Franklin, chairman of the Republican county committee, had general supervision over the preparation and the serving of the feast.

These items will give one an idea of the immensity of the dinner. There were 6,400 pounds of meat, 1,000 pounds of butter crackers, 500 pounds of oyster crackers, 20 tons of grapes, 800 gallons of burgoo, 800 gallons of coffee, 5,000 loaves of bread, five barrels of pickles, 100 gallons of cream and 20,000 cigars. The meats consisted of two oxen and over 30 lambs.

Burgoo the Fad in Venango Now.

Burgoo is a new dish to the people of the north. It had its origin in Kentucky, but is bound to become popular in Sibley's district. It is a highly seasoned vegetable soup, which hits the spot and causes the man fortunate enough to sup it to send his tin cup back to the kettle many times.

The crowd was very good natured, and not an intoxicated person was seen in the park. There was nothing stronger than burgoo on the ground, and the nearest gin mill was four miles away. Mr. Sibley does not believe in the distribution of rum in the campaign, and the Prohibitionists can find nothing to complain about in his management of the barbecue. Signs reading: "Beware of Pickpockets" were posted throughout the park. To better safeguard his guests, Mr. Sibley had several detectives to watch for thieves. William Elmore was the representative from Pittsburgh, and many an oil country man is under obligations to this sleuth. Early in the day nine Allegheny pickpockets arrived and were met at the gates by Elmore. He told them that they could not "work" in the park. Six of them accepted the advice and sought trains for home. Three thought that they would take a chance and Elmore locked them up.

There is really no contest in this district this fall. The Democrats have nominated Dr. Salem Hellman of Sharon for congress, and he will poll about the usual party vote. The Prohibitionists are supporting John E. Gill of Franklin, but he is not attracting new recruits. Mr. Sibley will have a majority of at least 5,000.

CAMPAIGN OPENS TOMORROW

By L. W. STRAYER.
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 29.—Because a state is safely Republican, and nothing but a political earthquake can make it Democratic, is no reason why there should be a cessation of effort. On the contrary, big Republican majorities in the past should only be an incentive to increased Republican majorities in the future.

This is the view adopted by the Republicans of Ohio, and they are putting their theory into practice. Just as eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, so they realize that eternal hustling is the price of victory, and they are hustling for the price. All is serene and smooth on the political horizon of this state, and about the only thing there is to worry the leaders is figuring out the probable majority by which Roosevelt will carry Ohio.

Cox Claims 90,000.

I have talked with George B. Cox, the Cincinnati leader, and other prominent Republicans of that city, with Secretary John R. Malloy of the state executive committee and others at headquarters, and their estimates run from 80,000 to 125,000. Cox says between 80,000 and 90,000, he believes the majority will be, while I have found others who are sanguine that last year's remarkable Republican majority of 113,000 will be exceeded this year. However, last year's result was exceptional, since it did not represent the strength of the Republican party alone, but it also represented the repudiation of Tom Johnson and his political methods.

Thousands of Democrats who had been accustomed to vote the straight Democratic ticket balked on Johnson. For years he has been using cheap street car fares and taxation of franchises up in Cleveland as hobbies upon which he has ridden into power and office. And the people of that city have followed his leadership and swallowed his political taffy. The power he attained in the Forest City whetted his appetite for bigger morsels and he undertook to boss the Democratic party in the state. Last year his fellow partisans were ripe for revolution, and when Johnson came down here to the state convention, rode rough shod over the other party leaders and ran the convention and nominated himself for governor, the revolution broke out.

Johnson Is Reflecting.

State Democrats realized that this was the time to strike and they struck. Johnson, as the candidate for governor, was snowed under by a Republican majority of 113,000 and then retired to Cleveland to reflect. For a year he has been reflecting, and the Democracy of Ohio has congratulated itself that it is freed from Johnsonism. Perhaps Johnson has taken the verdict of his party at its literal meaning, and perhaps not. At any rate he has subsided for the present, although he is still on the firing line in Cleveland, popping away at the demon corporations and demanding cheaper street car fares.

But even the majority of last year, which registered the kick of Democracy against Johnsonism, was not the record Republican majority in this state. Ten years ago, Taylor, the Republican candidate for secretary of state, was elected by a margin of 194,000. That, too, was an exceptional instance, controlled by exceptional circumstances, and those figures could not properly be used as a basis for comparison; no more could the majority of 113,000 recorded last year. When I asked George B. Cox of Cincinnati to make an estimate of the result of this campaign, he said:

"Hamilton county will give Roosevelt 23,000 or 24,000 majority. In 1900 McKinley carried the county by a few votes less than 20,000, but there has been a big increase in the population of our county in the past four years and the majority of this increase is Republican.

Young Men for Roosevelt.

"Ninety per cent of the young voters, men who are casting their first presidential ballots this year, will vote for Roosevelt. We have canvassed the county and know this to be a fact. The young voters are going with the Republican party. With the Democratic party movement backward, there is no incentive to the young voter to cast his lot with them. Of course, there are some anti-Bryanites who will return to their party this year, but there are also a great number of Bryan Democrats who will vote for neither Roosevelt nor Parker. It seems to me that these two elements about balance, which leaves in our favor the young Republicans and those who have moved into the county since 1900. Taking it all together, I think we can safely count on a Republican majority in this county of 23,000 to 24,000.

"Ohio, I think, will go for Roosevelt by 80,000 to 90,000. In this section everything is harmonious and the party is in good condition. Reports from all over the state are equally encouraging. It seems to me that the outlook throughout the country is for a big Republican victory. I think Roosevelt will go in on a landslide. The opposition isn't strong enough to make an interesting fight. I have heard reports that the Democratic leaders propose to dump a big lot of money into Indiana just before election, and in that way try to swing that state for Parker, but if they do I don't believe the scheme will succeed. If the people of Indiana are determined to vote for Roosevelt, not enough of them can be influenced by money to change the result. I consider Indiana a safe Republican state."

Cox Is an Authority.

What Mr. Cox says about Hamilton county politics, or about state politics,

OUT FOR A NEW RECORD.

for that matter, may be taken as authoritative. He controls the destinies of his party in his county as firmly as Quay ever held the party in Pennsylvania, or Platt in New York, or Croker ever ruled over Tammany hall. He has built up an organization in Cincinnati that is said to be the strongest and best managed in the history of American politics. Cox is the head and front of it and the people support it. It is told that Lincoln Steffins once visited Cincinnati to write up that city's municipal affairs as he did those of Pittsburgh, Chicago, Minneapolis and other cities. Walking into Cox's office and introducing himself, Steffins said:

"Mr. Cox, they tell me you are the political boss of Cincinnati. Is that correct?"

Cox took a puff or two at his cigar and replied:

"Yes, I guess that's right. I do have a good deal to say about politics down here."

This frank admission rather took the wind out of the interviewer's sails, but he proceeded to ask a number of questions about the Republican organization of that county, all of which Cox readily answered.

The article, which was to include the politics of the state and of other cities as well as Cincinnati, was prepared, but it has not yet been published. It is reported out here that the death of Senator Hanna prevented the publication of it at the time it was to have been made public.

Not All in Politics.

"There are three propositions that we keep out of politics here in Cincinnati," Mr. Cox told me. "They are the schools, the fire department and the police department. I am opposed to allowing any of these three things to be subject to political influence and we do not permit politics to enter into them." There are many people who will not subscribe to this statement from the head of the organization. They will take exceptions to the assertion that political influence does not touch the schools, the fire or police departments. In support of their contention they will tell you that when the new school law was before the legislature last winter Mr. Cox objected to the clause providing for a uniform school board of five members for each city in the state and insisted that each city should determine for itself the number of members on the board not to exceed one for each ward, and should also choose the manner of electing them. This, they claim, was Mr. Cox's way of making sure of his control of the Cincinnati school board. However that may be, and even though there are exceptions to the statement of Mr. Cox, the fact remains that Cincinnati is far in advance of many other cities in this respect. It is undeniable that in that city politics has a less baneful influence upon the schools, the fire department and the police department than in the great majority of the large municipalities of the country.

Chapman Law's Working.

There is reason to expect in Ohio this fall one of the heaviest votes ever polled in the state. This is due to the Chapman law, enacted by the last legislature, which does away with the spring elections and provides that counties, cities, towns and townships shall choose their officers at the general election in the fall. The object of the bill is the economy in making one election serve the purpose of two as before, thus saving the cost of printing ballots, the pay of clerks and judges of election, and other expenses. This being the first election under the new law the ballots will be very large, in some counties a yard long.

Out in the country districts the vote will be brought out because township officers, such as trustees, assessors, school board and justices of the peace are to be elected all over the state. These officers are of great importance to the farmers and the residents of small towns and it is safe to say that every voter in the country districts who can possibly do so, will be at the polls on election day.

Interest in Minor Offices.

The rural voter may be apathetic on questions of national policy, and he may be so undecided between the presidential candidates as to forfeit his privilege of franchise by staying at home and attending to his work, but when the township assessor is to be chosen, the man who places the valuation on the farm lands of the community, or when the justice of the peace, with whom lies the enforcement of the local laws, is to be elected—then the rural voter has a vital and personal interest at stake and he may be counted upon to come out and cast his ballot. There is the same local reason for bringing out the vote in the cities.

They will not only vote for national and state officers, but they also have members of city council and the school board to choose. Thus, the prediction of the leaders of an increased vote this fall and a correspondingly large Republican majority seems to have a good foundation.

Want Every Voter Out.

And this is the object that the state organization is working for. As I stated above, they take the view that because Ohio is safe is no reason why they should sit still. When I visited the headquarters of the state executive committee today Senator Charles Dick, state chairman, was in the east conferring with the national committee. But Secretary John R. Malloy was in charge and was busy receiving callers and attending to the many details involved in a campaign. A large suite of rooms is occupied by the committee and a numerous staff of stenographers and clerks is employed. There was no excitement, no flurry, but all were busy and the rooms resembled the office of a big industrial establishment. Julius Whiting of Canton is in charge of the speakers' bureau, and he is now arranging a tour through the state of Gov. Herrick and Lieut.-Gov. Harding.

Campaign Opens Tomorrow.

The Republicans open their campaign with a big meeting at Warren Saturday and the same day the Democrats will start the ball rolling at Lima. After the Warren meeting the fight will be on in earnest in Ohio, not a fight for the electorial vote of the state, for the Republicans are now as sure of that as man can be of mortal thing, but a fight to keep the Republican majority at high tide, and possibly to bring it to flood tide. In Mr. Whiting's office hangs a large map of Ohio, dotted here and there with little slips of cardboard. It is his method of keeping tab of the assignment of speakers, each tiny card bearing a date and the names of the speakers who are to address the meeting. "In a short time I will have that map so plastered with cards that you can't see a town on it," said Mr. Whiting.

The very fact of Ohio's certainty in this election is a handicap to the speakers' bureau. When a request is made for a speaker of national reputation those in charge at national headquarters are likely to frown and say it cannot be arranged.

"What do you want with this speaker out in Ohio?" they ask. "You'll get more Republican votes out there than you can count, anyhow. We need him in New York and West Virginia." But in spite of this Mr. Whiting is securing a goodly array of talent and there will be no dearth of oratory from now until election day.

Will Gain and Lose One.

The Republicans expect to win one member of congress in this state and lose one. It will be a case of each party coming into its own again. The Twelfth (Columbus) district is a normal Republican district, but is represented by Judge Dewitt C. Badger, a Democrat, who got through two years ago by a plurality of 776 votes. This time he is opposed by E. L. Taylor, Jr., who has twice been elected prosecuting attorney of Franklin county and it is the general opinion, that he will be elected by fully 2,000 margin.

The Thirteenth district, composed of Crawford, Erie, Marion, Sandusky, Seneca and Wyandot counties, presents just the reverse of the Twelfth. It is a normal Democratic district and Amos H. Jackson, Republican, two years ago, defeated James A. Norton, Democrat, by the narrow majority of 327. This year the Republicans have no reason to hope for Jackson's re-election. Down in the Third (Dayton) district, Robert M. Nevin has a hard fight on for re-election, but it is believed at headquarters here that he will pull through. Two years ago, though the district is a close one, he beat Thomas A. Selz, the Democratic candidate by 5,855 votes. His friends think he can do it again, although another man is opposing him.

Herrick Getting the Bitter.

Just now Gov. Herrick is tasting some of the sour pickles of politics. Last winter the Ohio legislature undertook the enactment of some liquor legislation, and if there is anything that can make more trouble for the politician than this same subject, it has yet to be discovered. To be ground in between the liquor interests and the Prohibition element is an earthly hades for a legislator or a governor. However, Gov. Herrick tackled the job manfully and gave the project his hearty approval. The bill, as introduced, and as finally approved by the governor, permits the citizens of residential districts of cities to vote on the saloon question. It is, in fact, one of the most liberal local option laws ever enacted. By the filing of a petition signed by a required number of voters in a prescribed district and representing a stated portion of the property frontage, the mayor of the city orders a special election to determine whether or not the district shall be free of saloons. The original text of the bill contained some provisions to which Gov. Herrick objected as unfair and unbusinesslike and he insisted upon certain amendments, which were eventually made in the face of the protests of the Anti-Saloon league.

Churches Rap Herrick.

The result has been that at the meetings of the various Methodist Episcopal conferences this year the governor has come in for some hard knocks, inspired by the Anti-Saloon league. He has been accused of being in league with the liquor interests and of having tried to kill the bill. All of which is not disturbing to those who are aware of the facts of the case, but not especially welcome to a governor, with a second term in view. Gov. Herrick is a fighter, however, and he has confidence in the judgment of the masses and believes they will approve his course when they know the facts. And he proposes to give them the facts in his speech at Warren Saturday. He will devote a large part of his time to answering the charges made against him and explaining why he insisted upon amendments to the bill. At headquarters the matter is not considered an important one and there is every confidence that Gov. Herrick will be renominated and re-elected.

LET WELL ENOUGH BE.

Secretary Wilson Says Workers Are Shy of Democratic Tariff Tinkering.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Hon. James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, who spoke at Binghamton last night, was in the city today en route to Newton, N. J., where he spoke tonight.

"I have been in West Virginia and New York," said Secretary Wilson, "for about a week. I find no apathy anywhere. The people are enthusiastic. There is no question in either state with regard to the strength of the president. The universal expression in West Virginia and where I have been in New York, is that Roosevelt will be an easy winner.

"The workingmen have a distinct remembrance of their experience during the last Cleveland administration and are apprehensive of the interference with the tariff that is proposed by the Democrats. This is really the leading issue in all manufacturing neighborhoods."

RHODE ISLAND'S TICKET.

Democrats Nominate Lucius F. C. Garvin for Governor, and Indorse National Candidates.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 29.—The Democrats of Rhode Island, in state convention today nominated a state ticket, chose presidential electors and then separating into district conventions, named candidates for congress.

The men selected for state officers are: Governor, Lucius F. C. Garvin of Cumberland; lieutenant-governor, Adelard Archambault of Woonsocket; secretary of state, John R. Keenan of Providence; attorney general, George T. Brown of Providence; treasurer, Edmund Walker of South Kingstown.

The platform indorsed the national platform adopted at St. Louis and pledged support to the national candidates, Parker and Davis.

Democrats Still Backward.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—(Special.)—Election betting was not active in Wall street today, the Parker supporters holding back with their funds. Large blocks of Roosevelt money continued to be offered at 2 to 1, while the best Parker offers were at 4 to 10. Herrick remained the favorite for the governorship contest, and an offer of $1,000 to $800 was made that he will win.

SECRETARY OF THE NAVY

Makes a Fine Purchase for His Washington Home.

Special Telegram to the Gazette.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—(Special.)—Hon. Paul Morton, Secretary of the Navy, this week purchased a very beautiful A. B. Chase Miniature Grand piano for his home in Washington, D. C.

By Secretary Morton's purchase another name is added to the large list of men prominent in the nation's councils who have purchased A. B. Chase pianos. The late President McKinley owned two A. B. Chase pianos.

Grosvenor, Lapham & Co., of this city, secured the order.

MR. HOAR'S LIFE IS ENDED

trustee Peabody Museum of Archaeology; trustee Leicester academy; member of the Massachusetts Historical society; of the American Historical society, of the Historic-Genealogical society, and of the Virginia Historical society; fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences; corresponding member of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences; and trustee of the Peabody fund.

Born in Massachusetts.

George F. Hoar began his life in Massachusetts, having been born at Concord in that state, August 29, 1826. His early bent for education made him an apt pupil when, as a boy, he attended Concord academy. He never had more means than was necessary for a comfortable living, and he was one of the comparatively poor men of the senate during his service in that body. He was graduated from Harvard college in 1846, and from the Dane law school of Harvard university several years later. He settled at Worcester, married and began the practice of law. His equal aptitude for books and for politics is illustrated by the fact that in those first years in Worcester he was city solicitor and president of the trustees of the city library. As early as 1852 he was elected a member of the Massachusetts house of representatives and five years later he became state senator.

His genius for politics attracted the attention of such men as Charles Sumner, Henry L. Wilson and other notable figures in the history of Massachusetts and of the nation. He was a sort of natural understudy of the brightest minds of the early fifties and the following decade. After a short term of service in the state senate he was elected to congress, serving from the Forty-first to the Forty-fourth, inclusive, and declining a nomination for a fifth term. Mr. Hoar was the president of no less than four Republican state conventions in Massachusetts.

Unusual Abilities Recognized.

His unusual abilities were recognized at Washington, not only by that galaxy of New England statesmen, Sumner, Everett, Wilson and their contemporaries, but by others as well. He was known personally to Daniel Webster as a promising young lawyer and legislator, but Mr. Webster died before Mr. Hoar achieved any wide repute.

Later Mr. Hoar was a delegate to successive Republican national conventions, beginning in 1876, several years before he became a United States senator. He was chairman of the Massachusetts delegation in 1880, 1884 and 1888, and he presided over the convention of 1880 that nominated Garfield. He was an ardent admirer of that Ohio statesman.

The constitutional questions that engaged the attention of the country in 1876 during the Belknap impeachment proceedings and the disputed election of Rutherford B. Hayes called forth Mr. Hoar's genius as a student of the great national charter of rights. He was one of the managers on the part of the house of representatives in the Belknap proceedings, and he was a member of the Hayes "electoral commission."

During his busy life in politics Mr. Hoar participated in many plans for the advancement of learning, and his rank as a scholar was evidenced to some extent by the number of honorary degrees conferred upon him.

Received Degrees from Colleges.

Among other distinctions of this kind he received the degree of doctor of laws from Harvard, Yale, Amherst, Dartmouth and William and Mary. His first election to the United States senate was in 1877, and he has served continuously since that time.

Like his colleague, Senator Lodge, Mr. Hoar was a writer of history; but his writings for the most part were profound and in the realm of archaeology and genealogy, rather than of the so-called popular class. His reminiscences of men and affairs conspicuously before the country 30 and 40 years ago have been read with interest within the last few years. The senate has never witnessed a quality of real eloquence in debate superior to Mr. Hoar's since the time of Webster, Clay and Calhoun, if we may possibly except Charles Sumner.

His speeches on the Philippine question were typical of his style of eloquence. They abounded in a peculiar style of satire, of invective and of telling epigram. Senator Hoar had one mannerism in speech that, to a stranger, usually gave an impression almost of ludicrousness. He arose on his toes at irregular intervals in the delivery of his speeches as if to follow the towering height of a climax that he had just accomplished, and then he resumed his normal attitude with an emphatic striking of the heels on the carpeted floor of the senate chamber.

Not Irritable as Thought.

His attacks on the administration's policy in the Philippines gave him a reputation for irritability and irascibility that he little deserved. In private conversation he was delightful, and he had a ready sympathy for his fellow men that gave evidence of the real kindness of his heart. The distant reader of his speeches would conclude that he was a pessimist; yet his optimism was one of the chief characteristics of his nature. It was some evidence of this that he always maintained the warmest relations of personal friendship with William McKinley. No citizen of the nation grieved more deeply over the death of the late president than did Senator Hoar.

Mr. Hoar lived without ostentation; in fact, the years of his public life in Washington were nearly all spent in a boarding house, in modest apartments, with Mrs. Hoar. His chief companions, apart from his family, were his books.

On more than one occasion Mr. Hoar was urged to accept high diplomatic appointments but always refused.

Hearst Case Set for October 1.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Further hearing in the case of W. R. Hearst of New York, against the coal carrying roads in the anthracite regions of Pennsylvania, will begin before the interstate commerce commission at Chicago, October 11.

Croker May Visit Gotham.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Former Mayor Van Wyck, who returned from a vacation trip to Europe on the Baltic today, said that he would not be surprised to see Richard Croker in New York within a year, but declares that 'Squire of Wantage is out of politics for good.

FRENCH LAWYER RAPS OUR TRIAL BY JURY

Is Answered by Dean of American Law School, Who, in Turn, Pricks Judiciary.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29.—In the discussion of a paper presented before the Universal Congress of Lawyers and Jurists here today, M. Alfred Nerincx, professor of law in the university of Lourain, Belgium, said:

"I beg pardon for mentioning this in America, but I do not believe in civil jury trials. In the first place the difficulty of securing a good jury in the best cases is extreme. The duty of serving in civil suits has become so onerous on the community that you cannot expect men of high standing, whose time is occupied with their own affairs, to give several days every few months to jury service. A civil jury is not sounder than a good, honest, well-trained judge. When you cannot get men of high standing in the community for jurymen, you get men of a lower tenor, whose judgment cannot be depended upon. Most lawyers would rather go to a judge than to such a jury. I think the jury system is itself on trial today, and there is every indication that the verdict of public opinion is against it."

C. G. Cole, dean of the Drake university law school, Des Moines, Iowa, said in reply:

"There is a possibility of a judge being approached, which is not possible with 12 men. That is the great bulwark of our jury system."

The following resolution, on which the committee of nations had reported favorably, was adopted by the congress with unanimity and applause:

"Resolved, That the Universal Congress of Lawyers and Jurists, sympathizing with all movements to bring about peace among nations by international friendly agreement, welcomes the announcement of the president of the United States that he proposes to call a new conference."

FOUR KILLED ON RAILROAD.

Supposed Murder Proved an Accident. Millvale Bricklayer Takes His Life With Poison.

George Vetter, aged 45, a bricklayer, of 603 Evergreen avenue, Millvale, committed suicide at his home yesterday by taking phenol. The reason for his act is not known.

George Larbig of Elfinwild, on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, fell from a train early yesterday morning and was killed. It is supposed that he attempted to jump off the train while it was passing his home.

A man supposed to be Louis McNamar of Gay, W. Va., was found dead in the Soho yards of the Monongahela Connecting railroad yesterday morning. The railroad men thought he had been murdered and Detectives Richard Kelly and William A. Riley were detailed to make an investigation. From the condition of the man the detectives are positive he was killed by a locomotive. In his pocket was a card addressed to "Dear Louis," and it was sent by Mrs. Estella McNamar of Gay, W. Va. He was about 40 years old.

William Dugan, aged 20, of Beech street, was killed by a train on the Bessemer railroad, near Unity, yesterday morning. He was employed as a brakeman.

Samuel Misnik, aged 27, a section hand, was killed yesterday evening at Glenfield by being struck by a Fort Wayne train. He lived at Glenfield.

STEAM ROADS' VICTIMS.

Number of Wrecks Yesterday Was Three, With Three Deaths—Other Railroad Fatalities.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 29.—The Atlantic Coast Line's Florida limited today collided with a local passenger train out of Charleston, five miles from the city. Sam Harris, a fireman, was killed.

SCRANTON, PA., Sept. 29.—Fireman James Flanagan of Middletown, N. Y., was fatally crushed in a head-on collision of coal trains today near Preston park on the Scranton division of the Ontario & Western railroad. Both engines and 40 cars were wrecked.

BRAINTREE, MASS., Sept. 29. — A passenger train on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad was wrecked today at South Braintree. Engineer William Adams was killed and Fireman Edward Cook had both legs taken off.

FREDERICK, MD., Sept. 29.—At Catoctin switch on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad near here, four men were killed by an engine. The victims are supposed to be tramps.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., Sept. 29.—A. E. Black of Alexander, N. C., died at the Knoxville hospital today of injuries received in the Southern railway wreck near New Market, Tenn.

Reception to New Secretary.

A reception to the new secretary of the Lawrenceville branch of the Young Men's Christian association, G. W. Sweigert, was given last night in the association rooms, Forty-third and Butler streets, lasting from 8 to 10 o'clock. Members and friends were accompanied by ladies. The committee in charge of the reception were Charles F. Preller, Samuel V. Hay, Joseph McCluan, Walter P. Mays, Harry R. Morgan.

RIOT AND EARTHQUAKE.

Chile Has Labor Troubles and Seismic Disturbances.

VALPARAISO, Sept. 29.—(Special.)—Nitrate laborers of Tocopilla went on strike, asking for the dismissal of one of their chiefs. They assaulted the police station with the intention of liberating the prisoners. A fight with policemen ensued, resulting in two rioters being killed. Reinforcements of infantry, cavalry and blue jackets have been sent.

A portion of the country between parallels 35 and 39 was visited by a violent earthquake. The governor's building and four school houses at Talcahuano were rendered useless.

More Armenians Massacred.

PARIS, Sept. 29.—The Temps publishes a dispatch from Constantinople, saying that private information had been received there that the village of Ramsa, Armenia, was yesterday the scene of a massacre of Armenians by Kurds.

MR. CLEVELAND IS TO OPEN MEETING

He Is to Deliver a Ten-Minute Address at First Democratic Gathering.

MURPHY WANTS HILL'S JOB

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The first big Democratic political meeting of the campaign will be held in Madison Square garden Wednesday night, October 12. Arrangements for the gathering have been completed by the Manhattan club.

Grover Cleveland will be the presiding officer and make a 10-minute address. Bourke Cochran, Richard Olney and Judge D. Cady Herrick will make the principal addresses. Judge Parker will be the guest of honor and will hold a reception. Unless there is an insistent demand, he will not make a speech.

While the meeting will be under the auspices of the Manhattan club, the Democratic club will render assistance. Other Democratic organizations have expressed a willingness to get into line and help make the affair memorable.

The date for the meeting was set today by Judge Parker. This leaves the way open for Tammany hall to set a date for the great ratification meeting the organization has arranged to hold in Madison Square garden. Charles F. Murphy will in all probability be the candidate of Tammany hall for the leadership of the Democratic party in New York, to succeed David B. Hill when he retires January 1. The coming self-elimination of Mr. Hill leaves the party in a bad way for a leader.

For several days Mr. Murphy and Tammany district leaders have been considering the Democratic congressional nominations and have practically made all the selections. It was stated today that Harry Payne Whitney will very likely accept the nomination in the Thirteenth district to succeed Francis Burton Harrison.

In the Fifteenth district, now represented by William H. Douglass, Republican, there promises to be a merry fight before and in the convention. George W. Loft desires the nomination, as does Stewart M. Bryce. Mr. Bryce can make no such offers to the campaign fund as Mr. Loft, but his friends have let it be known that they can readily make a contribution of about $10,000.

"Big Tim" Sullivan will return to Washington to represent the Eighth district. Bourke Cochran will be nominated without opposition in the Twelfth district. Representative Godfogle will take a renomination in the Ninth district. William Sulzer will be nominated in the Tenth district and Jacob Ruppert, Jr., in the Sixteenth. The Seventeenth district is now represented by F. E. Shober. He is being opposed by Franklin Leonard and James Farrell.

FOURTEEN FRENCHMEN HERE.

Government Commission of Workingmen Visiting Industrial Plants in the United States and Canada.

A party of 14 Frenchmen, representatives of the French government, who are on a tour of industries in American cities, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday to spend two days. They are stopping at the Seventh Avenue hotel. While here they will visit the Westinghouse works, the Carnegie steel works, a glass works, a local workingman's savings bank, besides taking a pleasure excursion on a steamboat up the Monongahela river.

The party is composed principally of workingmen, members who come as the delegates of trades unions and co-operative societes of producers. While here the delegation will also get in touch with the local labor bodies. The leader of the party is Albert Metin, a professor of political economy in a leading Paris institution and a well-known authority on labor questions. He will write the general introduction to the several reports which the members of the commission will make to the French government upon their return. The commissioners were in New York, where they were entertained by the National Civic Federation then in session.

From New York they went to Washington, D. C., where they were greeted by President Roosevelt. A stop was made to visit the manufacturing plants in Philadelphia and from there they came to Pittsburgh. The trip will be continued from Pittsburgh to St. Louis, staying there a week, thence to Chicago, Dayton, Montreal, Toronto, Quebec, to Boston and back to New York, from whence they sail for France about November 1.

The party is composed of Messrs. Metin, Bensit, Gignoux, Hyolet, Dugue, Viarst, Martiu, Tonclause, Malbranque, Libiane, Jacquet, Buisson, Rousseau, Manoury.

FALL TRAINING SCHOOL.

Pittsburgh District of the Epworth League Meets in an Oakmont Church.

The fall training school of the Pittsburgh district of the Epworth league was held in the Oakmont Methodist Episcopal church yesterday. Leslie Kennedy, president of the Oakmont chapter, presided.

The Rev. L. G. Lindsey of the Pacific avenue chapter, East End, spoke on "How Can the Fourth Department Assist the Pastor?" Dr. T. J. Leak of the Oakland chapter discussed "Sabbath Observance," Dr. W. H. W. Rees of the Smithfield chapter made an address on "Church Benevolences," the Rev. Dr. T. M. Boyle made an informal talk and the Rev. Dr. E. L. Eaton of the North avenue Methodist Episcopal church spoke on "The Epworthian and Temperance."

A farewell address was given by the Rev. J. R. Denyes of Java, Malaysia, the Epworth league missionary of the Pittsburgh district, who is about to return to his field.

BIGELOW HOME AGAIN.

Director Comes Back This Time to Stay. Lively Times Expected at City Hall.

Director Bigelow returned last night from the mountains to stay. He has spent nearly two months in his mountain retreat, making almost weekly trips, for a day at a time, to transact the most important business in his office.

With his return a revival of activity is expected in municipal matters, and it is believed that the next meeting of councils will have interesting developments.

LAURA BIGGAR HAS BEEN IN PITTSBURGH A WEEK

She Is Traveling "Incog" and Is Here Presumably on Business Relating to Her Bennett Claim.

Laura Biggar, the actress, is in Pittsburgh, presumably to be "on the spot" in the final winding up of the estate of the late Henry M. Bennett. Miss Biggar has been here since last Friday, a guest at the Hotel Colonial. She is traveling "incog" and refrained from putting her name on the register, preferring to sign an opera bouffe alias, locating her home in persecuted "Kalamazoo."

Miss Biggar could not be seen last night. When a reporter sent his card to her room the captain of the bellboys said to the first man on the bench: "Take dis yeah to Miss Biggah an' see if she am in."

The bellboy ran to the top of the stairs and returned.

"Captain, de lady am in sho'-nough, kase I jes' done took up de ice watah."

The unhappy bellboy was marked for court-martial on the spot and was dispatched off in haste. A few minutes later he came back with the intelligence that Miss Biggar had retired and had left word not to be disturbed.

Miss Biggar's coming to Pittsburgh occurred simultaneously with the filing of the account of the Bennett estate in the courts of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and it is thought that she is here on some matter pertaining to the final settlement. Her connection with the apportionment of the estate is well known, but the trustees long ago declared that it had been settled so far as her claim was concerned. J. W. Piatt and P. J. McNulty are now the sole executors. The filing of the accounts showed that Bennett's wealth had been largely overestimated.

PUNISHMENT.
Social progress has done away with a great many forms of punishment once administered under the laws of enlightened people. But nature never changes or modifies her penalties. She still has the same punishment for the man who neglects or abuses his stomach as she had in the far off days "when Adam delved and Eve span."
The physical discomfort, dullness, sluggishness, irritability, nervousness and sleeplessness which are visited upon the man who eats carelessly or irregularly have been from the beginning the evidences of disease of the stomach and its associated organs of digestion and nutrition.
Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures the diseased stomach and enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food, so that the sluggishness, irritability, nervousness and sleeplessness which result from innutrition are cured also.
"I was taken sick nine years ago with fever," writes Mr. M. M. Wardwell, of Linwood, Leavenworth Co., Kansas. "Had the doctor and he broke up the fever all right, but I took diarrhœa right away; he couldn't cure it and it became chronic, and then he gave up the case. I got so weak with it and had piles so badly I couldn't lie down, nor hardly sit up. Was that way two or three months; thought I would 'never be well again,' but picked up one of Dr. Pierce's Memorandum Books one day and saw your description of catarrh of the stomach. I thought it hit my case. We had a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the house that was got for mother. You recommend it for catarrh of the stomach, so I went to taking it. The one bottle nearly cured me. I got two bottles next time and took one and one-half and was well. I haven't been bothered with diarrhœa since."

EDUCATIONAL.
ANNOUNCEMENT
The Allegheny Preparatory school reopens September 21, 1904. The Headmaster will be at the school office after September 8, between 9 a. m. and 1 p. m., to meet and classify pupils, to talk with intending patrons and to show those who may wish to see them the building and equipment. The school provides instruction for boys and girls from the first year of school life till they are ready for any American college or university. The work is done by 15 expert teachers.
A well equipped gymnasium and a large playground, under the exclusive control of the school, offer ample opportunity for sports and games. These are individual "corrective work," under trained directors, give the physical development of both boys and girls its due emphasis. Oral expression, singing, reading aloud, public speaking and debates have their proper place in the curriculum.
Owing to its non-commercial character, the entire income of the school can be applied in making the school better. The building has just been redecorated throughout.
For our new circular and any further information, address the Headmaster, Wilmot R. Jones, 900 Lincoln Avenue, Allegheny, Pa.

LIVELY SHAKE-UP IN POLICE BUREAU

Supt. Wallace Will Make Many Changes in the Personnel of the Force.

TO PROMOTE AND REDUCE

Now that Superintendent Wallace has been given full charge of the police bureau he will make many changes. He is dissatisfied with some of them, and said last night:

"Men from the ranks will take the places of men now wearing officers' uniforms and badges."

Inspector Edward Kennelly of the First district is to be made assistant superintendent of police. This officer has the high opinion of Mayor Hays, Director Moore and Superintendent Wallace. The entire force of captains and lieutenants in the First district will be changed. Night Lieutenant Thomas McCabe will be promoted to captain and Captain R. H. Robinson will probably be made inspector of the district.

Superintendent Wallace has been dissatisfied with some of his officers in the First district. Captain James McEvoy is not personally liked by him. Recently Mayor Hays spoke to Wallace regarding McEvoy. Wallace replied:

"He can keep the men in order, but he serves too many masters."

During the Hays and Haymaker campaign McEvoy attacked Hays' personal character. This reached the ears of the mayor after McEvoy was appointed, and he has been considering his case for some time. Now that Wallace has charge of the bureau McEvoy will probably be reduced to the ranks.

Special officer John Callan will probably be made night lieutenant. Superintendent Wallace found this officer to be honest and efficient. Callan was considered for the position some time ago, but the superintendent did not have the power to make a vacancy for him. Wallace is also dissatisfied with Lieut. Charles Grimes. He does not think Grimes has the proper influence over his men. Under him the policemen become careless in their work and appearance. While Grimes was absent last summer, Superintendent Wallace considered removing Grimes to one of the outlying districts. It is thought that Robert Denniston, who has been acting as a special officer in the First district, will be made captain. Denniston has seen much service in the bureau. He was formerly inspector of the Forbes street district and for many years was a member of the detective bureau. Lieutenant Harry C. Meyers is to be reduced. All these changes will be made tomorrow.

Director Moore and Mayor Hays were surrounded by politicians yesterday seeking positions for their friends and workers. The mayor and director gave them to understand that all appointments would be made on merit and not for political purposes.

EMIL PAUR NOW ON THE SEA ON HIS WAY TO AMERICA

New Conductor of the Pittsburgh Orchestra Is Expected to Arrive Here About October 17.

Emil Paur, the new director of the Pittsburgh orchestra, sailed yesterday from Hamburg for America, and will arrive in Pittsburgh about October 17. Mr. Paur is a passenger on the steamer Hamburg of the Hamburg-American line, and is making the voyage alone. His two sons, who hoped to accompany their father to this country, have been left behind and are students in an Austrian university.

The news of Mr. Paur's departure was brought here in a letter received yesterday by George H. Wilson, manager of the orchestra. Mr. Wilson will go to New York and meet the new conductor on the pier. Mr. Paur will remain a week in New York and will then come to Pittsburgh to begin his rehearsals.

UNDER ROOSEVELT'S RULING.

Daniel E. Ashworth Applies for a Pension for Partial Disability.

Daniel E. Ashworth became 62 years old on Wednesday and yesterday he came downtown to file his application for a pension for "partial disability," under the ruling made by President Roosevelt that a man of that age shall be considered to have acquired the physical disability that entitles him to a pension. John Bradley, the county oil inspector, was one of Ashworth's witnesses.

Very few old soldiers are Democrats now. William J. Brennen, the Democratic leader, could recall the name of but one, Alderman John Caldwell.

Alleged Counterfeiters Arrested.

John E. Washer, the local secret service operator, yesterday arrested Alexander Duncan and Edward Lutz of Duquesne, charged with counterfeiting. The Lutz boy is said to have been trying to pass a spurious half-dollar, and when arrested several more were found in his pockets. He told Washer where others could be found and gave him information which led to the arrest of Duncan later. Most of the equipment with which the money was made has been located.

Goes Where There Are No Hugs.

John Flaherty, known in police circles and in many a Lawrenceville household as "Jack the Hugger," was sent to the workhouse for 60 days by Magistrate Kane yesterday morning. It is urged against him that he has a propinquity for slipping his arm around girls whom he chances to meet in the streets, and the practice has got him arrested on previous occasions.

House Robbed in Daylight.

The home of C. W. Posey, the well-known steamboat owner, in Thirteenth avenue, Homestead, was looted by thieves some time yesterday. Jewelry valued at $500 was taken. An entrance to the house was gained by forcing open a window during the family's absence.

A $35,000 RING.

Precious Stones Now on Exhibition.

The Hardy & Hayes Company, among rare and valuable gems just received, show a perfect ruby (something very rare), which is valued at $32,500. This stone is to be mounted up in a ring. Two diamonds valued at $2,500 are to go with it, making the ring worth $35,000. The "Star of Kimberly," a $25,000 diamond, is also shown, and an emerald valued at $20,000. Lovers of precious stones should call and see these gems at 213-215 Fifth avenue.

CIGARS UNITED

It isn't enough that a cigar be good—it must have the same goodness every day in the year—and every day in the next year—or it will fail to give satisfaction. That is where the immense advantages of the United Cigar Stores System come in.

We control the entire output of a dozen factories which grow their own Havana tobacco. The cigars we recommend do not vary in quality.

To smokers of ten-cent Domestic Cigars we recommend for trial this week the

BENEFACTOR
(NEW SUPERIOR SIZE)

Women's Shirtwaists and Blouse Waists

Not a week passes that doesn't see new numbers in women's Blouses on display in our Waist Section, second floor, East. There are waists here in every fashionable material that the season has brought forth, which is saying a good deal, as there never were so many fabrics on the market at one time before suitable for the individual waist or blouse.

There are neat, pretty styles at $1.25, and there are handsome French Blouses at $15.00, with enough variety in between to please the most exacting taste. Four selections as representative of the dozens of other styles:

Waists of brilliantine in plain colors—black, navy, white, lined throughout. Front shows wide center pleat with five pleats to either side. Four pleats in back. Full sleeve, tucked stock. $2.25.

Another style shown in brilliantine in the same colors has yoke formed of small tucks, six wide pleats down the front, trimmed with self-covered buttons. $2.25.

Waists of polka dot challis—lined throughout—full tucked front, each tuck finished with black stitching—tucked back—full sleeve—tucked stock. This waist is shown in white with black dots. $2.50.

Waists of Scotch Flannel embroidered with small white figures. Tucked to form yoke—plain back—new sleeve—stock with two tailor-stitched bands. Finished with pearl buttons. $3.50.

Glove-Fitting Corsets, $1.00.

The famous Thompson's, of course—no other corset has the fit of a glove.

The grade we are going to sell today for the even dollar always sells for $1.50.

A special lot of all-white corsets that we secured for a concession. Made of fine sateen. Medium low bust, habit hip. Sizes 18 to 28.

Women's Trotter Skirts, up to 34-inch Waist Measure.

The selecting of fabrics, the designing of styles and the excellence of tailorings are subjects of continuous thought and study with us. The result is clearly reflected in the broad showing of skirts of the present season.

We make a feature of extra size skirts—waists from 28 to 34 inches—for very large women. Of course there is not as large variety to choose from as in the regular sizes, but the styles are all suitable for very large women.

Blue and black Panama Walking Skirts. Fifteen gore, side pleated, knee flare, $5.00. At the same price we are showing Walking Skirts in mannish cloths—brown and gray mixtures, seven gores, with three side pleats at each gore, finished with two small straps of material.

Walking Skirts in blue and gray mixtures—twenty-five gores with box pleat down front gore. $7.50.

Walking Skirts of black serge, eleven gores, with three side pleats down each gore. Stitched to the knee. $8.50.

Walking Skirts of rainproof materials—gray and black mixtures—fifteen gores—full pleated from waist.

Extra size round length skirts, fifteen gore, 28 to 34 waist measure. Shown in gray cravenette, also in black serge. $15.00.

At the Veiling Counter.

Veils, veils, and yet again veils, The Summer brought many new styles, but Autumn brings many more.

We are constantly receiving the latest novelties from our Paris office, consequently we are in position to show every good style that is to be had, either by the yard or the made-up veil.

Tuxedo Mesh, dotted and plain, 15c to $1.00 a yard.

Tuxedo Mesh Separate Veils, all the leading colors—dotted—50c to $2.50 each.

Chiffon Veils, all colors, 50c to $2.50 each.

We have a special line of Tuxedo Mesh Veiling at 15c a yard, two yards for 25c, a very fine quality for the money.

NOTE—All short ends of veilings which are now collected from a very heavy month's selling, have been marked at 10c each regardless of the price per yard.

Two Specials in Women's Hosiery.

Either of these will appeal to the woman who is fond of extra good stockings and who likes a bargain.

75c Hose, 50c Pair— Black lace lisle—new designs in open work ankle effects. Also pretty patterns in fancy silk-embroidered insteps.

$1.75 Hose, $1.00 Pair— These are pure spun silk hose—black with split soles. We never sold a better stocking for an even dollar the pair.

$1.35 for Ready-to-Trim Hats—Turban Style.

Values $2.00.

They are made by hand on frames. One of the best designs for Autumn and Winter. A stylish hat for general wear. By the addition of a breast or pompon your hat will be complete—all for a trifling cost.

Another fine special—

$2.90 for Trimmed Read-to-Wear hats, worth all of $5.00. Twelve different shapes, small and large types, including Toques in black and colors. A new Autumn shape fashioned with pompons or with wings or with breast effects.

Special in Hat Garnitures—

75c values in Pompons at 45c each.

$1.00 values in Breasts at 65c each.

New Feather Stoles and Muffs the London and Paris Vogue.

Feather Stoles are always fashionable, but for this season fashion has introduced feather muffs as well. A stylish costume is artistically completed by a dainty feather set. Such a set is appropriate for the Autumn months before one dons the Winter furs.

Real Marabout Stoles in white, black, gray and beautiful combinations of white and black. $7.50 to $100.00 each.

Real Ostrich Stoles, in white, gray, black, black-and-white, mixture, $12.00 to $100.00.

Pretty Coque Feather Stoles, in white, pink and blue, $10.00 each.

Beautiful imported bronze sets, stole and muff, $30.00.

Imported Coque Feather Sets, $25.00 and $30.00 the set.

Fine Marabout stoles, black or brown, very specially priced at $10.00.

Real Marabout Sets, Collarette and muff, real value $25.00, specially priced at $15.00.

Real Marabout Stoles in black and brown, real value $12.00, specially priced at $7.50.

Marabout Muffs, real value $10.00, specially priced at $8.00.

No seconds, or anything of that sort—hats that are fine in every way and up to the moment in style.

25c for an Embroidery Outfit.

Long evenings—time hanging heavy—what so nice for employing the evening hours as embroidering. How insignificant the cost for an outfit, 25c.

It consists of one stamped Center-piece of pure linen, 18x18 inches, 1 color plate showing natural color or flowers, 1 written diagram lesson-sheet, 5 skeins of Richardson's Filo wash embroidery silk. Choice of designs are Tulips, American Beauties, Violets, Poppies and Holly.

Another Outfit for 24c—

This contains 1 handsome Pillow Top, tinted in colors, 1 back for pillow, 1 diagram lesson sheet, 6 skeins of Richardson's Grecian Floss and the designs are Holly, Poppy, American Beauty, Wild Rose and Pansy.

Short-End Friday—Laces and Embroidery.

Someone has facetiously remarked: "Friday is short-end day at Horne's." Arising from the fact than on Friday's we always throw out short ends of laces and embroideries to be sold for one-half of marked prices.

Today the short ends of Embroideries will run from ½ yard to 2 yards. Pay half what the piece is marked.

Today the short ends of Laces will run from ½ yard to 2 yards—pay half what the pieces are marked.

Women's Golf and Outing Vests.

A more practical garment could not be imagained—for golf, for driving, for wear under the outer coat.

Worsted Vests in plain colors—red, white, navy, black—single-breasted, finished with mohair braid—perfect fitting. 90c.

Worsted Vests in solid colors—honeycomb weave—double-breasted—trimmed with pearl buttons. $1.50.

District Attorney Stewart's assurance that the Allegheny graft cases will be prosecuted comes in the announcement that special counsel will be employed for the purpose. The district attorney has moved cautiously in this matter, but none the less determinedly, all reports and innuendos to the contrary, notwithstanding. He is to be congratulated upon the fact that he has not allowed unjust criticism to distract his attention from the business in hand, or to hurry him into premature action. When he moves he will be sure of his premises and when he orders arrests made there will be a good prospect for convictions to follow.

Erie is making a vigorous effort to have the naval training school that is to be located on Lake Erie in that city and its efforts should succeed. There is no better site for the institution than the city in the northwest corner of Pennsylvania. This state is deserving of consideration as one that has never been backward in showing its loyalty in an hour of need. Pennsylvania has a full quota of its sons in the navy now and in the army. In time of war it has always had more than a full quota in the service. It has done its share at least in the upbuilding of the navy. Erie is the only place in the state where the training school can go, and its location there will be appreciated by the entire state.

Mr. Simeon Bissell's memorial to the mayor in the interests of Greater Pittsburgh turns out in the end to be in favor of a Greater Carnegie. Mr. Bissell proposes an impossible task. There cannot be a Greater Carnegie. The absolute does not admit of degrees. It would be like gilding gold or painting the lily to attempt to enhance Mr. Carnegie's greatness by using his name as an honorific title for Greater Pittsburgh. By the way, the present name of our city commemorates the name of a man who is regarded as rather a great figure in the history of the English-speaking peoples of the world. His fame is intimately associated with the founding of Pittsburgh and the struggles for continental dominion which centered upon its possession. So from this point of view also there are objections to any change of name. However, the spirit which prompts Mr. Bissell's suggestion will be appreciated by the community.

Our staff correspondent in Ohio gives a candid and interesting account of campaign conditions there. As in other states, there are issues peculiar to the state administration. One of these relates to the prominence of Mr. Cox, the recognized head of the Cincinnati political machine, who is denounced by his opponents as a boss. Mr. Cox is not the kind of a man who avoids his responsibilities and our correspondent obtained from him a characteristic interview. One feature noted in the Ohio situation is that many who voted for Bryan before are now going over to Roosevelt. This agrees with reports from other western states and indicates a general tendency. The explanation is easily found. Many voters were drawn to the support of Bryan because he advocated vigorous and positive measures in public affairs. The fallacy of the particular measures he proposed is now exposed, but the demand for leaders who lead still exists and the voters who want a man of action in the White House are turning to Roosevelt. About all they know of Parker is that he is a New York Democrat and throughout the west there is an idea that New York Democrats think that the greater part of the United States lies east of the Hudson river.

Now that the question of Christian responsibility for the methods of the Sabbath Observance association has been forced to the front by Col. Church's vigorous arraignment, the ministers are giving expression to their views with a frankness which will soon clear up the situation and show the persecuting Sabbatarians in their true light. The Rev. Dr. T. Wallace Tharp takes substantially the same position as that of Col. Church in condemning certain features of efforts made to enforce the Sunday laws. He coined a happy phrase which will pass into current use when he described the prosecution of vendors of soda water, fruit and ice cream as "fly-catching business." Dr. Tharp's vigorous discussion of the subject is marked by a spirit of practical Christianity which will attract the more attention coming from one who believes in the necessity for organized effort to keep Sunday as a day of rest from labor. But he frankly recognizes the fact that under the conditions of modern life that very fact requires concessions not contemplated at the time the old Sunday law was passed. He states an impregnable truth when he says: "The time has come in our world-civilization when all men will have to recognize the fact that the public press and the steam and electric media of travel and transit are parts of our social, political, religious and every-day life that are not to be interfered with by pharasaic sentiment or religious fanaticism." In fact, Dr. Tharp really thinks that the Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath, a principle which has been much discredited by some of the proceedings taken in the name of Sabbath observance.

Do Not Like Such Ways.

The Democratic party managers counted upon securing the support of the independent vote through the nomination of Judge Parker, but results have been disappointing. "We are at the parting of the ways," Judge Parker warns them. They note the parting and they do not like the ways of the Democratic party. Robert Treat Paine, who has twice been the Democratic nominee for governor of Massachusetts, did not have to look long before he declared his intention of voting for Roosevelt. Recently Francis Peabody, who was one of the leaders of the Democratic party of Massachusetts in electing Governor Russell, and was once the Democratic candidate for mayor of Boston, has also concluded that he cannot go along with the Democratic party in its present ways and he, too, will vote for Roosevelt. Judge Robert Grant, who has a high literary as well as a judicial reputation, has resigned from the Massachusetts Democratic club. While he has refused to give his reasons on the ground that a judge is not in a position to speak of politics for publication with propriety, it is generally known that he intends to vote for Roosevelt.

Mr. Charles J. Bonaparte of Baltimore is an independent of a type that might almost be described as ferocious. His support was depended upon so confidently that he was approached in behalf of a movement to organize "Parker Independent clubs." The effect was to elicit from him the statement that he did not intend to vote for Parker. In a statement given for publication he says: "Within my own acquaintance I have heard of a good many independent Democrats who intend to vote for Roosevelt, but I have yet to hear of an independent Republican who intends to vote for Parker."

Judge Parker undoubtedly has the support of many Cleveland Democrats who helped to defeat Bryan, but there is no evidence of any independent movement in his favor. He has the support of Carl Schurz, of course, but getting in at the parting of the ways is his well-known specialty, which long since ceased to produce surprise and has almost ceased to excite interest.

The Death of Senator Hoar.

The United States senate loses a conspicuous member in the death of George Frisbee Hoar, for he was a type of statesman whose simple life combined with intellectual attainment was suited to the traditional dignity of the upper house of congress. The "old guard" has nearly disappeared, for the days when Morrill, Dawes and Edmunds were associated with Hoar in councils of state are mere memories now. The shadow of Senator Hawley still responds to the roll-call, but the veteran member from Connecticut is retiring broken in health, while his colleague really belongs to the more modern school of politicians, although he partakes of much of the old.

An ardent party man, Senator Hoar valiantly defended Republican policies for most of the 27 years he served in the senate, and his vote was always with the party at election time, however much he may have differed about specific acts to which it was committed. He was opposed to the Philippine policy of his party, which he condemned upon abstract grounds without due consideration of the facts and circumstances of the case, and he thus surrendered himself to mistaken ideas of duty from whose consequences his just and humane nature would have revolted had they been unfortunately adopted and given practical application. His subserviency to abstract formulas of constitutional right suggested revolutionary French philosophy rather than Anglo-Saxon statesmanship. His sincere honesty of belief was so manifest that he retained the respect of President McKinley, who differed with him on this point, but sought his advice on many other matters.

His behavior at times seemed to lack consistency, but this was probably the result of guileless enthusiasm. When he selected a friend he was likely to idealize him, and when he espoused a cause he championed it to the end, even when its importance lessened in the public mind. In this respect he was independent, but always kept within party lines, for he believed that reforms could best be brought about in that way. At times he seemed to rise to heroic proportions, as when he suddenly made an onslaught on the secret A. P. A. just at the height of that organization's power, while politicians of both parties were trembling in the dark, not knowing what it might do.

Senator Hoar had a love for the historic in literature that enrolled him in the membership of many learned societies. He was not an eminent scholar, but he had a historical perspective that made his learning available, and he was much in demand as an orator on anniversary celebrations. While possessing a sense of humor, he was nevertheless a serious man in his public relations and held an exalted position in the estimation of his constituents. The fact that he wished to avoid political entaglements and during the latter part of his career left the distribution of patronage in Massachusetts to his colleague added to the dignity of his place as the "grand old man" of Massachusetts, a title by which his admirers often designated him.

State Board of Health.

A rather surprising attack was made on the state board of health in the convention of the State Medical society on Wednesday. Surprising to the laity, that is, or that portion of the public that does not follow such matters closely. To the doctors and that element that makes study of sanitary problems the case is simple. The state board itself has, upon many occasions, deplored its inability to do things. It has of course attributed this failure to lack of funds. This shortage cannot be pleaded any longer, for the legislature two years ago made fairly liberal appropriations. Yet the medical association is inclined to the opinion that results are nil. Probably not all members of the association subscribe in full to this estimate. But the fact that some do is enough to set people thinking.

We are inclined to think the denunciation before the medical association too sweeping. The state board has done some things and done them well. It has done some things not well. The local boards have fallen below expectations and the suggestion that school boards should no longer have that duty imposed upon them is worthy of consideration. The average member of a school board has no peculiar qualification for the regulation of sanitary affairs. Occasionally a doctor is honored by election on his local board, but it is rather too much to ask him to take upon himself the entire work of keeping the district in good sanitary condition. He may, indeed, object to injuring his private business by making himself obnoxious to those who have to be notified to clean up their premises.

In considering the reorganization of the state board of health and of the local boards, it will be well to recognize the fact that sanitary engineering is a profession by itself. To conduct a comprehensive system of sanitation in a state it is not enough that the men in charge should have a knowledge of the laws of health and disease. They should have knowledge, in particular of the means to effect needful physical changes. The great state of Pennsylvania can afford to have a department of sanitation in the hands of experts of undoubted ability, with powers adequate to their duties. It can afford to pay for the service. Good health is worth striving for and whatever is worth doing is worth doing well. Let us, then, have a department of sanitation armed with powers not only to inspect and advice but to enforce regulations for the protection of the people.

Pittsburgh's Fire Dangers.

At last the full report of the underwriters on Pittsburgh's fire dangers is available. It contains much that is of interest and value. The document was prepared by John Stephan Sewell, the government representative who accompanied the committee of 20 of the national board of fire underwriters on their tour of investigation. We do not agree with the general conclusion that the conditions in Pittsburgh are "at least as favorable for a disastrous conflagration as they were in Baltimore," but the specific recommendations made for improvement should have the earnest consideration of the city authorities. The first complaint against this city is that the building laws are defective in that they impose no restrictions affecting height, area, floor openings or outside windows. It is the opinion of Mr. Sewell that Pittsburgh skyscrapers have been built without due regard to these things. It is also charged that the electrical hazard is unnecessarily great owing to the failure of the city to enforce the national code. Finally the law governing the handling of explosives is lax, though the fire marshal is drafting a new ordinance on this subject.

Expert Sewell recommends the installation of a fire boat on the Monongahela river of a pumping capacity of not less than 5,000 gallons per minute. He recommends a revision of the running card of 1897 to bring more apparatus into the congested district of the city on second alarms. He also offers a number of suggestions for new engine houses and rearrangement of water pipes, the ultimate aim being to have none of less diameter than eight inches. He finds some things to object to in the personnel and drill of the fire department. At the Brilliant pumping station it is recommended that intake cribs should be constructed and that the pumping capacity should be increased at both Brilliant and Herron Hill. This, with proper fire doors and protected window openings, would make Pittsburgh equal to the best.

This report proved a distinct disappointment to Pittsburgh when its conclusions were made known some weeks ago. The business men of the city had been told by the underwriters that once the large downtown water mains were completed the fire protection of the city would be approved and the pink slip would be abolished. The report of the committee came with the flavor of bad faith. But the full text of the report indicates a real basis for apprehension. The city administration has not made the best possible use of its opportunities. The building laws are defective and the system which has cost so much money is not all it should be. Reasonable safety is not to be had until the public affairs are administered on more business-like principles.

Another matter is mentioned in the report that will be readily appreciated by the business men of the city. That is the desirability of having the entire city water supply under municipal control. This matter hinges partly on the filtration project, but not wholly. The South Side must be taken into the field of city supply and there should be no undue delay in making preparation for that event. There ought to be no undue delay in the matter of filtration, either, for once that is installed there will be no need for intake cribs at Brilliant to protect from ice. It will be true economy to follow the suggestions of this expert in providing the city with the best protection from fire that is possible. One great fire would cost more than a complete new system of mains. But in making whatever changes are necessary it is no more than fair that a demand be made that the business shall be conducted on business principles and that the city shall have full value for its money.

Congressman Shull will file nomination papers as a candidate in the Twenty-sixth district. The Hon. James Kerr has evidently been too busy looking after the capture of Republican districts to do any work about Stroudsburg.

Our Democratic friends are naturally grieved over news of the launching of the splendid battleship Connecticut. The navy is already too large to suit them.

Dr. McClelland's reply on behalf of the state board of health is sharp and to the point, but Dr. Bishop may not concede the large saving.

Typhoid is unusually prevalent in many sections this season, from which it may be inferred boiled water is not popular.

Wu Ting Fang is to sound the powers. But he can never ask as many questions as the late Li Hung Chang.

Judge Parker's queries at the conclusion of his letter are glittering generalities. There are no such issues.

Special counsel will be employed in the graft cases and special effort will be made to land the grafters.

Surely Joseph E. Thropp is not one of Mr. Kerr's Democrats. Col. Guffey has a prior claim there.

Kuropatkin denies that he is outflanked and Oyama politely refrains from giving his opinion.

John Sharp Williams' solicitude for the Filipinos is appreciated down in Mississippi.

Talked of in Gotham

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The most persistent nuisance in New York is the theatrical ticket speculator. We have been told from time to time how much the theater manager dislikes this fellow, but it has been left to Henry W. Savage to give an ocular demonstration of the fact. For the past week, Mr. Savage has been riding over the speculator rough shod, and now a patron can reach the door of the Garden theater, where "The College Widow" is holding forth, without being annoyed. It required 20 policemen headed by an inspector to accomplish the job, but it has been done thoroughly. The police remain on duty, and the inspector says they will stay there all winter if need be. The peculiar feature of the case is the fact that these speculators are licensed by the city and therefore their business is strictly legitimate. But the city does not guarantee that the tickets they sell shall be accepted at the door, and the management positively declines to accept them when they can prove that they were bought of a speculator. The first wife of Dan Hanna was very indignant last night because she was refused entrance to the theater on a ticket purchased from a speculator, but the management would make no exception in her case.

"What difference is it to you," she demanded, "if I choose to pay two prices for a ticket? I want to see the performance, and can get no tickets in the box office."

That is the chief drawback in attempting to curb the ticket broker. The people who can afford to pay for box seats or seats in the parquette do not quibble over paying double price, but the hardship falls upon the people who are satisfied with the balcony seats and yet are compelled to pay double price for them. They do not have a large amount of money to spend for their amusements and every penny counts. Therefore, when they try to see something good, a performance that plays to the capacity of the house, they are very apt to be told that all of the seats are sold. They are then compelled to pay the price asked by the speculators or go home without their evening's amusement. If the speculators preyed only upon the wealthy there would not be so much grumbling, unjust though the practice may be, but many who cannot afford it are among the victims of the hold-up.

Must Have Her Wine Bath.

Only the quick-wittedness of one of the workmen prevented the great battleship Connecticut going through her career with an able bodied hoodoo attached to her. Miss Alice Welles, the ship's sponsor, became excited as the immense hull started on its way to the water, and failed to break the bottle across the vessel's nose. Secretary Morton and Admiral Rogers failed in their efforts to right the wrong thus done to the ship, but a quick-witted workman apprentice grasped the string to which the bottle was attached, just as the vessel was nearing the water, and giving it a swing, broke the bottle and gave the Connecticut her bath of wine. The cheer that greeted him proved to him that the vast throng present believed him to be the man for an emergency.

Get Married While You Wait.

Since the bill was passed by the legislature legalizing the so-called common law marriages, a half dozen bureaus have been established in this city to make easy the shouldering of the matrimonial yoke. A new one was advertised in this afternoon's papers. All that the happy couple has to do is to sign their names and a lawyer does the rest, asking only that a $5 note be left in his hands as an evidence of their joy. If such a bureau could be established to attend to the divorce end of the game it "would fill a long felt want."

Awaits the Pittsburgh Leader.

Judge Parker did not return to Esopus today, as he intended, but remained in the city to meet Col. Guffey of Pittsburgh, who was expected to arrive this evening. The judge is very anxious for another interview with the colonel, but the subject of their discussion is but another of the secrets of the campaign. Senator Gorman of Maryland is also to see the candidate before he returns to Esopus. All of which must tend to convince one that Mr. Parker is pretty much of a practical politician. He seems to find great pleasure and profit from meeting these past masters at the game.

Pyrotechnics for the West.

Gen. Nelson A. Miles is going on the war path. He will begin his campaign next week, and the Democratic managers expect him to put as much enthusiasm into the affair as he did in the old days when he hunted Indians as a recreation to give him an appetite for dinner. His program has not been arranged, but the general will probably strike for the west with his ammunition chest full of campaign documents to be fired without stint into the ranks of the Republicans. However, he will find harder game than mere Indians when he tackles the western Republicans. There are more of them, too, so we are told by those who have investigated the situation recently, and they are not easily scared.

Archbishop Tours the Slums.

With Jacob Riis, the archbishop of Canterbury, Booker T. Washington, the Rev. M. Holden, the archbishop's secretary, and William J. Schieffin, made a tour of the tenement districts on the East Side, the criminal courts building, Paradise park and Chinatown today. They had luncheon in a Chinatown restaurant. The archbishop was amazed at the East Side streets. He commented upon their cleanliness as compared with streets in the crowded quarters in London. In the criminal courts building he was interested in the cabinet of curios collected by the late Mrs. Foster, the "Tombs angel," and asked to be enlightended concerning her work.

Nips of New York News.

Assistant Naval Constructor Robinson, who built the Connecticut, hails from Ravenna, O., and was for some time inspector of armor plate at the Carnegie steel works.

A woman arrested today for praying in the streets gave her address as heaven, and declined to be more definite. She was therefore sent to Bellevue.

Former Mayor VanWyck returned today from Europe. He will probably now find a taker for the money he offered to wage that the Democratic majority in New York city will break all records this year.

Russell Sage today settled a $50,000 damage suit for $750. He was sued by the widow of a janitor who was killed by a fall in one of Mr. Sage's buildings.

The last obstacle was today removed from the path of the Hudson river tunnel when Judge Dixon dismissed the writ of the Lackawanna company which tried to prevent the tunnel going across its yards.

The Quiet Observer

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Are you anxious to get your daughters married off and settled down?

They have a way of doing this in Holland that might work pretty well here if it were rightly started.

And yet, on second thought, it might not be permitted since it is a Sunday affair, which might be classed as traffic.

The four Sundays in the month of November are devoted to marrying and giving in marriage. These are known respectively as review, decision, purchase and possession Sundays.

On review Sunday all the young folks go to church dressed in their best bib and tucker and looking their prettiest. After church there is a parade, marching and countermarching so as to give each one a chance to see and to be seen.

The next Sunday the bachelors are permitted to approach and address the girls who had caught their eyes on parade day. They don't indulge in courting or spooning, but simply look each other over. During the week they meet and talk it over and on the following Sunday the consent of parents is sought and if obtained they appear at church the following Sunday to claim their chosen birds and demand possession, which is given by the minister by marrying them on the spot.

* * * * *

This is a novel matrimonial scheme, and it is said to work all right in Holland. It seems that the people are too busy during the planting and harvesting season to bother about such matters as love, courtship and marriage, but when November comes they haven't much else to do.

And then they believe in marriage in Holland, and it is generally successful among the common folks. Royalty and rich folks have their domestic troubles as elsewhere.

We hear a good deal about having laws passed compelling men to marry before a specified age or pay a fine to be turned into the common school fund to help educate the children of those who are rearing big families.

Such talk is foolish.

Indeed it were better if the state would pass laws preventing the issuing of licences to about half of those who apply.

Enforced marriage is a sin, no matter whether under the stress of law or anything else. Only the marriage of those who are properly mated is sanctioned and duly blessed of God.

And why throw all the blame on the bachelor? He is made a scapegoat for the sins of a whole lot of negligent parents and foolish girls.

Educate the young people properly and they will marry all right, and raise creditable families.

* * * * *

Have you read the story of the capture of Henry Whitridge, bachelor, as told by his friend and associate, F. M. Mitchel?

He was probably tiring of bachelorhood, but didn't know it, or wouldn't concede it even to himself, nor would he admit that gentle, gracious Grace was assuming more and more a form angelic. But rather than admit it he sneered at the mention of her name, and many were the wordy skirmishes they had when alone. After one of these he borrowed her diamond ring and wrote these lines on a pane of glass:

"There's many a man, when the key has been turned
On the wedlock for which he has ardently yearned,
Would give all the wealth in his bank or his pocket,
And borrow besides, for a key to unlock it."

Whitridge had spent hours over the composition of this jingle and was very proud of it. He was quite astonished when Grace seized the ring and scratched in a few moments this impromptu:

"There's many a girl, when embarked on life's stream,
Which has been till the moment a sweet summer dream,
Will find when too late that her fancy has led her
To a plunge in the waves in a desperate header."

Then Miss Redford fell ill. Whitridge felt sorry for her, so he sent her some flowers. On the card accompanying them, he wrote:

When a maiden is sick and deprived of her powers,
A friend may console with a few simple flowers.
When a wife is struck down and her illness has locked her
At home, her poor husband must pay for a doctor.

To which Miss Redford responded:

Thanks; a wife in poor health must slave on like a "nigger,"
While her master's food craving grows bigger and bigger.
When a husband the presence of pain is deploring,
He keeps up an uproar of howling and roaring.

* * * * *

And so the courtship went on until he fell ill, and it came her turn to act the part of a faithful minister. He tried to ignore her attentions, but she heeded him not. She didn't send him doggerel, but jellies and flowers. These he gave to the janitor's wife just to make himself feel that he was a bachelor still.

At last, after months of confinement, the invalid's resolution broke down, and he made the following plaint, which he sent by messenger to Miss Redford:

"In a home there are kids to be constantly squalling,
A woman dissatisfied, caudles appalling.
There are servants to leave without ever a warning,
Their fellows the offers of housekeepers scorning.
There are bills coming in and funds growing smaller,
The kids likewise growing expensively taller.
One's joys are divided, and yet every trouble
In the family state must loom up as a double.

"But give me all this for a pair of soft eyes
To look into mine and make patient replies
To my groans and complaints, and a hand on my head
To smooth off my fever and smooth out my bed.
There are two soft brown eyes in a dear, loving face
I wish with me now—they are yours, dearest Grace,
I would fain bid farewell to my bachelor life
And set up a home with my love for my wife."

To this Miss Redford replied:

'Mid clubs or in ballrooms,
Whichever one roam,
Be it wine, song or dancing,
There's no place like home.
Your loving GRACE.

Rare Bird in Capitol Park.

A rare visitor to Capitol park yesterday was a white robin. The park guards noticed the albino bird near the executive building, and tried to catch it, but could not get near enough to put salt on its tail and the bird got away. It was regarded with much curiosity by the squirrels and pigeons which flock in the park, and even the sparrows ceased scrapping long enough to take a look at the newcomer. The bird was almost white, with here and there a dark feather and a little red on the breast, but it was a robin, sure enough.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Charity Without Red Tape.

As the founder of a charity pure and undefiled by red tape it seems proper that Mr. Fleischmann, New York's well-known baker, should have an enduring monument of some sort. Though if it had been given him to decide on such a matter it is probable he would have asked that it be a "bread line," similar to that which his patrons composed, to extend from other bakeries in that city of great needs where he lived.—Boston Transcript.

Senator Hoar's Traits

Most of the Washington correspondents who write about the late Senator Hoar will describe his appearance on the floor of the senate, as he raised himself up on his toes and came down emphatically on his heels to give emphasis to his debate or the way he looked when calmly raising some point of order or making some explanation, when he would twirl the bunch of keys he always kept convenient, apparently for this purpose, for it is said that most of them had outlived the locks they once fitted. He was certainly a picturesque figure, with his white hair and spectacles surmounting the clean shaven face. His voice was often harsh and rasping, but he acquired a reputation for oratory that quickly filled the hall when it was known that he was to address the senate.

* * *

Senator Hoar was not only an optimist, but an enthusiast about men as well as affairs. When he once took a liking to a person he was apt to follow the man with hopeful expectations that were often never realized. Many an ambitious young man has been selected by him as a future governor or congressman and the candidate was usually promising according to the liking he manifested for Mr. Hoar. In spite of his political training under eminent teachers, Mr. Hoar never learned to judge men, and he was often woefully deceived as to their capacity or even their fidelity to him. This same lack of insight was often apparent in the measures he championed, for he was an idealist who often embraced impractical measures which he championed with a tenacity worthy of a better cause. Yet in spite of his good nature, Senator Hoar was unforgiving to anyone whom he found untrue to him.

* * *

An example of Senator Hoar's enthusiasms was afforded in 1896 when he visited England. There he met several British statesmen and discussed the question of international bimetalism with them. Senator Hoar was encouraged by the opinions he heard and firmly believed that there was a chance for silver if Great Britain should agree with the United States to take the initiative to maintain a parity between gold and silver by international agreement. The silver was just taking shape in America and the Republican national convention would meet in a few weeks. Senator Hoar telegraphed to his colleague and other party leaders, urging them to insert some such plank as that calling for bimetalism providing it could be maintained by international agreement and he advised a commission to investigate the subject. Senator Hoar returned full of the subject, but his enthusiasm was chilled by finding that the Republican party was committing itself to a single standard. President McKinley had not advocated the single standard, but Sherman had uttered the keynote and sound money forces were rallying to resist the extreme radicalism of the Bryan element. So Senator Hoar had to drop bimetalism after he had been in this country a few weeks and his rosy scheme of an international agreement was soon forgotten.

* * *

The climax of Senator Hoar's influence came when he was chairman of the Republican national convention that nominated President Garfield. He took that position after he had served as a member of the electoral commission that seated President Hayes and he received offers of several honorable positions, including that of ambassador to England. But he preferred his seat in the senate to any such office and as chairman of the judiciary committee he became one of the most ardent defenders of senatorial courtesy. In fact, he was a "stickler" for proprieties and took pleasure in the august reputation of the highest legislative body in the United States. In this relation as protector of senatorial usage he became intimately associated with members of that body like Senator Tillman who were certainly totally unlike him.

* * *

Senator Hoar's literary work was usually along historical lines, and one of his principal achievements as representative of a learned society was to unearth and bring back to America the manuscript diary of Bradford, the governor of the Massachusetts colony. As this gave a record of the events on the voyage of the Mayflower it was considered worthy of reproduction for general circulation. But the original manuscript now reposes in this country, where it belongs, and the transfer gave Mr. Hoar no little satisfaction. Another historic character whose life he particularly studied was Rufus Putnam and references to this pioneer's life graced many an oration.

* * *

Catholicity was a characteristic of the senator and this often led him to make pretty close alliances with those who differed with him in religious beliefs. He was associated with the Rev. Mr. Conaty for many years before Dr. Conaty became rector of the Catholic university at Washington and the Rev. Mr. Power, the vicar general of the Catholic diocese of Massachusetts, was admitted to the select organization in Worcester, sometimes known as Senator Hoar's club. The working of the anti-Catholic society and its entrance into politics greatly disturbed the veteran senator, who was the first man in political life in Massachusetts to denounce it. He took occasion to criticise it when it was at the height of its power and the ordinary politician feared to express himself for or against it. This speech was one of the notable ones he delivered as president of the trustees of Clark university. His championship of that institution led to the founding of a library there by Andrew Carnegie in honor of Mr. Hoar.

* * *

Many stories will no doubt be told of Senator Hoar, some of them true and illustrative of his character and others apocryphal. Some of the best of the authenticated ones deal with temperance and Senator Hoar's espousal of the cause—from a political standpoint, for he never was a total abstainer. When President Hayes acceded to his wife's wishes and abolished wine at the White House table, most of the guests bore their thirst in silence, but it was Mr. Hoar who remarked soon after a dinner that the rum punch that was served came to him as a sort of "life preserver." He had been advised by a physician to take a kind of brandy and one day bought a bottle which he carried home with some trepidation lest his Worcester neighbors should recognize it. When he reached the house he found that an estimable neighbor and one of the foremost women laboring in the temperance cause was waiting there for the annual subscription to the state temperance society. In view of the circumstances Senator Hoar subscribed liberally.

* * *

One of the best anecdotes Senator Hoar told about himself was that of his experience at Mt. Holyoke. The steep side is ascended by a lift that is drawn by cables, operated by an old engine. The cars alternate and seat a very small company and passengers at all nervous are not at all quieted by looking down as they go up backward. Senator Hoar had with him a party of supreme court judges—none of them small men—and when the critical point in the ascent was reached he noticed that the hemp cables supporting them were much worn. Turning to the attendant when he reached the summit he inquired: "Are those ropes safe? They look worn out." "They are worn out," was the cheerful reply, "but we hope they will last until next Monday when are to have a new set to replace them." Needless to say the party was not assured by this statement.

The Age Limit.

The Carnegie Steel Company at Pittsburgh has given another blow to the old man. It declares that it will not employ anyone, except in the laborers' ranks, above the age of 35 in certain departments and above 40 years in other departments. There has been much heard in recent years of the disinclination of employers to give positions to old men, but the age limit has been something like, say, 45 years. The man of 40 was preferred to the man of 45, but the fixing of 35 as an age limit is going in the direction of the cradle very rapidly. If we get down to 30, and then 25, what, in the name of Methuselah, shall be done with our mighty army of superannuated men?—Philadelphia Ledger.

FIRST MEETING TO BE A BIG ONE

Opening of Republican Campaign in Pittsburgh Will Be Enthusiastic.

LESLIE APPOINTS COMMITTEE

Members of the United Republican clubs of Allegheny county say that the meeting to open the campaign in Pittsburgh tonight in Old City hall will be the biggest opening meeting ever held here. Every member of every club has practically constituted himself a committee of one to do his best to secure a large attendance.

The speakers at the meeting will be Congressman Hepburn of Iowa, Attorney General Hampton L. Carson, Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart and James Francis Burke. The first three will arrive today and be quartered at the Hotel Duquesne, whence all four will be taken to the hall tonight. The Young Men's Republican Tariff club and the Americus club will act as escort to the speakers. The Americus club will march from its house in Penn avenue to Sixth avenue and Smithfield street, headed by a band. There it will be joined by the Tariff club, also with a band, and both clubs will line up in Smithfield street. The Americus club will precede the carriages containing the speakers and the Tariff club will follow.

Many other clubs have desired to be in the parade, but to save time it was thought best to have but two clubs as escort. The other clubs will march directly to the hall from their headquarters. Among the organizations that will make the occasion a success are the P. C. Knox club, the Allegheny War Veterans' association, the Soldiers' Civic league, the Seventh Ward Republican club of Allegheny and the negro club, the Grand Central. Lee S. Smith will be the chairman of the meeting. The Colonial quartet will sing and the Pennsylvania State band will entertain the audience between speeches.

City Chairman M. G. Leslie yesterday appointed the following campaign committee for the city of Pittsburgh: A. C. Gumbert, F. P. Booth, John A. Golden, John T. Casey, Archibald Mackrell, B. C. Barton, John M. Moorin, Jacob Minsinger, John P. Hunter, John C. Haymaker, John A. Murphy, Twentieth ward; J. J. Cloonan, Samuel F. Kerr, William A. Martin and Charles C. McGovern.

Frank L. Blair, who is the chairman of the committee appointed by the Union Veteran Legion and the Grand Army to investigate the discharge of old soldiers from the municipal service, yesterday wrote a letter to District Attorney Stewart, asking him to bring the case of Mayor Hays to an issue. The mayor was tried for misdemeanor for having discharged an old soldier and the jury disagreed. Maj. Stewart says he will have another trial as soon as possible, during the present term, if practicable.

Attorney William M. Benham yesterday filed in court an application for a charter for the Colonial Republican club. It is to be a permanent organizzation, with a club house in the East End.

WOMEN BATTLE HIGH UP ON ELEVATED RAILROAD

One Passed Bad Check on the Other and Both Were Arrested as the Result.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—After a chase of a quarter of a mile over the elevated structure leading to the Pennsylvania railroad terminal at Jersey City, two women, one of them carrying a baby, this afternoon struggled and fought until both were arrested by Policeman Maybacher. All trains were delayed for 15 minutes until police reserves drove the crowd which gathered out of danger's way to the street.

The women were Mrs. John Schultz of Hackensack, and Mrs. Louis Cyrle, who has a grocery store at 172 Morgan street, Jersey City. Mrs. Cyrle charged Mrs. Schultz with paying a grocery bill with a worthless check.

Soon after the check was given Mrs. Schultz moved from Jersey City to Hackensack. While Mrs. Cyrle was in front of her store this afternoon Mrs. Schultz passed, carrying in her arms her 6-months-old baby. The storekeeper rushed out to the street shouting and Mrs. Schultz started to run.

Near the store the railroad tracks are on a high embankment and up this Mrs. Schultz ran, pursued by Mrs. Cyrle. Persons in the street joined in the chase and followed the women to the tracks. Mrs. Schultz, although handicapped by the infant, kept in the lead. She finally reached a point where the tracks leave the embankment and are supported by an elevated structure about 40 feet above the street.

Mrs. Schultz was held on a warrant secured by Mrs. Cyrle. The latter was charged with disorderly conduct.

CLERK AND $2,600 GONE.

Money Is Missing from Wabash Safe and Trusted Employe Is Being Hunted.

Edmond Grieve, chief clerk in the office of the auditor of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Railway Company, is being sought by the police as the result of the disappearance of $2,600 from the office safe on Friday night last. Grieve disappeared that night, leaving at his lodging house in Fourth street all his belongings. The money was taken from the steel chest inside of the large safe. Both combinations were worked successfully. The one on the outside door Grieve was supposed to know, but that on the inside he was not acquainted with, to the knowledge of the auditor.

The case is considered the more remarkable because of the man's high reputation for ability and for character. He has been in the railroad accounting business for 25 years, and has held positions of great responsibility. Before the occurrence here last week no suspicion had ever attached to him. He was a high-salaried man and was about 50 years of age.

WILL BUILD FINE CHURCH.

Edifice Will Be Erected to Memory of Mother of Capt. S. S. Brown.

Application will be made October 22 for a charter for the Mary S. Brown Memorial M[illegible] Episcopal church which will [illegible] in memory of the mother of C[illegible] Brown. The other trustees of [illegible] will be W. Harry Brown, James [illegible] Robert Jenkins, Jr., Peter Gille[illegible] Welfer and Karl E. Wilson.

The church [illegible] about $75,000 [illegible] will be built in the district lying [illegible] the Beechwood boulevard, where [illegible] stood [illegible]rrel Hill Meth[illegible] Episcopal [illegible] known as B[illegible] chapel.

CITY TREASURY IS GETTING LOW

Funds Will Run Out in a Few Weeks and Larkin Prohibits Borrowing.

HE IS PREPARING A STATEMENT

Mayor Hays will soon be called upon to deal with the worst problem of his whole administration, a problem which no other chief executive of the city has had to face. It is the task of finding money to pay the salaries of his army of city employes without being permitted to go to the banks and borrow the amount necessary. Controller Larkin refuses to allow the administration to borrow money to pay either salaries or bills, and he announces that the funds in the city treasury will run out by the first of November, if not sooner.

The bookkeeper in the controller's office is compiling a list of the balances remaining in the various funds, and when he returns from Philadelphia the controller will give out this statement, which will show when the money will be exhausted. It is regarded as certain that the funds in the city treasury, which are not mortgaged by contracts, will disappear on or before November 1, and possibly before that. The exact status of the city's finances will be known by Saturday.

What makes the matter more serious than usual is the fact that the controller's refusal to allow the administration to borrow from the banks will compel the several thousand men working for the city to wait four or five months to get their pay. In 1902, Larkin's first year as controller, he stopped the practice of borrowing money at the end of the year to meet the city's obligations after the funds had run out, but by holding up all bills until the next year there was enough money left to pay the salaries.

In 1903 there was no deficiency, but this year the controller claims there will be no money after November 1 for either salaries or bills. In other words, the treasury will then be clean dry. The controller states that it is not possible to get enough money to pay salaries for the remainder of the year even if the payment of all bills is stopped now. It is a singular fact that, while almost every appropriation shows a balance to the credit of the various bureaus, yet the money is not in the treasury. This is explained by the statement that councils, in fixing the appropriations this year, greatly overestimated the revenues, and that the deficit is the result of this sort of financiering.

If the funds all run out November 1, and the controller adheres to his ruling prohibiting borrowing, the city employes may have to wait until next March to get their pay, as the next installment of taxes will not be collected until then.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL MOVE NEXT MONDAY

Proposed Amendments to the Constitution Will Be Considered at the General October Meeting.

The Pittsburgh chamber of commerce will move to its new quarters on the third floor of The Gazette building, Oliver avenue and Wood street, next Monday. The chamber will have the finest assembly room in Pittsburgh, and an informal housewarming will be held at the next monthly meeting.

A number of amendments to the charter and constitution will be considered at the same meeting. The amendments approved by the board of directors provide for abolishing the "exchange room" and for eliminating the September monthly meeting. In the clauses referring to the active management of the chamber the word "superintendent" has been stricken out and a vice president and manager has been substituted. Of the standing committees which heretofore existed, those on "arbitration," "manufactures," "statistics," "mineral products" and "trade relations with South American republics" have been abolished. A new committee on "trade and commerce" has been created, and to it will be referred matters on statistics, manufactures, mineral products and trade relations. Another amendment provides for honorary members.

ENTER GENERAL DENIALS.

Officers of Glass Workers' Local Assembly No. 300 File Answer to Suit.

Paul St. Peter and other officers in the Glass Workers' Local Assembly No. 300, K. of L., yesterday filed their answer to the suit brought against them by Arthur Wittebort, and others. General denials are embodied in the answer. It is denied that the plaintiffs are members of good standing in the assembly, and it is claimed that the present officers hold their places legally.

The answer admits that there is in the assembly treasury a sum aggregating $100,000, but it is denied that the defendants hold a sum as large as that. The allegation is made that the plaintiffs are back of an effort to wreck the assembly and destroy its efficiency. The answer also denies that preference was shown to the American Window Glass association in the operation of its machine plant.

Recovered Part of Money.

Mrs. Phoebe Edmundston of Elizabeth street owns some houses in Hazelwood, and on Wednesday started out to collect rents. In one of the houses she placed on a chair a package which contained $90. This mysteriously disappeared and Dalton Thomkins, aged 13, is under arrest pending an investigation, $30 having been recovered from him.

PLAIN TALK.

Food for Thought There, Too.

"Having found out for myself the food that enables me to get the most pleasure out of life, I consider it a duty to tell some one else my experience," says a Massachusetts woman.

"Born with a weak and sensitive stomach, I suffered long with indigestion and the many ills arising from it, general constipation, weakness of the bowels, together with catarrhal inflammation and rheumatism of every form and fashion, with a tremendous amount of suffering I had what is known as deposits of brick dust and uric acid, with almost every other impurity of the blood which such a condition can produce.

"Coming to the conclusion that I must eat to live and not live to eat, I began looking about to find the best way, and among the many foods tested was Grape-Nuts. I did not use it as a general food or exclusively, but simply ate it once a day, either at morning or night, on an empty stomach and softened in warm cream or milk with a little sugar, bread or butter or cooked or raw fruit. Up to this time I had tried every known remedy for constipation and had to rely on the medicines, although I continually got worse instead of better; within a short time the Grape-Nuts food (which always digested) had toned up my whole system and digestive organs in particular, until every bit of constipation and bowel trouble disappeared and I bade goodby to all the cathartics.

"Now, after using Grape-Nuts two years, I still think it delicious. My rheumatism is all gone, also the constipation something I had never even hoped for, never have a headache nowadays, my eyesight and hearing are excellent for one of my age, but had given me much trouble while I suffered from constipation. I am now past 80 years of age, but walk out and enjoy it. Feel strong and well and I know the Grape-Nuts has given added vigor to my brain, too. It would be very gratifying to me to know that my letter had helped show others the way to a proper diet that has cured my stomach and bowel trouble." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

FIRE IMPERILED FEVER VICTIMS

Henry Trenheuser and His Daughter Carried from Bed While Their Home Burned.

RESCUERS FACED THE FLAMES

While a house was filled with smoke and long tongues of flame threatened to cut off every avenue of escape for those who were imprisoned within its scorching walls, Henry Trenheuser and his daughter, Cecelia, who are suffering from typhoid fever, were carried from the burning building yesterday. Added to the terrors of their suffering they saw their home sink into blackened ruins while they were being carried to a temporary shelter.

Mr. Trenheuser belongs to one of the oldest families in Baldwin township, and his house stood near the Brownsville road, beyond Carrick. Some time ago he was stricken by typhoid fever, and his daughter, who is 19 years of age, was afflicted about the same time. The condition of patients was serious. They occupied adjoining rooms.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning fire was discovered and the flames spread quickly to the stairways, filling the sick chambers with blinding smoke. The fire had gained too much headway for the members of the family to hope to extinguish it, and their first thought was to rescue the helpless victims of the fever. Blankets were wrapped around the patients and they were half walked and half carried from their beds. By this time the fire had stolen up the walls and was bursting from the ceiling and floors over the building.

The rescuers threw open the doors and rushed through at the peril of a shocking fate if they should be unsuccessful in taking their burdens through the blazing gauntlet into which the doorways of the house had been transformed. Clear heads and prompt action, however, succeeded and the victims were carried out unharmed. No time was lost in taking them to the home of Peter Trenheuser, a brother, who lives in the same neighborhood. Physicians were called and everything was done to calm the patients' fears. Mr. Trenheuser's condition was said to be critical last night, and his daughter was much worse, owing to the exciting ordeal she had suffered.

The cause of the fire is not known. The house is situated out in the country beyond the reach of the Carrick volunteer fire department and nothing could be done toward saving the building.

The Sultan of Sulu.

Unlike most comic operas, the songs introduced in "The Sultan of Sulu" occur in a perfectly natural way. One song, "Since I First Met You," permeates the whole comedy. It is a delightfully catchy air and has been played in drawing rooms and whistled on the streets since the first performance of the Ade-Wathall musical satire. "The Sultan of Sulu," with new scenes and new costumes and a brilliant and powerful cast, will be the attraction at the Nixon theater next week.

Fooled the Prosecutrix.

When Joseph Cushagus was arraigned in the Lawrenceville police court Wednesday morning to answer a charge of felonious assault made by Mrs. C. Alivitska, the prosecutrix did not put in an appearance, and it afterward developed she had been fooled to the court house by a stranger who said the hearing was to take place there. She was on hand yesterday, however, and Cushagus was held in $300 bail for court.

Buffalo Airs Boodle Scandal.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 29.—As the result of District Attorney Coatsworth's investigation of charges of alleged "grafting" on the part of city officials, Alderman J. Thomas Harp, Henry Moest and Orrin F. Pierce and former aldermen Edward C. Beiser, Louis G. Roedel, Henry G. Schneider and John G. Busch have been indicted.

School Board Deadlocked.

The school board of the Seventh ward, Allegheny is deadlocked over the payment of a bill of $300 for painting. It is said by those fighting the payment of the bill that the contract was given without permission from the entire board. The question will be taken up at the next meeting.

THE ASSOCIATION NOT MENTIONED

Christian Ministers' Resolution on Sabbath Observance Was Rather Negative Paper.

MATTER WARMLY DISCUSSED

Christian ministers gathered here for the Christian Missionary society convention yesterday adopted a half-hearted resolution in favor of the enforcement of the Sunday laws, but the work of the Sabbath Observance association did not get a mention. The matter of taking up the Sabbath observance question was the subject of a rather warm discussion at the morning session, the war of words finally ending in the appointment of a committee to frame resolutions bearing on the subject. It was expected that this committee would report some time in the afternoon, but they did not finish their work until evening, and then submitted the following:

> Be it resolved by the representatives of the Christian church in convention assembled, that as followers of the Lord Jesus Christ, we loyally and lovingly observe the first day of the week commonly called Sunday as a day of worship and Christian service in memory of our Savior's resurrection on that day and in accordance with apostolic precedent.
> And be it further resolved, that as citizens of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, we heartily indorse the law of the state setting apart this, the first day of the week, as a day of rest and forbidding all labor on that day except works of charity and necessity, and that we demand of our public officials the fair and faithful enforcement of that law.

Says Resolution Is Harmless.

Rev. John A. Jayne of the Observatory Hill Christian church, Allegheny, who has shown decided opposition to the methods of the Sabbath Observance association, continued his opposition at the meeting yesterday morning. When the discussion closed, however, he was named on the committee to frame resolutions, and for a long time refused to sign those drafted. Finally when he did give in he excused himself with the statement that there could be no particular harm in signing, as the resolutions were "meaningless and harmless and do not indorse anything." "The resolution," said Mr. Jayne, "fails to mention in any way the Sabbath Observance association, and is of such a character that it can be signed by anyone." The resolution was adopted without comment or debate of any nature. The committee which framed it consisted of the Revs. E. A. Cole, Wallace Tharp, W. J. Russell, O. H. Phillips, John A. Jayne, C. L. Thurgood, W. F. Bright, H. Yuell, W. R. Warren, H. H. Thayer, F. M. Gordon and L. N. Wells.

Trouble started in the convention at the morning session. The meetings are being held in the East End Christian church, and the pastor, the Rev. W. J. Russell, went on record early as being opposed to the society taking any action. The matter rested serenely in this condition until the arrival of the Rev. Mr. Tharp, who had a clipping in his hand from a morning paper which intimated that the Christian ministers might "balk" at the Sunday observance question.

"Certainly a pretty commentary," began the Rev. Mr. Tharp. "We are acting the part of cowards if we do not take some action——"

President Sounds a Warning.

"Steady, doctor, steady," warned Robert Lattimer, who was presiding. "You will have to confine yourself to more refined talk."

The Rev. Mr. Tharp expressed his thanks for the warning and then aired his opinions in language most vigorous. He wound up by offering a motion for the appointment of a committee to make a report on Sunday observance. The discussion grew warmer as the morning aged, Revs. Russell, Phillips and Jayne taking the stand that the society should take no action. The whole matter terminated, however, in the appointment of the committee, which consumed the day in evolving the resolution above quoted.

The afternoon session was devoted to the Christian Endeavor department of church work, and at night the Rev. J. G. Slater of Akron, O., delivered an address on "The Importance of Bible School Work."

The question of Sabbath observance was also the topic of interest at the third day's session of the Pennsylvania synod of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, held at McKeesport. The Rev. J. R. Harris stated that the cry of those opposed to the Sunday laws was for the purpose of creating a wrong impression with regard to all laws for the preservation of Sunday.

Starkey Held for Murder.

Nelson C. Starkey, the detective employed by the Sabbath Observance association, who, during a riot in Allegheny on the night of August 30, shot and killed Henry D. Knox, a machinist, was yesterday held for murder by the grand jury. P. T. Gamble and H. W. Starkey, other Sabbath Observance officers, who were with Nelson Starkey at the time of the shooting, were released.

YOUTHS JUMP FROM TRAIN AND ONE DISAPPEARS

Wilbur Glunt, Who Is Fatally Hurt, Says They Leaped in Front of a Freight.

While returning to their homes in Turtle Creek, Wilbur and Charles Glunt, each aged 21, jumped from a fast freight on the Pennsylvania railroad while passing through East Pittsburgh, about midnight Wednesday. Wilbur was found lying near the tracks by workmen at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, while Charles has completely disappeared.

Wilbur was taken to his home by the East Pittsburgh police. After being revived he told his relatives that he and his cousin had been to Altoona on Wednesday and returned home on a freight train. When the train reached Turtle Creek it was running at high speed and the men were unable to get off. At East Pittsburgh he said they decided to jump. Charles jumped first and Wilbur followed. The latter said he jumped directly in front of a train going in the opposite direction and was struck and hurled to one side. Charles failed to turn up yesterday, and although a search was made for his body along the tracks, he could not be found. Wilbur Glunt had his right arm cut off, his head badly cut and received many bruises about the body. He is thought to be fatally injured.

POLISH CONGRESS OVER.

Closes With Open Session at Which Leaders Make Addresses—Officers Are Elected.

The Polish Catholic congress concluded its triennial convention with an open meeting in Carnegie hall last night, attended largely by visiting priests, delegates and prominent local Poles. The principal address was delivered by Attorney Joseph Sinulsky of Chicago, his theme being "Poland, Its Early History and Wars." Addresses were also made by Coadjutor-Bishop Canevin and Bishop Donahue of Wheeling.

The following officers were elected in the afternoon: President, Rev. T. Truszyuski of Peru, Ill.; secretary, O. O. Kruszka of Chicago; treasurer, Andrew Ratajewski of Pittsburgh.

Church to Buy Pipe Organ.

A committee appointed by the German Evangelical Protestant church, East Ohio street, Allegheny, better known as Voeghtley church, last night voted to purchase a $4,000 pipe organ for the church. The pastor of the church is the Rev. H. K. Mueller.

BLACK EYED GIRLS MUST BE ESPECIALLY CAREFUL

Northwestern University Professor Thinks They Are in Greatest Danger from Gay Young Men Who Are Only Fooling.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—"Black eyes are apt to attract the attention and admiration of men. Hence, black-eyed girls should be particularly careful of their deportment at college."—Prof. Robert L. Cumnock.

Prof. R. L. Cumnock is teacher of oratory and music at Northwestern university, and an authority on a wide range of topics, inclusive, of eyes, hats and types of beauty. The professor gave his views in a side talk on flirting to a class of 100 girls. Here are a few of the "don'ts" he suggested to the members of his class:

"Do not seek the attentions of young men. Never notice young men who look at you from the corner of their eyes. Do not stroll on the campus with more than one escort. Don't employ little devices to attract men; a man of real worth will seek you for yourself alone. Never speak to a young man you don't know. Don't encourage the attentions of too many young men—such conduct cheapens a woman."

PROPOSES TO NAME CITY FOR ANDREW CARNEGIE

Simeon Bissell Presents a Novel Greater Pittsburgh Idea to Mayor Hays.

The change of the name of Pittsburgh to Carnegie, in honor of Andrew Carnegie, and the consolidation of all the towns and cities in the county under this name, is the novel scheme that Simeon Bissell proposes to Mayor Hays, Mr. Bissell sending to the mayor yesterday a letter containing this and other suggestions. Mr. Bissell asks the mayor, if he considers the matter worthy of public consideration, to draw the attention of the chamber of commerce to it.

Mr. Bissell thinks that Pittsburgh should be the greatest manufacturing city in the world in all lines, not merely in raw iron and steel, but also in scores of finished products, such as have made Birmingham, England, famous as a workshop. He suggests that manufacturers of articles not now manufactured in Pittsburgh be induced to locate here by offers in the form of subsidies furnished by some multi-millionaire philanthropist, free building sites and free power. He claims that unless the form of manufacturing in Pittsburgh is diversified there will be no outlet here for the graduates of the Carnegie Technical institute. Among other things Mr. Bissell says:

> Even Allegheny would no doubt be willing to part with that time-honored and historical name, and, indeed, Pittsburgh, if need be, though jealous of her proud position, would be willing to forsake Father Pitt for the good of the common cause. Of course, the names of the different cities could be represented as districts. For instance, the district of Pittsburgh, the district of Allegheny, the district of McKeesport, etc. Through this a new name would have to be adopted for the new city, and what better and more suitable one could be proposed than that of the great philanthropist who would be the means of bringing these conditions about, and would it not be an everlasting monument to such a one who would conceive the plan and finance the consummation thereof?
> If such a scheme would not be considered too visionary by the people of so-called Greater Pittsburgh, who would they suggest as the great commander who would unify and mobilize the towns and cities of Pittsburgh and its environments? Judging from the wonderful achievements of the past in the industrial building of this city, if the people would name the chief, whom would it be? Just at this question I fancy I hear the shouts of hundreds of thousands who have already been industrially blessed, directly and indirectly, say, as by una voce, "Carnegie!" "Carnegie!"

ORPHAN GIRLS RAN AWAY; SAID THEY WERE ABUSED

Jessie Moorhead and Irene McDowell, both aged 15, were placed in charge of the matron at Allegheny Central station last night and will be turned over to the Humane society today. The girls were stopping with a family in O'Hara street and were taken from there by Policeman Fleck at the request of the family. The girls said they were orphans and had been working at a boarding house in Oakland where they were abused.

Will Hold Sunday School Rally.

The First Methodist Protestant Sunday school of Allegheny has issued invitations to a rally which will be held at the church, Union avenue, on Sunday, October 2, at 2 o'clock. Addresses will be made by Albert M. Schoyer, superintendent of the Pennsylvania lines west, and by Prof. W. L. Smith of the Allegheny High school. The music will be furnished by a quartet, consisting of Anna Gertrude Clark, soprano; Mrs. W. A. Lafferty, contralto; Curtiss Clark, basso, and R. J. McDowell, tenor. R. F. Walter is the superintendent of the school.

PERSONALS

E. E. Bonneville of the Hotel Henry, who was this week elected president of the Pennsylvania State Hotel association, at its meeting in Harrisburg, returned home yesterday. He states that the question of free lunches, music and keeping open all night were not even brought up at the meeting, but that the important feature considered was in relation to securing the passage of a law whereby guests at the hotels might be served in their rooms after closing hours.

"The Brooks law," says Mr. Bonneville, "operates differently in nearly every county in the state. The hours for closing are determined by the courts, and there is absolutely no uniformity. Now, we are not fighting the Brooks law, but we do say we are entitled to the same privileges as those accorded clubs, which do not even pay a license. Hotels in Pennsylvania lose thousands of dollars through their inability to serve guests over Sunday. Many a guest slips out of Pittsburgh on Saturday night and spends his Sunday in some city or town where he can be served with liquid refreshment if he wishes it. The situation shows an injustice to Pittsburgh, for Scranton, operating precisely under the same law, is exempt from many of the restrictions under which we have to operate."

Mr. Bonneville says that owing to the inability of many members of the association to be present at Harrisburg, another meeting will be held, probably at Cambridge Springs, about October 26.

A. C. Burd, vice president of the railroad lines of the Gould system, passed through Pittsburgh last night in his private car on his way east. Mr. Burd has been making a tour of the southwest, inspecting the Gould lines. He made a long jump from San Antonio, Tex., to Washington, then to Pittsburgh and New York. Mr. Burd said that business in the southwest was good. He had been informed that the cotton crop in some parts of Texas was larger than ever before and the boll weevil had not done so much damage as was anticipated.

A party of Germans spent the day in Pittsburgh, having come direct from Washington, where they met President Roosevelt informally. There were 23 in the party, including manufacturers, engineers and professional men. They arrived in the morning and went to the Hotel Schenley, after which they scattered, some of them going to the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company's plants, others to Homestead, Wilmerding and East Pittsburgh. The party is in charge of A. von Schroeder, representing a steamship company.

S. W. Allerton passed through Pittsburgh on his way from New York to Chicago. Mr. Allerton is president of the Pittsburgh Stock Yards Company, although his headquarters are chiefly in Chicago. He was much interested in learning about the political situation here. Mr. Allerton has written a pamphlet for circulation in Nebraska. It advocates Roosevelt, he said, and in it he endeavors to show the Nebraskans that if Roosevelt is elected good prices for cattle and grain are assured.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

The following persons from towns nearby were registered at the Pittsburgh hotels:

Newell's—J. S. Huselman, Boswell; E. S. Frank and wife, Conemaugh, and G. V. Hamery and wife, Youngstown, O.

TRACTION OFFICIALS IGNORE COMMITTEE

Pittsburgh Railways Company Refuses to Attend Meetings at Councilmen's Invitation.

Officials of the Pittsburgh Railways Company refuse to attend the meetings of the special committee of select council appointed to consider the ordinances granting the company franchises to build several downtown loops in Seventh avenue, Grant street and New Grant street, and also the branch line in the Morningside district. Another meeting of the committee was held last night to meet a representative of the traction company, but no person appeared.

The committee had instructed the clerk to send a letter to President J. D. Callery, requesting him to send a representative to the meeting to give the committee information. Instead the secretary of the company sent a reply that Mr. Callery was out of the city and would not return until next week. No excuse was made for not sending another representative of the company.

Chairman E. R. Walters said it was evident that the company intended to ignore the committee. William Schempp said that another meeting would be held next week and if the traction officials were not present the measures would probably be returned to councils with a negative report.

VETERANS OF WAR HOLD REUNIONS

Survivors of Three Famous Fighting Regiments Elect Officers for the Year.

A GOOD TIME ALL AROUND

Sixty-two survivors of the One Hundred and First and One Hundred and Third regiments, Pennsylvania volunteers, held their annual reunion yesterday afternoon in Union Veteran Legion hall, Fifth avenue. The meeting was presided over by B. H. Scott of the One Hundred and Third regiment, president of the association until the election of his successor, Capt. John A. Reed of the One Hundred and First regiment, who presided until the close of the reunion.

Addresses were made by Col. W. J. Glenn, Wesley Fulmer, Col. A. B. Hay and Frank I. Blair, recalling the services of the two regiments during the war and giving reminiscences of that stirring period.

The following officers were elected, being apportioned between the two regiments as is the regular custom: President, John Reed, One Hundred and First; first vice president, John Gilmore, One Hundred and First; second vice president, the Hon. Thomas Hays, One Hundren and Third; secretaries, Henry M. Johnston, One Hundred and First, Samuel Creelman, One Hundred and First and T. J. McKee, One Hundred and Third, Maj. Mobley, One Hundred and Third; treasurer, Samuel W. Evans, One Hundred and Third.

The next reunion of the two regiments will be held at Zelienople. At the conclusion of the reunion the old soldiers visited the exposition in a body.

The reunion and campfire of the Sixty-second Pennsylvania Volunteer infantry was held in the hall of Col. J. C. Hull Post No. 157, G. A. R., Fifth avenue and Stevenson street, yesterday. Addresses were made by Capt. W. J. Patterson, president, and by Capt. E. S. Wright, both of the regiment. George L. Maltz of the Fourth Michigan, which was brigaded with the Sixty-second Pennsylvania, also made an address. Officers were elected as follows: President, W. J. Patterson; first vice president, J. W. Flenniken; second vice president, Henry Sparra; secretary and treasurer, B. J. Coll; chaplain, Dr. C. F. Swiggart; executive committee, Albanus Stroud, John H. Salisbury, I. J. Fisher, W. M. Dongall, James Brobasco, Hugh Madison, George Sias, John P. Hulz, George Van Horn, James Maloy, John Long and Charles Hugo.

The Death Roll.

James J. Mullooly.

James J. Mullooly, aged 55, a justice of the peace of East Pittsburgh, died at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his home in Braddock avenue, after an illness of two days from stomach trouble. He was born in County Longford, Ireland, and was brought to America by his parents when an infant. The family located at Mt. Savage, Md. Justice Mullooly moved to the present site of East Pittsburgh 45 years ago. He was one of the original employes at the Edgar Thomson steel works and worked as a heater in the bloom mills until 10 years ago, when he was elected a justice of the peace in East Pittsburgh. He took an active part in the affairs of the borough since its incorporation. He is survived by a widow and two sons, James and John, both of East Pittsburgh, also by two brothers, John of Mt. Savage, and Patrick of the South Side, and three sisters, Mrs. Bridget Egan of New Haven; Mrs. Mary Doran of Munhall, and Mrs. Catherine Dowling of the South Side. He was a member of St. Colman's Catholic church, Turtle Creek.

John H. Lynch Buried.

The remains of John H. Lynch, the clerk who was accidentally shot by a friend in the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings last Saturday night, were buried yesterday in St. Mary's cemetery, Lawrenceville. Solemn requiem high mass was offered over the remains at the Church of the Epiphany, in Washington street, at 9 o'clock. The Rev. Father Miles Sweeny was celebrant and the Rev. Father Lawrence A. O'Connell and the Rev. Father Boyle assistants. William M. Taylor, who was handling the revolver when it was discharged, was present at the services and was almost overcome with grief. Father Sweeny preached the funeral sermon, and in paying a tribute to the deceased endeavored to comfort Taylor, who he said he believed had been forgiven by God and by man. The pallbearers were John Donohoe, W. M. Brown, Joseph Williams, Joseph Reese, George Lestrich and Howard Owens, all employes of the bank, and George Henning and James Dwyer.

Mrs. William Gould.

Mrs. Sarah Ann Coley Gould, aged 63, wife of William Gould, died last evening of Brights disease, after an illness of four months, at the home of her son, Dr. J. E. Gould, Berg avenue and Eleanor street, South Side. She was born in Cradley Heath, South Staffordshire, England, and settled on the South Side in 1873 with her husband. She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Charles Davies, and two sons, William Harry Gould and Dr. J. E. Gould; also by four brothers, Dr. Thomas Coley of Carnegie; Jabez Coley of Mt. Washington, and William and Samuel Coley of England, and by three sisters, Mrs. Ebenezer Dunn of this city; Mrs. Killian Perks of Kidderminster, England, and Mrs. Thomas Hughes of Birmingham, England. Funeral services will be held over the remains at the home of Dr. Gould at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

General Charles W. Irish.

IOWA CITY, IA., Sept. 29.—A telegram received here announces the death of Gen. Charles W. Irish former United States surveyor general at Gold Creek, Nevada. Gen. Irish surveyed Iowa for the Northwestern, and the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern, and the Santa Fe, Colorado & Arizona routes; built the Royal Gorge and Grand Canyon bridges, the bridge over the Missouri at Omaha, and laid out the early roads in both Dakotas. He was chief of the department of irrigation and inquiry under President Cleveland.

Funeral of Mrs. Mary J. Fleming.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. today over the remains of Mrs. Mary Jane Fleming at the family home in Fayette City, Pa. Mrs. Fleming was aged 53 and the widow of Dr. H. B. Fleming of Fayette City. She was a daughter of the late David P. Allen of Sunnyside, Pa., a pioneer settler of the Monongahela valley. Mrs. Fleming's death occurred Tuesday night and resulted from a complication of diseases, after an illness of several months.

Mrs. Elizabeth Willets.

Mrs. Elizabeth Willets, aged 63, widow of A. A. Willets of 1001 Jenny Lind street, McKeesport, died yesterday at her home. She was a member of the First Reformed church. Two sons, by her first marriage, J. B. Hershey and Louis J. Hershey of McKeesport, survive her. Interment will take place tomorrow morning in Long Run cemetery.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ewig.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ewig, aged 84, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Laura Bowen, 720 Mulberry avenue, McKeesport, of the infirmities of age. Funeral services will be held today at her late home. Interment will be made at Mt. Vernon cemetery.

OBITUARY NOTES.

Mrs. Catherine Walls, wife of J. C. Walls, died in New Castle yesterday, aged 57 years.

Mrs. Susan Lowman died yesterday morning at her home near Jacksonville, Indiana county, aged 90 years.

Mrs. Annie Elsie Unger, wife of Jacob Unger, died Wednesday at her home in Tarentum, from pneumonia, at the age of 71 years.

Miss Sarah Mitchell is dead at her home at Taylorstown, Washington county, aged 75 years. She was a daughter of James Mitchell of Pittsburgh.

Oscar Deer, aged 16, son of Mrs. Bertha Deer of Glenmar avenue, Sheraden, died yesterday of typhoid fever. Funeral services will be held at the home today at 3:30 p. m.

Mrs. Sarah Stoner, aged 79 years, died at her home in Scottdale Wednesday evening. Mrs. Stoner was the widow of Daniel B. Stoner of Thrust, Stoner & Co. who built the first coke ovens in the vicinity of Scottdale.

SALOONISTS OPPOSED TO SUNDAY SELLING

Will Support Any Organization Standing for Strict Enforcement of Laws.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—The retail liquor dealers of Pennsylvania comprising the Knights of the Royal Arch placed themselves on record today as opposing the "open Sunday" and local option.

This sets at rest rumors that they were working for laws allowing the sale of liquors on Sunday and makes unnecessary the use of the $20,000 which was reported three weeks ago to have been contributed by Andrew Carnegie and H. J. Heinz to fight against such laws.

The resolutions declare that the greatest evil from the liquor traffic can be traced to the "criminal class" who sell without license, and pledges the organization to not patronize any concern which furnishes supplies to any place where liquor is sold in violation of law. The resolutions also condemn lodges and clubs, chartered and otherwise, in which liquor is sold for profit. The Knights pledged themselves to co-operate with any organization which has for its purpose the strict enforcement of the liquor laws.

Oetting's Hats

Lots of young fellows (and old fellows too) are coming here for Court derbies.

A handsome round crown rather high and an artistically curled brim rather narrow is a description of this our best style.

Style properly defined means

—A noticeable elegance—

The Oetting Court derbies possess this quality in every detail.

New lines of soft hats open this week.

Telescopes with smaller brims than last season are selling very well, many with fancy separate bands.

It seems superfluous, but I'll say it anyhow.

Best hats are $4 and $3 and next best $2.25 and $1.75.

MORE TROUBLE FOR J. H. JAHN

Master Says Very Little Weight Should Be Given His or His Wife's Testimony.

RAILROAD ANSWERS D. A. R.

J. Henry Jahn is in trouble in the United States district court, where James G. Marks, special master, has filed a report recommending that the order discharging him from bankruptcy be revoked. Jahn's petition in bankruptcy was filed two years ago, the liabilities being fixed at $10,000 and the assets at a few hundred dollars. He was discharged and subsequently some of the creditors asked that the order be revoked on the ground that Jahn had not surrendered all his property to the trustee.

Marks in his report finds that Jahn "fraudulently concealed, while bankrupt, from his trustee, property belonging to his estate in bankruptcy." The master gives the result of his investigations in great detail and says transfers of property were made to defraud and delay creditors. Speaking of the credibility of Jahn and his wife, after a reference to what he terms discrepancies and false statements the master says:

"For these reasons and because the issue itself is one which charges the defendant and his wife with fraud, we feel their testimony should be very carefully scrutinized and but little weight given to their uncorroborated testimony."

Jahn was placed on trial in criminal court yesterday on a charge of embezzling about $900 from Mrs. Evaline N. Schopfer. The prosecutrix announced that she had recently married and that her name was now Mrs. Burgett. The prosecutrix alleges she turned over $1,050 of a loan she had secured to Jahn for him to place in a bank for safe keeping. She alleges the defendant only deposited $400 of it, but made a satisfactory explanation as to why he had not placed the remainder in the bank. She claims to have received back only $300 of her money.

Jahn in his own behalf, said he had kept the money, but that it was his as he had earned it. He produced an itemized account of the disposition of the money in which he accounted for it in different transactions. The case will continue today, and another case against him will be tried as soon as this is finished.

Answer in the Block House Suit.

In the equity suit of the Daughters of the American Revolution against the Pennsylvania railroad, which seeks to prevent the railroad company from occupying O'Hara avenue near the block house, the defendant filed answer. The defendant denies that by its deed from Mary E. Schenley the order was given an easement on O'Hara avenue. It is also denied that the closing of the thoroughfare would prevent the order from having proper access to the monument site, and it is alleged that the deed from Mrs. Schenley makes proper provision for the entrance, by stipulating the use of a 20-foot strip of land from the block house to Penn avenue. O'Hara avenue, it is alleged, was never opened, the ordinance for its opening being repealed in 1901.

In an opinion handed down in the suit of John D. Armstrong, surviving partner of Lathrop Bacon & Co., against James H. McCutcheon and others, Judge Rodgers decides that McCutcheon owes Bacon & Co. $44,088 11. The suit grew out of a stock transaction in 1901 in Northern Pacific stock.

Judge Rodgers decided several other cases. In the suit of Geo. M. Cote against R. B. Ferree, C. L. Walther and others, Ferree and Walther are directed to account for certain transactions in a similar deal. In the suit of Rosa Savage against Sadie Gorfintel, a dispute over a private alley, the court finds for the plaintiff. A new trial was granted in the case of W. A. Kumpf against the borough of Carnegie an action for damages arising from personal injuries.

Sheraden Victim Defeated.

In common pleas court No. 1 before Judge Brown and a jury, the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad Company secured a victory in the damage suit brought against it by Robert Davis and his father, James Davis, as a result of the Sheraden disaster of May 12, 1902.

The son, who was 17 years old, was on some mission and passed along Chartiers avenue within a few hundred feet of the burning cars. He was badly burned. The defendant took the position that the boy had exercised contributory negligence, having had ample warning by the first explosion, and that his position on the road was such that the danger of the burning cars was impressed upon him. The jury returned a verdict for the railroad company. Attorneys Dalzell, Scott & Gordon represented the railroad.

The will of Mary M. Riggs, late of Allegheny, has been probated and includes a number of legacies. No estimate of the estate is given. George C. Boggs, a brother, is given $5,000 and stock held by the decedent of the Sheraden Land Company. John M. Boggs, a nephew, is given $2,000 and several shares of Pittsburgh Coal Company stock. The other bequests are: Kitty R. Boggs, wife of J. M. Boggs, Hellen Boggs, a niece, John H. Boggs, a nephew, Samuel W. Boggs, a nephew, and Tully Bushnell, a cousin, $1,000 each; Nellie B. Kempel, a cousin, $700; Beth Eden Baptist church, Allegheny, $1,000; Ladies G. A. R. home, Hawkins station, $500. The latter organization is made the residuary legatee to the extent of $500. Residue beyond that amount is to go to the above named in the proportion to their legacies.

Alderman Walsh Acquitted.

Alderman William F. Walsh of the Thirty-fifth ward was acquitted of the larceny of some clothing from George McKee, a canvasman employed with a circus owned by the defendant.

Thomas H. Quill has begun replevin proceedings against 'Squire Stepton to recover a diamond valued at $140. The stone has figured in police circles, Stepton having been arrested while trying to pawn it. He was discharged by the police magistrate when he disclaimed ownership of the stone, and said he had found it in a street car.

Quill says he lost the diamond while on a car on August 1 and discovered his loss when he got off. He says he immediately reported the matter to the railway company. On September 24, he says, an official of the company informed him that Stepton, who had been employed as a car cleaner, had found the stone and had been arrested while trying to pawn it. He was told this on Saturday and on Monday he called on Magistrate Stewart and Inspector Kennelly. They both refused to let him have the stone and said they were going to give it to the negro who found it, he says, despite the fact that the negro admitted it was not his and that Quill was the only person to report such a loss to the street car company. Quill has filed a $280 bond and the sheriff has the stone. It was lost from a stud.

On Trial for Murder.

William A. Jackson is on trial for killing Frances E. Davis in Independence street, West End, on June 19. Both are colored. The commonwealth asserts the shooting was the result of a jealous quarrel. The defense will endeavor to prove that the woman first stabbed Jackson several times with a fork, and then securing a revolver was about to shoot the man, but during a struggle for the weapon it was discharged, killing the woman.

District Attorney Stewart is preparing for the trial of James F. Cunningham, mine inspector, and John Snowden, superintendent of the Harwick mine, who were held on a charge of murder by a coroner's jury in connection with the Harwick disaster. The evidence has not all been transcribed by the coroner, and the district attorney has made a request for the evidence so that he can proceed. An effort will be made to present the case to the grand jury during the present term.

The South Side Trust Company of Pittsburgh, by its president, Benjamin Page, took out letters of administration upon the estates of Patrick Cassidy, Jan Glod, Andrew Wojtas, Mary Mahoney and Thomas T. Lemmon. Orphans' court also made orders appointing the same company trustee of the estate of John Boyd and guardian of the estate of Howard Green.

The following executions were issued yesterday: St. Louis Basket and Box Company vs. Duquesne Trunk Manufacturing Company, $254 27; Harriet A. Neal, use, vs. borough of Wilkinsburg, $1,500; West End Land Company vs. William J. Gallagher, $109 50; Federal National bank of Pittsburgh vs. John R. Snodgrass, $1,455 07; N. D. B. Snodgrass vs. W. M. McKnight, $1,060.

Among the true bills returned yesterday were the following: Embezzlement, T. Taylor; pointing firearms, A. M. Harbaugh; larceny from the person, Charles Grant et al, Charles Pool, John Tills, Henry Weber; larceny by bailee, Paul Huhn; assault and battery, Victor Borkowski, Fred W. Conner, John Doe, Mary Harrington, Daniel McKeever, W. A. Newman; misdemeanor, Morris Crow, George D. Allshouse, Mary Lane, George Mummia.

B. & O. REACHES OUT FOR MORE COKE TRADE

CONNELLSVILLE, Sept. 29.—(Special.)—The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company is making strenuous efforts to secure traffic from the Connellsville region. The survey for its York Run branch has been completed. It will start two miles and a half from Smithfield, on the Smithfield & Masontown branch, and will run up York run about a mile and a half, where it will tap 500 ovens built by the H. C. Frick company. The company is also constructing tracks into the Shoaf plant, one mile and a half from the York run connection, and a branch from the B. & O. short line to Elm Grove.

Receive the Russian Prelate at the Union Station With Song and Flowers.

INSPECTING HIS HUGE SEE

Bishop Tikon, head of the Russian Greek Orthodox church in North America and the Aleutian islands, the head of which is the czar of Russia, came to Pittsburgh last night. A picturesque scene greeted his arrival. Fifty Sunday school children, many of Greek descent and speaking the Greek as well as the English language, were lined up on the Union station platform to receive the Russian prelate. While the boys and girls sang a hymn in Russian they were strictly American, as could be told by their comments, as they stood in two lines waiting for the bishop.

"Here, you," shouted one of the boys to another, "take off your hat. Don't you know it's the bishop coming?"

Just before the ecclesiastical dignitary entered the platform gate the two rows of children swayed close together and the Rev. Nicholas Koshevitch waved them back.

"Make room there," yelled a little fellow, "or we'll trip up the dear bishop."

Standing on the platform to welcome the bishop were the Rev. Nicholas Koshevitch, the Rev. John Nedzelnitzky, rector of St. Michael's church, Vine street; the Rev. Peter Nohouik of Charleroi, and the Rev. Jacob Arhimanditerees, of the Diamond Street Greek church. The last named is not under the jurisdiction of Bishop Tikon, belonging as he does to the Greek church which is under the patriarch of Constantinople, but as the rites of both churches are practically the same he had come out of courtesy to a great dignitary of a sister institution.

The gatemen permitted the priests to enter the train shed to greet the bishop, who came in on the Cleveland flyer. Each of the priests kissed the bishop on the cheek and the laymen who formed part of the reception committee made him a low bow, some of them kissing his hand. When the bishop appeared at the gate the children broke into song, a kind of a weird chant in a minor key, the key in which much Slavish music is written.

Bishop Tikon passed down the line, smiling and blessing the little ones. Then Mary Catsher presented him a bouquet almost as big as herself. The bishop patted her on the head and thinked the priests and the children for the kind reception. The children, under escort, returned to their respective homes in Pittsburgh, Allegheny and McKees Rocks, and the bishop was driven to the Rev. Mr. Koshevitch's house in Allegheny.

Bishop Tikon is on a tour of inspection of his huge see, the last place he visited being Cleveland. He will stay here several weeks, visiting the various churches within a radius of 100 miles.

The Russian churches in this country are largely supported by the holy synod of Russia, and the czar himself, as the head of the church, makes many contributions from his private purse. The bishop will preach on Saturday evening in St. Michael's church and on Sunday morning in the St. Alexander Nevski church in Woods Run.

PITTSBURGH PHYSICIAN WINS IN CLOSE CONTEST

Dr. Adolph Koenig of This City Elected President of the Medical Society of Pennsylvania.

The Medical Society of Pennsylvania ended its meetings in Carnegie Music hall yesterday and last night, and today the attending physicians are scattering to their homes. The most important feature yesterday was the election of officers.

It required two ballots to determine this matter, as there was a close contest for the presidency. The candidates were Dr. Adolph Koenig of Pittsburgh, Dr. William Hartsell of South Bethlehem and Dr. William L. Espes of Allentown. Dr. Koenig was elected on the second ballot by three votes.

The other officers elected were: Dr. E. V. Swing, Coatesville, first vice president; Dr. W. S. Stewart, Wilkesbarre, second vice president; Dr. John M. Corson, Chathams Run, third vice president; Dr. J. B. Ewing, Fayette county, fourth vice president; Dr. Cyrus Lee Stevens, Athens, secretary; Dr. Theodore B. Apple, Lancaster, assistant secretary; Dr. George W. Waggoner, Johnstown, treasurer.

Scranton was decided upon as the next place of meeting. Reading was anxious for the honor, and the contest between the towns was close. A vast amount of work was done by the advocates for both towns, but Scranton finally won by 15 votes. Trustees were elected, as were delegates to the American Medical association by the executive council.

In addition to the general business of the association, several papers were read by members on technical subjects. The doctors were divided into two sections for this purpose, and each section listened to a number of excellent addresses. The ladies of the visitors were entertained yesterday afternoon with a trolley ride about the city.

Last evening a number of the visitors left the city, but many will stay over for a day or two and see the sights of Greater Pittsburgh.

PAINTER HAS AWFUL FALL.

Missed Footing and Drops from Ohio Connecting Bridge 90 Feet Into River.

Edward Miller, of 5314 Home street, a painter in the employ of the American Bridge Company, fell 90 feet from the Ohio connecting bridge into the Ohio river yesterday. He struck the bridge pier breaking both arms, his nose and right knee, and was also badly cut about the head, body and limbs. Miller was painting the bridge iron work and missed his footing.

A fellow workman hurriedly fastened a rope to the bridge, went down to the water on it and as Miller was sinking rescued him. A ferryman brought them both to shore in a boat. Miller was taken to the McKees Rocks General hospital.

Goes to Allis-Chalmers Company.

David Pryde, assistant to the chief draftsman at the East Pittsburgh plant of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company, left Braddock yesterday for Milwaukee, where he has accepted a position with the Allis-Chalmers Company in that city. During the past six months the Allis-Chalmers Company has secured a number of skilled men from the East Pittsburgh plant and a large number of men from the Milwaukee plant have come to East Pittsburgh.

Hair Escaping?

No wonder. Your hair is starving. Feed it before it all leaves you. Then you can keep what you have and add greatly to it. Ayer's Hair Vigor is a hair-food. It stops falling of the hair, makes the hair grow, and always restores color to gray hair.

"One year ago today I had not one single hair on my head, and today I have as fine a growth of hair as any young man in my town, and just three bottles of Ayer's Hair Vigor did it." —Arthur B. Ackley, E. Machias, Me.

THOUSANDS HOMELESS IN LONDON'S STREETS

This Number Will Be Doubled Before Christmas and Authorities Face Grave Problem.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Sept. 29.—What is London going to do for the army of homeless wanderers who now tramp the streets at night and whose ranks are daily being added to? The number of these outcasts is larger than it has been within the memory of any man living and no one knows it better than the officers of the Salvation Army.

One of these who had counted the number of homeless men he met during the night said in two hours, between 1 a. m. and 3 a. m., he met over 1,000 men, without trying to explore any of the side streets, alleys and doorways. Leaning over the balustrade of Trafalgar square he counted 19 men sleeping. Incidentally he found 26 squatting on doorsteps, while 32 were sleeping in the gutters at Hyde Park corner. Between Marble Arch and Lancaster gate he found 72 leaning against the park rails. There are no real municipal lodging houses in London, and all the private shelters are crowded every night, while hundreds are turned away, and there is no place for them but the streets.

The police have orders to see that they do not sleep out, although there is no place for them to sleep in. There is no more serious question facing the London authorities than how to provide shelter for these thousands of men, women and children, the number of whom will undoubtedly be doubled before Christmas.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The French senators and deputies who have been attending the world's congress at the St. Louis exposition sailed for home today.

TRUSTEES BACK DOWN ON THE HAZING PLEDGE

University of Pennsylvania Sophomores Refuse to Sign Affidavit.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—The sophomore class of the University of Pennsylvania today forced the faculty committee to back down from its determination to make all students sign pledges binding them not to participate in hazing. Instead of signing any paper the men merely have placed themselves on honor to carry out the faculty's wishes.

When the order was issued Wednesday that all sophomores must sign the pledge, there was indignation. The sophomores determined that if forced to sign such a pledge they would keep away from chapel today, the opening day, and would not take part in any class fights. Of the 300 sophomores 90 signed the pledge and it is noted that the 90 were men who had not participated in hazings.

This morning word was passed that there would be a secret meeting in the botanical garden, and shortly after 2 o'clock the students held a lively session. Student after student condemned the pledge and urged all to refuse to sign. Matters were progressing when suddenly, from behind a tall bush, stepped Vice Provost Smith, who had been on a still hunt after the sophomore class.

Mr. Smith explained that the faculty has received many letters from parents, refusing to allow their sons to attend the university because of the hazing. The students stated that unless the pledge was done away with the class would not attend chapel and would not participate in any class fights.

A committee of sophomores was appointed to meet the executive committee. The meeting was held this afternoon and a compromise was effected, the executive committee agreeing to destroy the pledges and the sophomores giving their word of honor that there would be no more hazing. The sophs will go to chapel today and afterward will have their class fight with the freshmen.

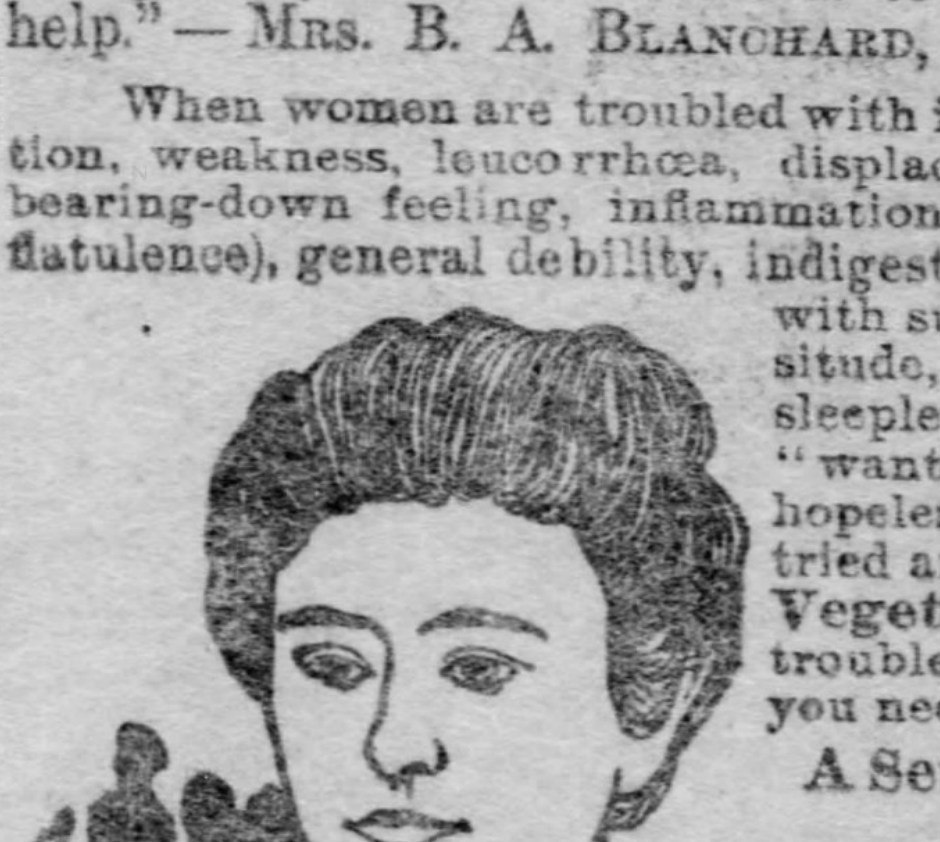
A prominent Southern lady, Mrs. Blanchard, of Nashville, Tenn., tells how she was cured of backache, dizziness, painful and irregular periods by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Gratitude compels me to acknowledge the great merit of your Vegetable Compound. I have suffered for four years with irregular and painful menstruation, also dizziness, pains in the back and lower limbs, and fitful sleep. I dreaded the time to come which would only mean suffering to me.

"Better health is all I wanted, and cure if possible. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me health and happiness in a few short months. I feel like another person now. My aches and pains have left me. Life seems new and sweet to me, and everything seems pleasant and easy.

"Six bottles brought me health, and was worth more than months under the doctor's care, which really did not benefit me at all. I am satisfied there is no medicine so good for sick women as your Vegetable Compound, and I advocate it to my lady friends in need of medical help."—MRS. B. A. BLANCHARD, 422 Broad St., Nashville, Tenn.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.



A Severe Case of Womb Trouble Cured in Philadelphia.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been cured of severe female troubles by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was nearly ready to give up, but seeing your advertisement I purchased one bottle of your medicine, and it did me so much good that I purchased another, and the result was so satisfactory that I bought six more bottles, and am now feeling like a new woman. I shall never be without it. I hope that my testimonial will convince women that your Vegetable Compound is the greatest medicine in the world for falling of the womb or any other female complaints."—MRS. MAY CODY, 2660 Birch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Remember, every woman is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about her symptoms she does not understand. Her address is Lynn, Mass., her advice is free and cheerfully given to every ailing woman who asks for it.

CHARGES FILED AGAINST GOODNOW

His Integrity Attacked and Complaint Made of Criminal Actions.

COMES HOME TO FACE THEM

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Acting Secretary of State Loomis today cabled John Goodnow, consulate general at Shanghai, that charges against him involving his integrity in the remitting of fees and also a criminal charge that he had tampered with mail for Mr. Curtis, an attorney practicing at Shanghai, would be forwarded to him at Shanghai and he might have the alternate of answering them by correspondence from there or, if he desired it, he would receive permission to come home and meet the accusations before the state department.

There is a very friendly feeling in the department for Mr. Goodnow. His duties as consul general have been performed in manner highly creditable to him and his services during the siege of the legations at Peking in 1900 were of such a distinctly meritorious character that his superiors would be loath to believe that he had gone wrong in any respect.

The main trouble is believed to be trade jealousies at Shanghai growing out of the inability of the consul general to comply with the particular wishes of everybody who seeks favorable action from him.

Mr. Goodnow for several months has desired to come home and defend himself before the department. He was formerly a coal merchant in Minneapolis and was appointed consul at Shanghai through the influence of the late Senator Cushman K. Davis. He is now befriended by Senator Nelson and other leading Minnesota politicians. Social difficulties, in a measure, have complicated the situation at Shanghai for Mr. Goodnow, but thus far nothing as to his phase of the affair has become a part of the charges before the state department.

WILL SHOOT FOR CASH.

Team Race Arranged and Trap Experts Will Have Fine Sport.

One of the most interesting shooting matches ever made in this section of the country was arranged last night at Oak Station on the Castle Shannon railroad. L. B. Fleming of Pittsburgh and William Hoffman of Carrick posted forfeits to bind a five or six-man team for a purse of $120. Each contestant will shoot at 100 blue rocks, making a total of 1,200 shots for the two teams. Two races will be shot and a third one also, if necessary to decide the winning team. The first match will be shot on Wednesday, October 5, on the grounds of the Herron Hill Gun club at Davis island, and the second will be contested at Oak station. Both teams are confident of victory and it is expected that considerable money will change hands on the result.

EASTERN UNIVERSITIES.

Yale.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—The general return of students to college today gave Captain Hogan four elevens to put at work on Yale field in two successive practice games. No new men of especial promise were found, but several valuable substitutes are in sight in the squad. The faculty today notified Owsley, halfback; Cartwright, Kinney and Tripp, guards, that they have successfully passed off scholarship conditions and are once more eligible to try for the team. Donald McKay, varsity pitcher, came out as a candidate for guard or center this afternoon.

Princeton.

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—By reason of yesterday's lesson in the Dickinson game, the Tigers trotted out for practice this afternoon a bunch of sadder and wiser men. They were put through a practice of an hour and a half, in which every effort was made to rectify yesterday's mistakes. More attention than usual was given to punting and catching. The punting steadily improves, but the catching seemed to have taken a day off. A monotony of fumbles distinguished this part of the work.

Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—Yesterday's first game of the season stiffened up most of the Cornell players, so only light work was given them today by Coach Warner. The game with Rochester on Saturday will receive very little attention since an easy contest is expected; no attempt will be made to run up a score.

St. Paul Gets the Pennant.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—At a special meeting here today of the magnates of the American Baseball association the pennant for 1904 was officially awarded to the St. Paul club. President Grillo, who presided at the meeting, said that the season just closed was the most prosperous in the history of the association. The annual meeting of the association will be held at Chicago December 28.

Homestead Twice Beats P. A. C.

Homestead won two games from P. A. C. yesterday at Homestead, 5 to 2 and 2 to 1. Mullin and Bill Smith were the opposing pitchers in the first game, and Pollard for Homestead and Milhorn for P. A. C. in the second. The hitting of Walter Orbin and Jimmy Harkins of P. A. C. were features of the afternoon. "Lefty" Jackson made one sensational catch in left field for P. A. C. in the first game.

Butler Was Easy for O'Brien.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—(Special.)—Jack O'Brien made short work of Joe Butler in the windup at the Broadway Athletic club tonight. Butler lasted one minute and 54 seconds, a hard right punch on the jaw sending him to the floor in a heap.

Port Vue Tin Works Gets Orders.

Orders for 67,000 boxes of tin plate have been taken by the McKeesport Tin Plate Company within the past week or two. The company claims that one order for 22,000 boxes was obtained from a concern which until recently has dealt with the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company. The McKeesport concern met the rebate which the American company is said to pay. This is 5 cents a box, so that the price realized is $3 25.

TWO TICKETS IN SMALL DELAWARE

Addicks and Dupont Factions Both Put Up Candidates for Governor.

WOULD NOT COMPROMISE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILMINGTON, DEL., Sept. 29.—Union (Addicks) and Regular (Dupont) Republicans, after a seven-hours' conference here today, failed to get together on a united state ticket and one of the Union leaders said that all negotiations "are off."

Each faction of the party has nominated a full state ticket, but with one set of presidential electors, and the national committee has been exerting pressure to get the factions together. Recently the Dupont men submitted a proposal to the Addicks faction to remove their own (Dupont) ticket and submit five names to the Unions, who could take any one of them as the candidate for governor and thus have a single ticket. The two committees met today to consider the plan.

The regulars submitted the names of W. W. Lobdell, Dr. Joseph H. Chandler, Henry Clever, Daniel W. Corbit, Theodore F. Clark, Merritt N. Willits, Otto Nowland and Preston Lea. Promptly the Addicks committee declined the offer and announced that they would withdraw their own ticket and submitted the following names, declaring the regulars could take any one of them: Abram E. Franz, Henry C. Conrad, George W. Marshall, Isaac T. Parker, Daniel J. Layton, George H. Murray and Hiram R. Burton. This offer was rejected by the regulars.

Then the Addicks people offered to go into common primaries throughout the state and let the voters decide who should be the nominee. The regulars declared it would be against the election laws to hold such a primary and that it also was impracticable and would open the factional wounds again. The conferences adjourned with the situation "up in the air." The regulars had intimations that the national leaders were bringing pressure to bear on the Addicks men to give in and this stiffened them to hold out for their choice for governor.

SCANDAL IN GERMAN ARMY.

Nearly All Officers of One Regiment May Be Discharged—Had All-Night Orgies.

BERLIN, Sept. 29.—(Special Cable.)—Another scandal in which many army officers are said to be implicated has come to light at Dantzig, where two high officers have been arrested for enticing young girls into the army barracks. The sound of revelries every night disturbed the sleep of the citizens until they complained to the commander-in-chief of the garrison. He investigated and discovered that a number of young daughters of the most prominent families in the city were in the habit of spending the evenings in these nightly orgies.

None of the girls is over 16. It is thought it will result in the discharge from the army of nearly all the officers of one regiment.

Window Glass Cutters Have a Union.

The window glass labor situation has been still more complicated by the withdrawal of the cutters from the other organizations and the formation of an independent union of their own with A. Lowe of Hartford City, Ind., as president. L. A. 300 officials say that the cutters working in factories manned by that union will have to remain members of it if they propose to continue working there.

NEWS OF NEARBY TOWNS AND COUNTRY

TOOK ONE MINUTE TO EXECUTE PRINKKI

Murderer of William C. Kelsey Pays Penalty on Scaffold—Body Goes to Anatomists.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., Sept. 29.—In less than a minute after Jacob Prinkki the Finlander, had entered the death chamber in the jail this morning, he had been hanged for the murder of William C. Kelsey, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad operator at East Charleroi, November 17, 1903. At 10:08 the march to the gallows was begun, at 10:09 the trap was sprung, and at 10:18 Prinkki was declared dead.

Sheriff John H. Trescher had feared that Prinkki would refuse to walk to the scaffold, and a stretcher had been rigged up. When the jailers went to Prinkki's cell to take him to the death chamber, he had to be half-dragged. Later, he refused to put on the new clothes provided for the execution.

The Rev. T. Rasanen of the Finnish Lutheran church, Monessen; and the Rev. N. P. Anseen of the Swedish Lutheran church, were with Prinkki until the execution. He refused to repent, declaring he was drunk when he committed the crime, and that he would go to the gallows as he lived—an infidel.

The body was sent to the anatomical society, Philadelphia. The county will receive $3 for it.

NEW TROLLEY LINE GETS RIGHTS OF WAY

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—All the rights of way have been closed up for the trolley line between this place and Library, which will be built by William Flinn of Pittsburgh and other capitalists. Fatally Burned by Brother.

NEW CASTLE, Sept. 29.—(Special.)—Through a prank of her brother, little 3-year-old Mary Jamison, daughter of William Jamison, of this city, is fatally burned. The boy tossed a lighted match into her lap.

HAD TO FINISH SPEECH ON COURT HOUSE STEPS

Republican Rally at Clarkstown, W. Va., Was Too Large to Be Held Indoors.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., Sept. 29.—Secretary of State William M. O. Dawson, the Republican candidate for governor, and United States Senator Stephen B. Elkins were the principal speakers at a big Republican rally commenced in the courthouse here tonight. The attendance was so large that it became necessary to adjourn the meeting to the front of the building, and the speakers concluded from the front steps of the courthouse.

Senator Elkins spoke chiefly on the money question and the tariff. He did not mention a word about his father-in-law, Henry Gassaway Davis, the Democratic candidate for the vice presidency. Mr. Dawson dwelt upon state issues mostly, and explained the tax reform bills passed at the recent special session of the legislature.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—Neil J. Fortney announced today that he would run for judge of the circuit court in the adjoining circuit in opposition to Judge John H. Holt, who defeated him for the Republican nomination. Mr. Fortney will have the indorsement of the district.

FREE METHODISTS ARE IN ANNUAL CONFERENCE

OIL CITY—An epidemic of typhoid fever has broken out at Cherry Tree, a small settlement north of here. A number of patients have been brought to the Oil City and Franklin hospitals.

MEADVILLE—The boilermakers at the Erie shops, numbering 22, have quit work. The strike was occasioned by the discharge of three union men.

GREENVILLE—Paul Gregory, aged 13 years, son of ex-Chief of Police Alonzo Gregory, fell beneath a Bessemer & Lake Erie freight and had both legs cut off.

CUMBERLAND, MD.—The Rev. R. Johnson Campbell, who recently left the Methodist church at Hagerstown to enter the Episcopal ministry, has been appointed rector of the Holy Cross Episcopal church of South Cumberland.

ERIE—Thieves have robbed the store and postoffice at Cranesville, near here, of $40 in stamps and money. They stopped to take lunch and smoke before leaving the place.

London Chooses New Lord Mayor.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Alderman John Pound, chairman of the London General Omnibus Company, Limited, was today chosen lord mayor of London for the ensuing year. He was born in Leadenhall street, city, in 1829.

CORONER'S JOB IS A PUBLIC STEAL

This is the Opinion Expressed at the County Commissioners' Convention.

DEATH PENALTY FOR ASSAULT

SCRANTON, PA., Sept. 29.—The state convention of county commissioners today condemned many features of law governing Pennsylvania counties. Coroners were vigorously sat upon as useless, the general expression of the delegates classing them as robbers.

The question was started by Solicitor Lott of Susquehanna county, and the convention was unanimous in its berating of the coroner's office as a public steal. Commissioner Leighton of Montour, said that county had solved the matter by not electing a coroner in 25 years, and anyone now running for the office would be killed.

The system of assessing property was also denounced. Hon. Charles A. Snyder of Schuylkill, starting the subject, declared the whole system in the state a farce that wasted thousands of dollars of public money. He said there was no need of triennial assessments in country districts where values vary little. He suggested as a remedy a law that every property owner be compelled to make sworn return to the county commissioners of the value of the land, failure to do so to be punishable by fines and imprisonment.

The registration of school children as carried on was declared a gross outrage by Commissioner Atherton of Franklin county, and a score of others discussed the question in like manner. It was decided it was wrong for the county to pay this cost, that it properly belonged to the school district, and the legislative committee was directed to have a legislative amendment enacted.

Solicitor Hangood of Fayette county, advocated the death penalty for criminal assault, and a resolution was adopted expressing the convention in favor of such punishment. Erie was chosen for the next convention, the time to be fixed by the executive committee.

TRIES TO KILL HIMSELF THOUGH HANDCUFFED

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29.—Joseph H. Edwards of New Orleans, who was brought from Denver to face charges of embezzling, attempted to commit suicide after leaving Denver. Though handcuffed he managed to break up a hand mirror and swallow some of the glass, and when discovered was eating the sulphur end of matches. He was out of danger when St. Louis was reached.

GIVES $20,000 TO HOME FOR DRUNKARDS' WIVES

Baltimore & Ohio Has Bought Out Mentor Marsh to Stop Harbor Project

Mentor Marsh, near Painesville, O., the site expected to be used in developing the next Lake Erie harbor, has passed into the control of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. The entire stretch of land along this marsh, which has been under option to the Cleveland, Youngstown & Pittsburgh railroad, has been purchased by the Baltimore & Ohio for the purpose of shutting out competition with that railroad's present harbor at Fairport, only a few miles away. Whether the harbor possibilities at the west end of the marsh will ever be developed is now doubtful.

It is claimed that the purchase on the part of the Baltimore & Ohio was in the nature of a freeze-out, the victims being a number of Pittsburghers who were backing the projected Cleveland, Youngstown & Pittsburgh road. Among those mentioned in this connection are several who were active in the Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad and Coal Company prior to its recent sale to the Wabash interests. The route of the railroad from the lake was through the Chagrin valley by way of Aurora to Youngstown. The Lake Shore, Pennsylvania and Erie are all said to have been as much interested as the Baltimore & Ohio in securing the harbor site from the possibility of outside development.

Not until just lately, however, have the owners of land on which J. C. Campbell took options for the C., Y. & P., and the renters of land bought by Mr. Campbell for this railway, been informed that hereafter they will deal with the Baltimore & Ohio system. This strip of land owned by the B. & O. embraces most all of the western part of the marsh and extends up to the lake at the west mouth of the old river bed, excepting a strip 10 or 12 feet wide along the beach that is owned by Peter Hitchcock. With the acquisition of the land on the west side of the river at Fairport in the hands of the Lake Shore, and the land on the east side in the control of the B. & O., the development of this harbor and the marsh is absolutely at the will and option of these two railways and dependent upon the needs of these two railways for enlargement of harbor facilities.

Changes On the Erie.

Important changes are about to be announced on the Erie. A. M. Mozier, superintendent of transportation, will resign, it is said, and will be succeeded by C. C. Riley, superintendent of car service. George W. Kirtly will be transferred to New York as assistant superintendent of transportation. Mr. Mozier's health is poor and it has been his purpose to retire. He will go to the Bermudas. E. C. Allen, trainmaster of the Meadville division, is to be transferred to Cincinnati as assistant superintendent. W. E. Talcott has been promoted from land and tax agent to real estate agent of the company, with headquarters at New York. H. W. Andrus will have charge of the claim department.

Handsome New Cars for the W. & L. E.

E. B. Coolidge, general freight and passenger agent of the Wheeling & Lake Erie, the Ohio line of the Wabash system, announces that on Monday next there will be introduced into the Wheeling-Cleveland service some of the handsomest dining and buffet parlor cars in the country. The initial run from Cleveland will start with a number of officials and others interested on board. The cars are brand new and contain all the luxuries of appointment and equipment that modern passenger service has developed.

B. & O.'s Freight Officers to Meet Here.

The principal representatives of the freight department of the Baltimore & Ohio system will meet in Pittsburgh during the week of October 17 for the second semi-annual convention. The general and division freight agents and the commercial agents, numbering in all about 50 men, will be in attendance. After two days of conference the whole party will go to St. Louis, where a banquet will be given. The meetings will be held at the Schenley.

Offices Will Be Consolidated.

The Pittsburgh offices of the Pere Marquette railroad and the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railway will be consolidated, taking effect tomorrow with F. A. Butterworth in charge as commercial agent. J. F. Nelson will remain as contracting agent. The two railroads have recently been brought under one management.

Auditor Dowland Resigns.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 29.—James H. Dowland, auditor of the Wheeling & Lake Erie Railway Company, has resigned to take effect September 30. His successor will be his chief clerk, W. M. Bonar of Cleveland.

Railroad Notes.

Scullys and Wagners, on the Pittsburgh, Chartiers and Youghiogheny, will be discontinued as freight and passenger stations on and after October 1.

C. F. Richardson, who has resigned as road foreman of engines of the Baltimore & Ohio at Lorain, will become general superintendent of equipment of the 'Frisco system, with headquarters at St. Louis.

A. J. Grant, superintendent of the Pullman Company at Chicago, has been transferred to New York. W. H. Waite, superintendent at Cleveland, takes the Chicago position, and J. E. Hill will go to Cleveland.

R. H. Stansell, the new traveling passenger agent of the Seaboard Air line at Pittsburgh, arrived here yesterday to assume his duties. He succeeds J. J. Fuller, who has been promoted to district passenger agent with headquarters at Philadelphia.

"The talk of a financial contingency on the Rock Island is rot," said President L. F. Loree. "We have today more than $8,000,000 to our credit in banks. The policy of economy was caused by the lightness of the wheat shipments and the fact that corn shipments have not yet started."

F. H. Tristram, assistant general passenger agent of the Wabash, Pittsburgh, has received word that the new "Banner Limited" of the Wabash, running on a seven-hour schedule from St. Louis to Chicago, has been making all its trips on time. The train is the first to be operated on that schedule.

The report is prevalent that the New York, Ontario & Western, an independent anthracite railroad, is to be taken over entirely by the New York Central, through the territory of which the Ontario runs. The Canadian Pacific has long been suspected of looking to the Ontario as a route to New York.

SHE WANTED TO ACT.

But She Played Leading Lady in a Thrilling Bit of Melodrama.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—(Special.)—Mrs. Albert Rihl of Philadelphia, caused the arrest today of two young men after she had told a remarkable story of being lured here and robbed of jewelry valued at $1,500 while riding in Central park. Mrs. Rihl declares that the theft occurred in a cab and that the robber escaped after being shot at by a policeman.

Because of the young woman's story a man who said he was Charles D. Castleman of Newark, was arrested this afternoon outside of a Sixth avenue pawnshop from which some of the stolen jewelry had been recovered. Castleman defiantly said, when asked his occupation, "gambler."

Mrs. Rihl said she was introduced to a young man in Philadelphia last week whose name was given as "C. D. Hollis." Castleman was accompanied to the pawnshop by Victor Anderson of New York. He, too, was arrested.

Mrs. Rihl says that she came to this city with "Hollis" with her husband's consent, as they understood that the young man had great influence with theatrical managers. While driving through the park to a restaurant to keep an appointment with Henry W. Savage, as Hollis alleged, she was robbed.

MISSIONARIES ARRANGE TO GO BACK TO CHINA

The Rev. William P. Bentley, a well-known missionary of the Christian church, who has been spending his furlough of 10 months in Braddock with relatives and at his former home in Ohio, will leave with his wife and three children for the Shanghai district in China on Monday. The party will sail from New York on October 8, going by way of the Mediterranean sea and the Suez canal. They expect to reach Shanghai about the middle of December. Mr. Bentley goes back to superintend the erection of a $50,000 university.

HIGHLANDERS AGAIN LEAD THE AMERICAN LEAGUE

TOO MUCH RAIN FOR BALL GAME

PIRATES ARE IN BAD SHAPE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—The Pittsburgh club players welcomed the downpour of rain this afternoon with relief. The respite from the strain will be welcome to the patched up team and will help the cripples and heal their cuts and bruises. The men are not downcast over the unexpected defeats of the last two days at the hands of the Bostons.

A double-header will be played tomorrow and the local forecaster says the weather will probably be fine. As the Boston Americans are in the west, and as it will be "ladies' day," a big crowd is assured. Both Captains Clarke and Tenney are resolved to capture two games.

The Boston players treat the announcement made by Manager Selee that the Cubs would play a post-season series with the Bostons as a joke. "Either New York or Pittsburgh for us if we win the pennant," is their cry.

Phelps is suffering from a bad finger from a foul tip, which caught the nail and nearly tore it off. It's on his throwing hand, too, and the injury greatly hinders his effective throwing to bases. "Tommy" Leach is apparently gone stale. He acts as differently as possible, both at the bat and in the field, as on previous trips of the team to this city.

Each Team Won a Game.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—Cincinnati and Philadelphia each won and lost a game today. The locals outbatted the visitors in both games, Sparks in the second allowing but two hits. One of these, together with errors, gave Cincinnati the game. Attendance, 1,450. Score:

WARM WEATHER HINDERS FAST FOOTBALL WORK

Coaches Suspend Scrimmage Because of Heat—Sorrow at Allegheny College.

The warm weather of yesterday was not conducive for hard football work. The heat was the cause of the coaches suspending scrimmages and signal practice was the order on the local practice fields.

Shadyside Academy.

There was no scrimmage practice, but Harry Patterson, quarterback, chased the team up and down the field at a lively gait, going through the signals. The second team also was sent through the signals. The line-up for the opening game Saturday with W. & J. academy will be determined upon this afternoon by Captain Williams.

W. U. P.

Coach Mosse had two lines working yesterday and the back field candidates were allowed to take it easy. The line men were given little rest, however. Mosse paid particular attention to the starting and then drilled the men on falling on the ball. He will pick the team that will line up against Grove City at the conclusion of today's practice.

Allegheny Prep. School.

The Prep. candidates are practicing every afternoon under Coach Snitjer at the Millvale park. The first game will be played Tuesday afternoon on the home field with the Sewickley High school.

Kiskiminitas.

Captain Gordon, at the conclusion of yesterday's practice, announced the candidates who would be taken to the training table, which started last night. Those chosen are: Urling, McCreight, McGregor, "Boog" Cunningham, Wagner, F. Caughey, H. Caughey, Ed. Corbett, J. Corbett, Hall, Kumler, Hacha, Davies, Parker, Bell, Hayward, Bakewell, Pfeifer. Seanor is at his home at Indiana, still sick. On account of the heat there was but ten minutes of scrimmage practice yesterday. Cole of last year's Bates college (Me.) eleven, is assisting in the coaching.

Pittsburgh High School.

The High school squad did some hard work in preparation for the practice game this afternoon with the Oakland A. C. Coach Hough will try out nearly the entire squad in the game today.

Pittsburgh College.

The work of the sophomores yesterday consisted mostly in running through the signals and in trying goals, punts and drop kicks. In spite of the high winds, Keating showed up finely.

Leechburg.

LEECHBURG, Sept. 29.—(Special.)—The Leechburg High school team was out today for its first practice under Dr. Van Dorn, coach, who worked the boys on signals and interference. The captain, Dan Elliott, would like to hear from such teams as Natrona, Tarentum and Kittanning.

Allegheny College.

MEADVILLE, PA., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—The Allegheny squad is hard at work this week for Saturday's game with State college. This is one of the hardest games that will be played this year and the outlook for Allegheny is poor, as some of the best men are out of the game. Shields, guard, has a bad knee, and Thompson will not be able to play, leaving a hole at fullback. Russell, the left half, is in poor condition. Both Fisher and Van Dervoort are out of the game. Comfort is handicapped by injuries received early in the season. However, the team is working better this week than ever before.

Grove City.

GROVE CITY, PA., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—The Grove City college team has seven old players as a nucleus for this fall. New men with good records on other teams are trying for positions. Welty, who comes from W. & J., promises to make fullback. There is an abundance of candidates and Coach Marshall has a hard task in choosing the best and the selection of the team which will line up against W. U. P. on Saturday will probably not be made until Friday.

W. & J.

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 29.—The W. and J. team is fast rounding into shape for Marietta next Saturday. Six new men are on the team, the old members being Gibson, Sutter, Hart and Tanner. Many new men are being tried out and the team that will line up against the Buckeye boys is yet in doubt.

Jack McClelland in Demand.

Jack McClelland is in great demand in St. Louis at present. Jimmy Mason received a letter yesterday from John L. Sullivan wanting Jack to fight Benny Yanger on Monday, October 10, at a new club just opened by Sullivan and a well-known St. Louis sporting man. They have secured the Jai Ali building, a place that cost over $200,000 to erect, but it has not paid with the Spanish game and they have turned it into a fighting club and want McClelland to open it with Yanger.

The offer had to be refused as McClelland is matched with Stroup to take place on Monday, October 10, and he wants to be in first-class shape for the battle.

THE INDEPENDENT PLAYERS.

The indication is that every youngster that follows the fortunes of the young baseball teams will be at Friendship park to see Hickory and Cabinets play for the 18-year-old championship.

Frank Eastley will pitch for Homestead L. A. C. against the Homestead Independents this afternoon. The proceeds will go to Bob Osborne, a former ball player. Eastley was to have pitched yesterday, but Manager Risher saved him for today. Millvale plays a double-header tomorrow at Homestead.

John Morrissey's all-star aggregation of Sharpsburg will play the Lawrenceville All-Stars today on the Park View grounds. Hays, Tibby, Alperman, Donahue, Fitzsimmons, Johnie Welsh, Pick, Swift, Flinn, Schlarp, Ashenbaugh and Clouse Fisher will report on the Park View grounds at 2:30 sharp.

AUTO SPEEDERS READY TO RACE

Barney Oldfield in the City and Other Drivers on Hand for the Events.

LOCAL MEN WILL CONTEST

Barney Oldfield and his racing machines arrived in Pittsburgh last evening for the races today and tomorrow at Brunots Island track. The races today will open that line of sport in this city, and many of the leading drivers of national reputation are here to participate in the different events. Among the other well-known drivers besides Oldfield are William Soles, Webb Jay and E. H. Beldin, not to mention G. E. Turner, William Murray, Ed. Kent, George Flinn, A. L. Banker and other local men who drive their own cars at a speed that will keep Oldfield and others hustling to win.

One of the chief events today is the 10-mile open handicap, in whiche there are 20 entries, taking in the cream of the drivers of the country, together with the fastest racing machines in the business. This event will have to be run in three heats and a final, and the latter should be a corker, as it will bring together the heat winners.

Another star attraction is the five-mile race to establish a record. Barney Oldfield, E. H. Beldin and G. E. Turner will come together in this event. It is for 80 horsepower machines.

W. C. Temple, former president of the Pittsburgh Automobile club, has sent to Buffalo for a famous driver. If he does not arrive George H. Farrier will drive Mr. Temple's car. O. Brackney, a local driver, will race in Mr. Lovejoy's machines entered in the different events. The races will be called at 3 o'clock sharp.

The list of events today follows: No. 1, 2-mile race for automobiles up to 9 h. p. inclusive (with road equipment, no passengers); No. 2, 5-mile race for automibiles up to 35 h. p. inclusive (with road equipment, no passengers); No. 3, 5-mile race for automobiles up to 16 h. p. inclusive (with road equipment, no passengers); No. 4, 10-mile race for stock touring cars up to 35 h. p. inclusive (with road equipment, no passengers); No. 5, 5-mile open, no restrictions; No. 6, 10-mile handicap, open; No. 8, record trials for racing machines.

CAMNITZ FAILS TO FOOL.

McKeesport Sends Big League Pitcher to Bench—Bridgeville Loses.

McKeesport defeated Bridgeville yesterday at Steel Works park, McKeesport, 5 to 1 in the fifth and deciding game of the series. Camnitz of Pittsburgh again was on the rubber for Bridgeville. He remained there for seven innings, when Gapen relieved him. Gapen did not give any hits. Billy Campbell of the Louisville team pitched fine ball for the home team. Camnitz had trouble in the first and sixth rounds. "Hump" Soffel started his trouble by lacing the ball on the nose for three bases. A running catch by A. Sellars off Alperman's bat and doubling Eriser at second was a fielding feature. Brown and English carried off the batting honors. The score:

WIND WAS TOO STRONG FOR MAJOR DELMAR'S TRY

Will Attempt to Break Record Today. Redbird's Poor Showing Was Big Surprise.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 29.—The largest crowd of the meeting attended the grand circuit racing at Oakley park here today. Major Delmar was carded to go against the world's trotting record of 2:02¼, but did not make the attempt on account of a strong wind. Major Delmar and Prince Alert will try for records tomorrow, the latter to beat the world's pacing record of 1:59¼.

The surprise of the day was in the 2:07 class, in which Redbird, a hot favorite, was distanced after winning two heats and finishing a close second in another. In the first heat, Pauline G came with a rush at the end and won the heat by a nose from Redbird. Redbird won the second and third heats handily. In the fourth heat, Redbird broke at the first quarter and before Walker could get him going right, the entire field has passed him. Summaries:

CITIZENS WILL FIGHT M'ILVAIN

Legal Battle Promised If Allegheny Councils Authorize Relocation of Sidewalks.

PROPERTY OWNERS' PLAIN TALK

The determination of Director McIlvain of the Allegheny department of public works to cut from four to six feet from the sidewalks at the four corners of Sandusky and Ohio streets will result in legal proceedings if councils act favorably on an ordinance providing for this change. The measure was introduced by McIlvain's orders and was negatively reported by the committee on public works last week. This action was not concurred in Wednesday by select council, which ordered the bill printed for the use of councils. It will be brought into common council tonight, and Director McIlvain is confident he has the votes to pass it.

If the change is ordered the property owners on the four corners will go into court and ask for an injunction restraining the city from doing the work. Bernard White, W. W. Davis, G. D. Simen and J. J. Anthony, whose properties occupy the four corner lots, decided yesterday that if councils authorized the change they would ask the courts to prevent it.

According to Director McIlvain, the Pittsburgh Railways Company, and not the city, wants the corners rounded. They would have the curb set at a radius of 17 feet. This would take from the property owners between four and six feet of the ground, and no provision is made for damages. W. W. Davis said yesterday:

Property Owners Are Indignant.

"More than a month ago a gang of men started to work in front of my store. I inquired the nature of their business and was told that they had orders from Director McIlvain to change the location of a sewer drop prior to cutting several feet from the corner. A gang on Mr. Anthony's corner was replacing a waterplug to get it back on the curb line after the proposed cut had been made. I called Director McIlvain on the telephone and informed him that those who owned property on these corners would hold him responsible for all damages caused by his change. His men stopped work and a few days later he came to see me. He informed me that the Pittsburgh Railways Company wanted the corners rounded so that there would be room for wagons to pass between the car tracks and the curb. I asked him if he was working for the Pittsburgh Railways Company.

"'No, not exactly that; but it will be to the benefit of the city if this change is made here,' he said.

"I wanted to know if he had considered the interests of the property owners, those most affected by his scheme, but I got no satisfactory reply. He refused to tell me why the Pittsburgh Railways Company wished to take our property, but left my store declaring the change would be made despite our protests. Isn't it a pretty spectacle to see a public official openly working for a big corporation against the welfare of the tax-paying citizens?"

Legal Battle Is Promised.

Bernard White, the furniture dealer, said:

"Director McIlvain has some secret motive for wishing to please the Pittsburgh Railways Company by taking our property from us. He came here some time ago and wanted to show me his plans. I refused to look at them and informed him that I would not tolerate, without a legal battle, the taking away of six feet of my property just to please a street car company. Would any man owning property stand idly aside and see six feet of his property stolen from him without his consent even being asked? This scheme of McIlvain's is a downright steal, and he will find he has a pretty fight on his hands if he manages to get the ordinance passed in councils. But I don't think he has the votes. We feel confident of the defeat of the measure."

G. D. Simen and J. J. Anthony, the other property owners, had the same story to tell and declared that they would fight the case into the supreme court if necessary before they would submit to what they assert is a steal.

Some time ago Director McIlvain rounded the southeastern and northeastern corners of Federal street. It is city property and there was no fight. Since then he has decided that the same plan would operate well at Sandusky and Ohio streets. He has nothing to say about the attempt he made in August to chop the corners of these thoroughfares without any permission from councils.

FAVORS CHURCH UNION.

But Blairsville Presbytery Puts Over Discussion of Matter Until December.

GREENSBURG, Sept. 29.—(Special.)—At the closing session of the fall meeting of the Blairsville presbytery at Barnesboro, the Rev. F. G. Schlotter accepted a call to the pastorate of the Poke Run church. He will be installed Sunday, November 11. The installation of the Rev. J. C. McCracken as pastor of the Pine Run charge is set for October 14.

The proposed union of the Presbyterian and Cumberland Presbyterian churches was postponed until the December meeting.

As delegates to the meeting of the synod at Oxford, Pa., in October, the following ministerial commissioners were elected: The Revs. J. C. McCracken, Edwin S. Wallace, C. C. Hays, D. D., P. S. Kohler and Samuel Martin. The lay commissioners are R. M. H. Anulty, M. Burkholder, V. Barker, S. D. Hamilton and S. H. Anderson.

TO COMMEMORATE TRIP.

Sub-Committee Appointed to Select Tablet for Wabash Station.

At a meeting yesterday afternoon of the Wabash testimonial committee held in the office of Sheriff J. W. Dickson, the preliminary steps were taken toward selecting a tablet to be placed in the new station at Liberty avenue and Ferry street. The committee was organized among the guests of the railroad who made the memorable trip to St. Louis last July upon the formal opening of the line into its Pittsburgh terminal. The tablet will be a tribute to the officers of the Wabash who acted as the hosts on that merry occasion.

The following sub-committee was appointed to select the tablet and to direct its erection: V. W. Stoner, Austin Beach, John F. Semmelrock, J. S. Whiteman and Charles Davis. A meeting of this committee will be called probably next week to take up its work.

DINNER FOR COL. THOMPSON BY STAFF OFFICERS

A dinner will be given by the staff officers of the Fourteenth regiment to Col. W. E. Thompson at the Hotel Henry tomorrow night in ratifying his re-election as commander of the regiment. Gen. John A. Wiley, commander of the Second brigade, will be the guest of honor, with several officers from other national guard organizations. Adjt.-Gen. Thomas J. Stewart is expected from Harrisburg today on official business, and an effort will be made to have him prolong his stay for the dinner.

Less Legacies for Missions.

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—An increase in the amounts of gifts from individuals and churches, but a marked falling off in legacies, is shown by the financial report of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, made public today, in anticipation of the ninety-fifth annual meeting at Grinnell, Ia., October 11 to 13. The total receipts were $703,601.

SOCIETY

THE bridal party which will be in attendance at the wedding of Miss Alice Howe Brown, second daughter of Congressman and Mrs. James Brown, and Samuel Clarke Reed has been enlarged by the addition of seven ushers. They are William A. Dusenbury of Olean, N. Y.; Edwin K. Large of Flemington, N. J.; H. J. Fisher of Moss Point, Miss., and Charles Marshall Brown, brother of the bride; H. Hughart Laughlin, William E. Schroyer and John McKenna Reed, a brother of the bridegroom, all of this city. In addition to the ushers the attendants will include Miss Florence Howe Brown, the bride's sister, as maid of honor, and William McKenna Reed, the best man, a brother of the bridegroom. The Rev. Dr. James H. McIlvaine, rector of Calvary Protestant Episcopal church, will solemnize the marriage at the home of the bride's parents in Woodland road. Four o'clock is the hour set for the ceremony tomorrow afternoon.

The out-of-town ushers will arrive in the city this morning and will be entertained over the wedding by Mr. Reed at his home in Woodmont avenue, Squirrel hill. The rehearsal for the wedding will take place this evening and will be followed by an informal supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Brown. After their wedding trip Mr. Reed and his bride will make their home with the latter's parents for the winter.

Miss Alice Brown is a granddaughter of the late Thomas M. Howe, and is a cousin of Miss Bessie Howe, whose engagement to Count Coni of Rome, was recently announced.

Former Allegheny Man to Wed.

A party of Pittsburgh and Allegheny people left last evening for Chicago, where the wedding of Miss Jesse Sill Mandel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Mandel, and William Espy Duff, formerly of Allegheny, will take place tomorrow. The party leaving last night included T. Chalmers Duff, a brother of the bridegroom, who will serve as best man, Miss Olive Duff, Mrs. Annie E. Duff and the three ushers from this city, J. Klaus Steiner, John A. Metz and J. Smith Christy. The bridal party will also include the matron of honor, Mrs. Frank Maeder, a sister of the bride, and three Chicago ushers, H. G. Sommerman, Oscar Hayward and Frank Maeder. Mr. Mandel will give his daughter away and the marriage will be solemnized in the First Congregational church of Chicago by the pastor.

The prospective bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Annie E. Duff of Washington avenue, Allegheny, and of the late Rev. David A. Duff, a prominent United Presbyterian minister of this city. He is a grandson of Col. William Espy of Pittsburgh, and is now in the advertising business with H. G. Sommerman in Chicago. His fiancee has visited in Pittsburgh with Mr. Duff's relatives and also with her relatives, the Fosters of Steubenville, O., of Carnegie, and of Bridgeville. She is popular in church and society circles in her home city.

On Saturday, the wedding day, Mr. and Mrs. Mandel will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of their own wedding. Mrs. Mandel was Miss Jennie Foster of Steubenville before her marriage.

Mr. Duff will give his bachelor dinner at noon today in the Chicago Athletic club and this evening Mr. and Mrs. Mandel will entertain with the rehearsal dinner. The bride and bridegroom will not come to Pittsburgh on their wedding journey, but will visit in the city later in the fall. They will live in Sheridan Park, Chicago.

Marshall-Armor.

Exceedingly dainty was the wedding last evening of Miss Vardy Hemingway Marshall and Dr. Russell Bigler Armor, which took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Vardy Marshall, in St. James street, Shadyside. Mrs. Harrison Stackpole of St. Marys, Pa., a school friend of the bride, was matron of honor, and Miss Margaret Miller Marshall and Miss Elizabeth Marshall, the sisters of the bride, were her maids. Berford Brittain served as best man. The Rev. William L. McEwan, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony at 7:30 o'clock, Mr. Marshall giving his daughter away.

She wore a princess gown of white chiffon cloth beautifully trimmed with rich lace. The short full sleeves were finished with a soft fall of lace. Her veil, which has been worn before by brides in her family, was fastened with a cluster of orange blossoms, and her only ornament was a string of pearls. The bridal bouquet was composed of white roses tied with white chiffon. Mrs. Stackpole wore a gown of white chiffon. She carried pink roses, the same flowers carried by the two maids, who wore evening gowns of white net finished with white satin girdles and prettily draped with lace. The girdles were fastened with buckles of brilliants, and two ruffles of lace edged the short puffed sleeves.

White asters were used to decorate the drawing room, where the ceremony took place. Ferns banked the mantel and quantities of palms outlined the rooms. Foliage, just taking on the brilliant autumn tints, was placed in the different rooms and the dining room was finished with pink begonias, ferns and vines.

Dr. and Mrs. Armor will take an eastern wedding trip, which they began last evening after the reception and wedding supper, and on their return will take possession of their new home in Crafton, which has just been completed. At-home days after November 1 have been announced.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Maj. and Mrs. William C. Armor of Harrisburg, parents of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. John Mellick, also of Harrisburg, and Miss Lyda Thompson of Louisville, Ky.

Mrs. Russell Bigler Armor.

Visitors in the City.

Edward Small Robinson, who has been visiting his uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Hanna Small, at their home in North Negley avenue, left last evening for Annapolis, where he will be graduated from the naval academy in January. Dr. and Mrs. Small have also been entertaining Dr. E. E. Montgomery, Dr. F. A. Fisher and Dr. William Tyson, all of Philadelphia, who were in the city to attend the convention of the State Medical society. Dr. and Mrs. Philip A. Marvel of Atlantic City are the house guests of Dr. and Mrs. William S. Foster of Shady avenue.

School Girls' Luncheon.

Miss Catherine Harlow of Beaver street, Sewickley, gave a farewell luncheon yesterday afternoon and will leave next week to enter school at Irvington-on-the-Hudson. The decorations were of red and yellow, fall flowers and leaves being used. Those present included the Misses Nannette Huston, Hayselle Huston, Sarah Chaplin, Rachel McKnight, Constance Alden, Anna B. McCague, Edith Tener, Margaret Campbell, Elizabeth Nevin, Theodora Brown, Frances Whitney, Gladys Lowrie, Margaret Wells and Mary Snyder. The Misses Huston will also leave next week to enter Miss Baldwin's school at Bryn Mawr.

Morris-Wallace Nuptials.

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—Miss Lucy Allena Morris and George P. Wallace were married tonight in the Cumberland Presbyterian church in Coal Center. The bridal party was preceded by Messrs. Hillary Savage, Harry Hite, Fred S. Gleason and Dr. J. L. Crow, ushers. The Rev. J. Reed Morris, Ph. D., father of the bride, performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Lucy E. Rose of Waynesburg, maid of honor. The groom was attended by Reed Morris, a brother of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace will be at home at California after October 15.

Engagement to Be Announced.

An interesting engagement to be formally announced tomorrow is that of Miss Clara Louise Dean, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Dean of "Oak Hill," Emsworth, and Mr. Hood of Seneca Falls, N. Y. The engagement has been an open secret for some time among the most intimate friends of Miss Dean, and during the past few weeks has been freely spoken of. Miss Dean is a sister of Dr. David Ackney Dean, a well-known physician of Emsworth. The wedding will not take place this fall.

Arnold-Chamberlain Wedding.

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—The wedding of Miss Kathryn Arnold and Horace W. Chamberlain was solemnized at the home of the bride at Houston last night in the presence of about 50 guests. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. E. Douglass of East Palestine, O., assisted by the Rev. J. C. Kistler of Houston. Dr. W. A. Upperman of Houston was best man and Miss Alice Dunn of Canonsburg was maid of honor. Other attendants were the Rev. H. M. Griffith and Miss Byrda Hanna.

Glasser-McDonough.

Miss Agnes Catherine Glasser, daughter of the late Phillip Glasser, and Edward B. McDonough, both of Braddock, were married yesterday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Joseph's German Catholic church in that place. The Rev. Father Peter F. May, the pastor, performed the ceremony with nuptial high mass. After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. McDonough left for the east, and later will visit in Ohio. They will live in Braddock.

Double Wedding of Sisters.

GREENSBURG, Sept. 29.—(Special.)—At the home of Mrs. Aaron Good, in Penn township, last evening, a double wedding was solemnized. The brides were the daughters of Mrs. Good. Miss Lillie became the wife of Elmer Harbison and Miss Belle the wife of Harry Kew.

AMONG THE CLUBS

Noted Speakers to Be in Lancaster.

The preliminary details of the program to be presented at the ninth annual meeting of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, which will be held in Lancaster next month, have been sent to the different federated clubs. A number of noted men and women have consented to speak before the federation, which will meet Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, October 18, 19 and 20.

Mrs. Margaret Wade Deland, the well-known author, will be given an evening. This fact is of especial interest to Pittsburgh club women as Mrs. Deland was born nearly 50 years ago in Allegheny, and spent much of her girlhood here, in 1880 going to Boston after her marriage to Leroy F. Deland, also a writer of note. Mrs. Deland was a Miss Campbell and came of an old Scotch family in Western Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Rudolf Blankenburg of Philadelphia, who is the well-known woman suffragist and legal authority, is expected to give some of her personal observations and comments on the recent International Congress of Women which met in Berlin and which she attended. One session of the convention will be devoted to a discussion of child labor and legislative needs in that direction, and among the speakers will be Mrs. Florence Kelly of New York, general factory inspector for the Consumers league, and Thomas J. C. Delaney, the chief factory inspector of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Imogen Oakley of the New Century club of Philadelphia, a former Pittsburgh club woman, has been invited to repeat in Lancaster at the meeting of the State Federation the address which she delivered on "Civil Service Reform" before the General Federation of Women's clubs meeting in St. Louis last May.

Forestry will be discussed, the juvenile courts, and the latest development in juvenile court work and the outgrowth of the need for some place to put the children brought into the court. Among the social affairs planned for the visiting club women in Lancaster are entertainments by the Iris club, of which Miss Grubbs is president, and by the Donegal chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

First Meeting of Columbian Council.

The Columbian Council of Jewish Women held its first meeting this season in the auditorium of the Columbian school in Center avenue yesterday afternoon. It was a very enthusiastic meeting, with almost 200 members in attendance. The membership of the club has made great strides within the last few months, leaping from an enrollment of 213 to the present number, 440.

Delegates were yesterday elected to the state federaton meeting in Lancaster, the delegates being the president, Mrs. Enoch Rauh, and Miss Yetta Baumgarten, with Mrs. Edwin Zugsmith and Mrs. M. Russlander as alternates. Mrs. Hugo Rosenberg was also elected as a delegate to represent the Columbian council at the meeting of the National Council of Jewish Women, which will meet in St. Louis October 27.

The council yesterday, by a rising vote, indorsed the movement which the school teachers of Allegheny county are making for an increase of salary, the motion stating that the movement is a just one and should meet with success. The matter of the Soho public baths was taken up and the club members who may contribute to the fund which is being created for the erection of the baths were requested to make their contributions to Mrs. S. L. Fleishman, who is a member of the council and also of the Soho baths committee. The club made no appropriation at this time.

The chairmen of the committee of the council made their monthly reports, Miss Baumgarten speakng particularly of the work of the juvenile court committee, which is broadening in its extent, during the summer a number of children having been placed in its care. The opening of the classes in the Columbian Council school were announced, the formal commencement of the school's work to take place next Monday.

The next gathering of the council will be on president's day, October 27, in the Bellefield club house in North Craig street.

Opening of New Day Nursery Home.

The opening of the new home of the Allegheny Day Nursery and Temporary home in Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, yesterday was attended with a large and enthusiastic reception. The reception hours were from 2 o'clock in the afternoon until 10 in the evening. In the afternoon an address was given by the Rev. Dr. D. F. McGill, the Rev. Dr. S. B. McCormick, speaking in the evening. Music added to the enjoyment of the guests, who were received by the officers of the board of managers.

The Allegheny Day Nursery was founded on the North Side over 12 years ago by the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Allegheny County. It was first located in a frame building in North avenue, between Federal and Race streets. Later a house was purchased in Race street, but the work of the institution outgrowing its quarters, another house was purchased in Ohio street, near Sherman avenue, where the work still expanded to such a degree that more ample quarters were needed, and last spring the Marshall homestead, 3035 Perrysville avenue, was secured and the children and matrons transferred again. The house-warming was deferred from last spring because of diphtheria, which entered the family of little people. A number of very handsome donations to the furnishing and equipment of the nursery and home were received yesterday.

Old Ladies Hold Annual Reception.

The Home for Aged Protestant Women in Wilkinsburg was gayly decorated with flowers yesterday when the managers held their annual reception. It was the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the home and was attended by hundreds of friends of the institution. The reception committee included the officers of the home, the president, Mrs. Samuel McKee, First Vice President Mrs. Thomas Mellon, Second Vice President Mrs. Jane Gorman, Third Vice President Mrs. S. J. Fisher, Secretary Mrs. Harry W. Bickel and Treasurer Miss Mary Louise Jackson. The fancy and common-sense articles made by the old ladies during the year were placed on tables in the reception and drawing room and soon disposed of. There are 59 inmates in the home and each one yesterday had her room brightened with flowers. Refreshments were served in the dining room, where the one long table was almost covered with ferns, gladolias and other blossoms.

Year Book Ready to Distribute.

The year book of the Southern Women's society is ready for distribution. It is neatly gotten up and presents an attractive program for the coming club year, which will be especially full of interest to women from the south. The opening meeting will be held October 21, the club afterward meeting fortnightly. Before the first regular meeting will occur reunion day, which will be observed in a social manner with music and sketches of the summer wanderings of the club members. Reunion day will be held next Friday afternoon in the Pittsburgh Conservatory of Music, in Dithridge street, where all the meetings of the club this year will be held. At the first regular meeting "The Old Dominion, Virginia," will be the subject, and following it through the year will be taken up studies of other states of the south and the part they have borne in the growth and civilization of the country, prominent southern writers, both men and women, and its great leaders from the time of Washington on to more recent years.

Generous Contributions Made.

The annual meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Pittsburgh conference was held at the Methodist Episcopal church in Aspinwall yesterday. About 400 members were present and they were entertained by the Aspinwall auxiliary, which served lunch to the delegates. During the year $21,000 was contributed toward missionary work. Miss Teresa Eyle, a missionary to India, delivered an address.

Reception to New Officers.

The Ladies' Aid society of the South Side hospital has issued invitations for its annual reception to the new officers, which will be held at the hospital, South Twentieth street, next Tuesday afternoon and evening. It will also be the annual donation day for that institution.

ORK STOCKS REACT, CLOSING SLIGHTLY LOWER

For the First Day This Week Steel Preferred Closed at a Net Loss for the Day—Local Securities Less Active and Heavy.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The New York stock market yesterday was reactionary almost from start to finish. As a rule, opening prices showed advances ranging from ¼ to 1 per cent, but in a majority of cases these prices proved to be the highest for the day. This was the case with U. S. Steel preferred, which opened ⅝ higher at 73, the highest for more than a year, but subsequently sold off to 71⅛, and closed at 71½. This represented a loss of nearly a point for the day, and it was the first day this week that the stock had closed at a decline. The action of the market suggested that the hasty buying of large blocks of the stock just before the close on Wednesday was for the purpose of covering shorts. If this was really the case, an important element of strength was removed from the market. It is known that a large and influential short interest existed in the stock. On several occasions during the upward movement there have been rumors that the shorts were covering, and professional traders were waiting for assurance to this effect to put out fresh lines. There is no way of obtaining legal proof on the point, but it is the general belief that it was the putting out of fresh shorts to an amount practically equal to that covered from day to day which has been responsible for the remarkable rise above 65. The common stock yesterday declined from 18¼ to 17½ and the bonds from 82¾ to 82⅝.

It was probably the heaviness of this acknowledged leader of the market that was responsible for the heaviness of the railroad list during the greater part of the day. The large financial interests were apparently resting from their labors, and the smaller operators took profits. The result was declines ranging from ½ to 1 per cent all through the granger list and in many of the specialties. It was not until late in the afternoon that a rally occurred, and then it did not amount to much, the market, with few exceptions, closing lower for the day.

The strength of the coalers, particularly the high-priced issues, was a feature of the dealings. Delaware, Lackawanna & Western jumped from 285 to 300 and then dropped back to 291 at the close. Delaware & Hudson rose from 167½ to 170 and reacted to 168¼. There was no news to account for these movements. Reading and Baltimore & Ohio were exceptionally strong all day, and were among the few stocks to close at an advance. The buying of Reading was accompanied by the old rumor of a dividend some time this year. Inasmuch as Baltimore & Ohio is a large holder of Reading, a dividend on the latter would mean increased income for the former, but it is doubtful if there is anything more than rumor in the talk of an early dividend on Reading common.

Commodity markets were heavy during the greater part of the day, and cotton closed at practically the lowest prices. Wheat rallied somewhat, but did not hold the gain, and corn also sold off. The export clearances of corn amounted to only 9,800 bushels and of wheat and flour to only 52,600 bushels. Primary receipts of wheat were heavy, footing up 1,200,000 bushels, as compared with 1,018,000 bushels for the corresponding day last year. The primary receipts of corn were only 251,000 bushels, or less than half the total for the corresponding day last year.

Call loan rates remained easy and unchanged at 1½ to 2 per cent, the final loan being quoted at 1¾ per cent. The larger volume of speculation during the week may have some effect in expanding loans and reducing surplus reserves in tomorrow's bank statement; but for the present at least money market probabilities are not a factor in the situation.

The weekly statements of the foreign government banks yesterday were technically unfavorable. The Bank of England reported a decrease in reserve of about $180,000 and an increase in loans of $5,820,000, but the proportion of reserve to liability is still very high, standing at 57.50. The Bank of France reported a decrease of $1,610,000 in gold and an increase in loans of nearly $28,500,000.

There was a very marked falling off in dealings on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday, and with one exception prices either closed lower or unchanged for the day. Pittsburgh Coal common sold at 13¼, a decline, but the preferred was strong all day and advanced to 61¾, closing firm at the top. There was no news to account for this strength, and it may have been in sympathy with the upward tendency of coal stocks in the east. The output of iron is steadily increasing, and there is a gradual increase in activity in industrial circles generally, which will mean an increased consumption of coal. River Coal preferred was firm and unchanged at 22. The Steel stocks were all lower, but the largest decline was in Crucible preferred, which sold off to and closed at 39¾. Crucible common was a fraction lower at 6½. There was a subsidence of activity in the Westinghouse stocks, and Electric declined to 83. Air Brake was offered at 137½. Switch & Signal was firm at 70. Manufacturers Light and Heat led in point of activity, but the business was at the expense of values, the stock declining to and closing at 38. U. S. Glass sold at 42½, a new high mark. The remainder of the list was quiet and unchanged.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The bond of sympathy between the eastern and local stock market was illustrated yesterday. With the decline in Steel preferred in New York the market in Pittsburgh became dull, and as Steel preferred continued to sell off, local stocks became heavy. The largest loss was in Crucible preferred, which declined 1¼ per cent to 39¾ and closed at that price bid. There was no reason for this decline other than the heaviness in Wall street.

Ohio Fuel Supply sold unchanged at 39½. A bull on the stock in accounting for the fact that the news of the striking of a great gas well had no effect upon the market, said: "Ohio Fuel Supply has all the gas it needs, and the bringing in of this well, other than proving the value of the territory, would not necessarily stimulate demand for the stock."

Two small lots of Westinghouse Air Brake sold at 138 and 137½, but at the close 100 shares were offered at 137½ and the best bid was 135.

Local sentiment is bullish on Westinghouse Electric and Switch and Signal. At current prices the former pays about 6 per cent and the latter a shade under that rate. The market for Switch, however, is limited to Pittsburgh, while that for Electric is as good in New York as in this city.

United States Glass made a new high mark by advancing to 42½, but subsequently reacted to 42.

The Lincoln National bank has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent and an extra dividend of 1¼ per cent, both payable October 1 to stock of record September 30.

The Hamburg-American Steamship Company has declared an annual dividend of 7½ per cent, against 6 per cent last year. This was unexpected inasmuch as the estimated loss of the company on account of the rate war was £150,000.

The Keystone bank of Pittsburgh has declared a regular quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent and an extra dividend of ½ per cent, both payable October 1.

The First National bank of Allegheny has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, payable October 1.

The Manchester Savings and Trust Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent, payable October 1.

The Guarantee Title and Trust Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, payable October 1.

The Illinois Brick directors have declared a dividend of 2 per cent on the preferred stock, payable October 15.

On the Pittsburgh exchange 100 shares Pittsburgh Oil and Gas sold at 64 and 63½ was bid for more. The directors yesterday declared the usual quarterly dividend of 2 per cent.

The Rock Run Fuel Gas Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent, payable October 25.

The selling of National Fire Proofing preferred subsided yesterday after the stock had declined to 31.

A Wall street broker, who a few days ago was quoted as predicting 80 for Steel preferred, was yesterday credited with selling 5,000 shares on the decline.

Net earnings of Canadian Pacific for August increased $93,828. For the same month Erie's net decreased $79,266.

Surplus earnings of Reading for August decreased $248,800. Surplus earnings of Ontario & Western for the same month increased $62,100.

There was a sharp decline in sterling exchange yesterday, due to the free offering of cotton bills. The rate is close to the point at which gold could be imported.

The Union National bank of Pittsburgh has declared the usual quarterly dividend of 10 per cent.

Official announcement is made that a statement in connection with the absorption of the National Lead Company and the United States Lead Company by the American Smelting and Refining Company will be made next week. A representative of the American Smelting and Refining Company says that conferences are being held daily and that in all probability the transfer will be terminated by the middle of next week.

The rise of 15 points in Lackawanna followed a meeting of the directors at which the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent was declared. Some inferred that action might have been taken for the distribution of a part of the company's large surplus, but there was nothing to warrant this belief. A director said recently that he looked for some such distribution "some time," but he thought it was a long way off.

"Speculative sentiment is at the moment decidedly mixed. Regarding the ultimate movement of prices the opinion is almost universal that much higher prices will be established. The advance in prices which the market has already enjoyed was not due to professional manipulation, but was based on a genuine and substantial improvement in industrial conditions. All of the indications point to 1905 being a year of genuine prosperity, and this is the opinion of the ablest and most conservative financiers in Wall street. With a further improvement in industrial conditions a further advance in prices in the stock market can be confidently looked for. Regarding the immediate future movement of prices, however, there is a considerable difference of opinion. Many brokers who strongly advised the purchase of stocks when prices were at a very much lower level have been taking profits during the last few days. This profit-taking is based largely on the idea that the crop demand for currency will force the banks to call loans and thus cause a reaction in prices."—New York Commercial.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH.

Bank exchanges were $6,224,013, a decrease of $2,505,000.

Stock market less active and prices averaged lower.

Pittsburgh Coal preferred an exception, advancing to 61¾.

Peoples Pipeage advanced to 24. Manufacturers Gas declined to 38.

United States Glass advanced to 42½, a new high mark.

IN WALL STREET.

Stock market closed rather heavy after a general reaction.

Reading and Baltimore & Ohio the only prominent stocks to close higher.

Steel preferred opened at 73, broke to 71⅛ and closed at 71½.

Western and Southern railroad shares all sold off and closed lower.

As the reaction progressed the volume of dealings fell off.

Sales included 800,100 shares stock and $4,830,000 bonds.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Another producer has been added to the Cripple Creek shippers, a new vein having been encountered in the Four Brothers mine.

The Golden Cycle Company is unwatering the shaft and lower workings, which undoubtedly means that a greater tonnage of ore is to be made. This company paid $247,000 in dividends during the first six months of last year, and sufficient ore could easily be broken and hoisted to permit of $500,000 being distributed annually among the stockholders.

The Tunnel Mining and Leasing Company, operating the Abe Lincoln on Gold hill, is handling about 80 tons of the dump each day, washing it. Fair values are found, and the total recovery will amount to considerable.

George Fenner, owner of the North Star group of silver-lead claims, 45 miles west of Caliente, tapped an eight-foot ledge last week in a 75-foot tunnel. The formation is lime and porphyry, and the silver runs in manganese and low silver. Small quantities of ruby silver also have been found occasionally through the vein.

The Jelly Jane Gold Mining Company, capitalized for $1,500,000, and in possession of 15 acres of patented mineral land, has important development work in hand on the Tecumseh claim, just south of Stratton's Independence, in a portion of the Cripple Creek district where valuable indications have heretofore been scarce. In fact, with the exception of small shipments from the Martha Washington, owned by Stratton's Independence, this extensive territory has no output to its credit.

A Boston dispatch says: There is little foundation for the statement that a dividend on Copper Range will be declared by November 1. The fact is that the delay in getting the new Michigan smelter into perfect operation has caused the piling up of mineral to the extent that a few million pounds of copper in the form of mineral is awaiting treatment at the new works which are now rapidly getting into shape, and gaining upon the pile of mineral. From now on the money should come in more rapidly as copper is delivered, but it should not be forgotten that while it takes time to make a mine, it also takes time to get returns from copper as well, and the Copper Range Company should have more than $1,000,000 in cash or available surplus before dividends are begun.

DEAD DAY IN STOCKS IN THE NEW YORK MARKET

Reading Common and Steel, With Three Railroads, Make Bulk of Business.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The Herald this (Friday) morning says:

The stock market of yesterday was little more than a continuance of the preceding day's session. Prices moved uncertainly and at times hesitating, swayed by the somewhat contradictory influences of bull manipulation and profit taking. Business was again very poorly distributed, but was conducted upon about the same scale of activity as in recent sessions. Toward the close the market acted as though it was very tired from over stimulation, and other specific movements created no enthusiasm.

About 140,000 shares of Reading common were "churned up" resulting in a net gain of ¼ point, while at the same time nearly 175,000 shares of the two steel stocks went through the laundry with a net decline of ½ point in the common and of ⅜ in the preferred. These two properties, with Pennsylvania, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, contributed more than one-half the day's business.

The day was equally as barren of news as was its immediate predecessors. Still there was some, and among it was quite a number of railway traffic reports for the month of August, which were not, as a rule, inspiring, more decreases appearing on net earnings and surplus than increases. Little attention was paid to crop and weather news, though that continued favorable, and staple commodities showed uniform decline in prices. There was, in fact, little or nothing in the way of news calculated to in any way influence prices, and not even the various rumors and theories circulated or advanced to explain specific movements had much appreciable effect. Further discussion as to the Ontario & Western financial plan called forth more unfavorable comment as to a departure in modern finance, and the much heralded purchase of Steel preferred by Mr. Schwab in San Francisco, acted as a real dampener on the market.

COKE TRADE GROWS.

Week's Statistics Show a Steadily Increasing Volumne of Tonnage. Little Stock in Yards.

CONNELLSVILLE, Sept. 29.—(Special.)—The coke trade of the Connellsville region maintains a steadily increasing volume of tonnage. Production is steadily climbing. There is little stock coke in the yards and prices are being boosted a little. Some furnace coke has been sold, to go from the Stonega district to Birmingham to relieve the furnaces there on account of the striking coal miners.

The Courier's detailed report of the operation and output of the region for the week ending Saturday, September 24, shows a total of 23,330 ovens, of which 18,049 were active and 5,281 idle. The total estimated tonnage was 215,085, compared with 209,791 tons the previous week. There were few changes in the active and idle lists. The shipments last week aggregated 11,423 cars. They were distributed as follows: To Pittsburgh, 3,809 cars; to points west of Pittsburgh 6,291 cars; to points east of Connellsville 1,323 cars. There was a gain of almost 400 cars in the total shipments. In the lower Connellsville region there are 6,083 ovens, of which 4,985 were active and 1,098 idle. The estimated production was 60,459 tons, compared with 60,407 the previous week.

Flints' Conference Adjourns.

The conference between representatives of the American Flint Glass Workers' organization and manufacturers in the iron mold branch of the trade adjourned yesterday afternoon with all the matters under discussion amicably arranged. The terms made are such, it is said, that the manufacturers can compete with concerns operating under agreements with the Bottle Blowers' association.

FINANCIAL AND TRADE NOTES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—William S. Alley of Alley, Conger & Co., and S. L. Blood of S. L. Blood & Co. were suspended from the stock exchange today for one year each.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—National bank notes received today for redemption, $867,731; government receipts from internal revenue, $862,233; customs, $948,027; miscellaneous, $32,975; expenditures, $1,200,000.

THE MONEY MARKET.

The local money market remains quiet and unchanged at 5@6 per cent on call and time loans. There is a little better demand from stock brokers, owing to the increased business in the stock market. Clearing house comparisons:

	Exchanges.	Balances.
Yesterday	$6,244,013 70	$1,045,102 51

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The demand for money in the market today was much increased, it being stock exchange pay day and considerable sums being owing to the Bank of England. Discounts were weak. Operators on the stock exchange were chiefly occupied with the conclusion of the settlement. Business improved on the prospects of easy money. Consols hardened. Americans opened irregular, though they were well maintained on New York support, reacted later and closed dull. Foreigners mostly were inactive, owing to the Paris settlement. Japanese were weaker. Imperial Japanese government 6s of 1904 were quoted at 96¾. Consols for money, 88 7-16; consols for account, 88 7-16. Money, 2@2½ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 2¼@2 5-16 per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for three months' bills is 2 5-16@2⅜ per cent.

PARIS, Sept. 29.—Business on the bourse today was inactive, but at the close the market was steady. Russian imperial 4s were quoted at 93.20 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 503. The private rate of discount was 1⅝@1¾ per cent.

BERLIN, Sept. 29.—The tone on the boerse today was rather firm. Exchange on London 20 marks 40½ pfennigs for checks. Discount rates—short bills (for settlement), 5½ per cent; three months' bills, 3⅝ per cent.

Banks and the Treasury.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—(Special.)—In redemption of checks drawn by depositors of gold at the San Francisco and Seattle assay offices today's official records show that the sub-treasury paid out yesterday $189,130. Of this amount $9,612 had been deposited at San Francisco and $179,578 at Seattle. The total thus paid since Friday is $401,348, against $592,789 for the same period a week ago. Total payments by government to New York banks for the day was $2,871,000. Payments by banks to government was $3,942,000. Balance on the day's transactions was $1,071,000 paid by banks to the government. Total net payment by banks to government since Friday was $5,590,000, against $1,789,000 similarly paid for the corresponding period a week ago and $3,116,000 paid by government to banks a year ago. Included in the foregoing summary is $250,000 deposited by banks with the sub-treasury for payment at interior points. Total thus deposited since Friday is $1,400,000, against $1,975,000 for the same period a week ago and $875,000 in the same period a year ago.

Foreign Bank Statements.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes: Total reserve decreased £36,000; circulation increased £567,000; bullion increased £531,021; other securities increased £1,164,000; other deposits increased £1,350,000; public deposits decreased £263,000; notes reserve decreased £40,000; government securities unchanged. The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 57.50 per cent. Last week is was 58.85 per cent.

PARIS, Sept. 29.—The weekly statement of the Bank of France shows the following changes: Notes in circulation increased 91,600,000 francs; treasury accounts, current, increased 21,950,000 francs; gold in hand decreased 8,050,000 francs; bills discounted increased 142,375,000 francs; silver in hand decreased 2,425,000 francs.

Condition of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption, shows: Available cash balances, $149,967,675; gold, $68,714,558; silver, $17,814,503; United States notes, $10,213,618; treasury notes of 1890, $87,546; national bank notes, $14,773,850; total receipts this day, $1,872,356; total receipts this month, $44,500,993; total receipts this year, $136,180,772; total expenditures this day, $4,200,000; total expenditures this month, $48,870,000; total expenditures this year, $154,319,719; deposits in national banks, $118,250,353.

New York Money Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Money on call firm at 1½@2 per cent; closing bid, 1¾ per cent; offered at 2 per cent; time loans firm; 60 days, 3 per cent; 90 days, 3¼ per cent; six months, 3¾ per cent; prime mercantile paper, 4½@5 per cent; sterling exchange weak, then firmer with actual business in bankers' bills at $4 85.55@4 85.60 for demand and at $4 83.30@4 83.40 for 60 days' bills; posted rates, $4 84@4 84½ and $4 86@4 87; commercial bills, $4 82⅝@4 83⅛; bar silver, 57⅝c; Mexican dollars, 45½c; government bonds steady; railroad bonds easy.

THE THREE RIVERS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 29.—The stage of the river at 6 o'clock this evening marked 3.6 feet and falling. Weather clear and warm. Local packets in and out on time. Business exceedingly slack on the river front. Col. John L. Vance, president of the Ohio Valley Improvement association, was a visitor in the city today. He is enthusiastic over the prospects of the coming convention of the organization, which will be held in Huntington, W. Va., on November 16, 17 and 18. He left for the lower river tonight. Fog and low water are interfering with traffic on the river.

LOUISVILLE—River stationary. In canal, 2.5 feet; on falls, .3 feet; below locks, 3.4 feet. Clear and hot.

PT. PLEASANT, W. VA.—River 10 inches and stationary. Weather cloudy and windy.

GALLIPOLIS, O.—River 2 feet and stationary. Weather cloudy and threatening. Rain.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA.—River 1 7-10 feet and stationary. Weather clear and hot. No boats.

OIL CITY—River one foot five inches and stationary. Weather cloudy and warm.

GREENSBORO—River 5.10 feet and stationary. Weather cloudy and cool. Woodward down Frida yand Columbia up.

WARREN—River 1.2 feet. Heavy showers.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA.—River 5 feet 9 inches. Weather clear.

SLIGHT RISE IN RIVERS.

Local Pools Are Swollen by Heavy Rains at Headwaters of Streams.

The stage of water at Davis island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 3.6 feet and the river was stationary.

Heavy rains in the upper river country caused a slight rise in the local pools yesterday. The marks on the Monongahela wharf showed 6.9 feet and 3.5 feet at Davis island dam. No further rise was looked for by the rivermen. What rise there was helped the pilots on their way down the river Wednesday to view the bottom. They reached Rochester Wednesday night and expected to make Wheeling yesterday, but it was not believed here they would succeed, as a heavy head wind would greatly retard the progress of their little gasoline launch.

Capt. J. W. McFeeters, harbormaster, objects to the criticisms leveled at the new snag boat, General Theodore Schwan. He says the Schwan is doing all that was expected of her and her equipment is not yet completed. This week she tore out the old wreck of the Vigilant, which burned up near Elizabeth several years ago after striking a gas main in the river. Last Friday and Saturday she tore out an old dock at Hazelwood. Yesterday the Schwan started up the river with six empty flats to be loaded with stone for the new dam at Port Perry.

The I. C. Woodward was the Morgantown boat yesterday and had a good cargo and passenger list. The Hamilton Stoneware Company's jugboat arrived from Greensboro yesterday morning with a big consignment of crocks and jugs. Another boatload is expected in a day or two.

The Wool Market.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The fifth series of the 1904 wool auction sales closed today. When the sales opened bidding was active and most descriptions ruled unchanged from the July closing. Later the firmness increased and often advances of 5 per cent were noted.

Greasy scoured sold well. Medium and heavy greasies, which at first were rather weaker improved. Inferior and faulty scoureds were irregular and hard to sell. The demand for crossbreds was very strong throughout. Coarse sold firmly at unchanged rates and medium and scoured advanced 5 per cent. Good greasy combing from Cape of Good Hope commanded ½d advance. The sales closed at the best prices. The market is practically clear of old stock. During the series 5,000 bales were taken out by home buyers, 30,000 for the continent, 4,000 for America and 3,000 were held over.

The offerings today amounted to 8,751 bales. Superior slipes sold at 1@½d above the July average. Good greasy half-breds were in active request for America. Following are the sales in detail: New South Wales, 1,800 bales; scoured, 10½d@1s 8½d; greasy, 4½d@1s ¼d. Queensland, 1,200 bales; scoured, 10½d@2s; greasy, 6d@9½d. Victoria, 800 bales; scoured, 11d@1s 9½d; greasy, 6½d@1s 1½d. South Australia, 35 bales; greasy, 6¼d@7½d. New Zealand, 3,000 bales; scoured, 8½d@1s 8d; greasy, 6½d@1s 2½d. Cape of Good Hope and Natal, 1,300 bales; scoured, 7½d@1s 6½d; greasy, 5d @8½d. Falkland islands, 400 bales; greasy, 6½d@9½d.

The Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Cotton futures closed steady: September, 10.14c; October, 10.17c; November, 10.26c; December, 10.28c; January, 10.32c; February, 10.36c; March, 10.41c; April, 10.42c; May, 10.45c. Spot closed steady and 10 points decline; middling uplands, 10.70; middling gulf, 10.95c; sales, 1,100 bales.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The London tin market displayed a reactionary tendency after the apparently speculative advance of the last day or so and spot was quoted at £127 5s and futures at £127 15s. The local market, quick to respond to the easier situation abroad, owing to the continued light demand, was also lower, closing at from $27 75 to $27 92½.

The London copper market was a little lower, closing at £58 for both spot and futures. Locally quotations were without change, lake standing at $12 75@13 00, electrolytic at $12 75 @12 87½, and casting at $12 50@12 62½.

Lead was unchanged at $4 20@4 25 in the local market and at £11 17s 6d in London. Spelter advanced slightly in London, with spot quoted at £22 7s 6d. Locally it was unchanged at $5 10@5 20. Iron closed at 50s 3d in Glasgow and at 43s in Middlesboro. Locally iron was quiet. No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $13 75@14 25; No. 2 foundry northern at $13 25@13 50; No. 1 foundry southern and No. 1 foundry southern soft at $13 50@13 75.

Foreign Exchange.

The Iron City Trust quotes checks as follows: London, $4 85.60; Paris, $5 17.25; marks, 95.20; kronen (Austria), 20.31; Italian lire (paper), $5 18.50; Dutch guilders, 40.20; 40.20; roubles, 51.60; pesetas, 14.15; kronors (Scandinavia), 26.85; Hongkong (dollars local currency), $4 54.50; Yokohama (dollars local currency), $4 96; Manila (pesos), United States currency, par.

LEET TOWNSHIP PROPERTY SOLD

N. D. Jones Holdings Are Bought by Local Investor for $36,000.

DEAL ON BRIGHTON ROAD

The N. D. Jones property in Leet township, which has been one of the proud spots in the Sewickley valley for years, has been sold through the office of Samuel W. Black & Co. for $36,000. The property is located about midway between Edgeworth and Shields stations, on the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railroad, and is not over three minutes' walk from either place. It has a frontage of 425 feet on the upper side of the railroad and extends back 500 feet to Maple lane, including about five acres of ground. The plot is nearly level and is set with rare shrubs and flowers and beautiful shade trees. The residence is a large colonial frame house, which alone cost $15,000. On the rear of the lot is a big brick stable which cost over $3,000. The property is in the midst of some of the finest holdings in the entire valley, among which are the homes of Harry Irwin, Ezra P. Jones, Capt. Shields, and the Dr. Murray and the Haworth properties. At the price paid it is considered very cheap, as the property is valued at from $45,000 to $50,000. The buyer is a well-known business man, who will occupy the place as a home. Mr. Jones, the seller, is an oil operator and also has extensive mining interests in the west, where he will move shortly.

This is the second good sale of Sewickley valley property made by these brokers recently. The other deal was the sale to Architect Sidney F. Heckert of the Thomas Shields, Jr., holdings at Edgeworth for $30,000. The big forest trees on this plot are now being torn out preparatory to building five fine houses.

North Side Residence Resold.

Another fine residence property which was sold yesterday is the Walter Weisthoff property in Brighton road, near Benton avenue, Allegheny. A few weeks ago Stephen G. Porter purchased the property for $19,000, getting a plot 120x350 feet. He has now sold 70x250 feet of this plot to John Kasberger, an Allegheny hotel man, for $15,000. The last sale includes that part of the property on which is located the Weisthoff residence, a 12-room center hall house finished throughout in Flemish oak. The buyer will occupy the residence and it is rumored that Mr. Porter will build a house on the remainder of the plot. The sale was handled by J. H. Goehring and H. C. Mendel & Co.

Many fine residences are in the hands of architects for plans and estimates, although comparatively little active building of this kind is going on except in the Squirrel Hill district. D. Leet Wilson, president of the Central District and Printing Telegraph Company, will build a handsome brick and stone house, 72x63 feet, at Shields, from plans by Architects Alden & Harlow. The same architects have plans for a $25,000 residence to be built for Judge James R. Macfarlane in Woodland road, Twenty-second ward. They are also preparing plans for a brick and stone residence to be built for Mrs. N. C. Moore on one of the Thaw lots in Beechwood boulevard, near Fifth avenue, at a cost of $30,000. Architect Samuel H. Gass also has plans for a $10,000 house for Charles F. Gass in Shady avenue, East End.

Big Job of Plumbing.

Bids are being taken by Architect Charles Bickel on the plumbing for the 38 warehouses of the Pittsburgh Terminal Warehouse and Transfer Company on the South Side. The contract will be one of the largest ever awarded in this city, at least $50,000 worth of material and work being required. Architect Bickel has awarded the contract to Elijah Smith for extensive improvements to the Kaufmann store building at Fifth avenue and Smithfield street. The changes will include the installation of the Van Kannel revolving doors at the two Smithfield street entrances and the entrance in Fifth avenue, new elevators and a remodeled store front.

The same architect has awarded the contract to the William Miller & Sons Company for remodeling the six-story building of Morris Kaufmann in Fifth avenue, near Washington street.

The citizens of Cheswick, 14 miles up the Allegheny river, are anticipating the increase in population and business that is expected to follow the improved service on the West Penn railroad when the Brilliant cut-off is in operation. Pittsburgh street, the main thoroughfare of the pretty suburb, will be widened from 33 to 50 feet at once and macademized for a distance of one mile. Trains will be running by the new route by October 15, and the place is likely to have a steady growth as a result. Many Pittsburgh business men have already made their homes there and are building tasty residences. Two small lot plans will be put on the market this fall by the Land Title and Trust Company, one in the borough and the other adjoining it.

Another Wabash Allotment.

A new allotment, known as the Fryer plan, is being put on the market at East Bridgeville. A public sale will be held tomorrow. The plan is near the center of the town and has all the usual improvements with both the Wabash and the Panhandle train service close at hand. The time distance from Pittsburgh is only 15 minutes. The lots, which were laid out by Amos Fryer & Son of this city, are 40x120 feet in size and face in 40-foot streets.

Bellevue: W. L. Alexander of the Bellevue Realty Savings and Trust Company sold for Olive A. McLain to W. M. McCrea a 10-room frame house on 42x116 feet at 78 Jackson street, Bellevue, for $5,300 cash. Also for William Jenkinson to Samuel H. Baker 120x100 feet at Lincoln and Straw avenues, Bellevue, for $5,240, and to A. Johnston Lytle 100x100 feet at Meade and Monroe avenues, Bellevue, for $4,000.

Minor Realty Transactions.

Allegheny: W. C. Butterfield & Co. sold for Harry H. Short to William McFarland 1323 Arch street, Allegheny, a frame house on 20x110 feet for $4,400. He also sold to Ella M. Good 20x100 feet in the Etna addition plan adjoining Etna for $300.

Tustin street: The Aronson Realty Company sold to Michael Kubisak 2129 Tustin street, a seven-room house on 20x100 feet, for $3,000.

Millvale: W. F. Weitershausen sold for Herman Batz to Gertrude Bower a frame house on 200x200 feet in Millvale for $5,200. He also sold for John G. Lang to Simon Oberhofer a brick house on 30x60 feet at Pike and Madison streets, Third ward, Allegheny, for $4,300.

Cedar avenue: A. A. Wolf sold to Emanuel Wertheimer an improved lot, 40x122 feet, on the southeast side of Cedar avenue, Sixteenth ward, for $5,122; an improved lot, 42x100 feet, in Willow street, for $6,312; an improved lot, 20x100 feet, in Hill street, near Dickson street, for $1,797.

Wylie avenue: E. E. Kiernan sold to Victoria Ruben an improved lot, 20x75 feet, on the south side of Wylie avenue, near Tannehill street, Eighth ward, for $4,750.

Davis street: Jacob Shapira sold to David Alpern an improved lot, 20x95 feet, on the south side of Davis street, near Duncan street, Eleventh ward, for $4,500.

Wylie avenue: Julius Rosengold sold to Simon D. Rosenfield an improved lot, 22x100 feet, in Wylie avenue, Thirteenth ward, for $2,700.

McLain avenue: Anthony Hill sold to Herman Berg an improved lot, 45x154.5 feet, in McLain avenue, Thirty-first ward, for $2,600.

Overhill street: The Aronson Realty Company has sold to J. Pearlstein, Liberty street, the Kalson holdings at Overhill and Clark streets, Eighth ward, for $16,000 cash. This property is on a lot 40x60 feet, and the improvements consist of a three-story brick apartment house, arranged for eight families. Mr. Pearlstein takes the property for income purposes.

The Pittsburgh bureau of building inspection issued the following permits yesterday: To Kauffman Brothers, repairs to store building in Fifth avenue, between Cherry alley and Smithfield street, to cost $8,000; to M. Kauffman, new front and rear to brick three-story building at 1414 Fifth avenue, Seventh ward, to cost $2,000; to J. W. GENERAL LIFTING IN MARKET LINES

Produce Men Say Better Times Are Already Improving Business in Their Trade.

A general improvement in business of all kinds is believed to have taken place by the men who handle what the people eat. Sales for the past several weeks have been steadily on the increase, indicating that the purchasing public is possessed of more ready cash and has less fear of the future than characterized conditions a month ago. While the improvement has not been a phenomenal one, yet it has been decided and business men in the markets are generally confident that the worst has passed and that a steady increase is assured.

Flour made a slight drop yesterday from $6 50 and $6 60 to $6 50 and $6 55. Peaches were in great demand yesterday for the best class of the fruit, but there was none to supply the buyers. About all that are in the market are the colorless ones from Michigan and the buying public is not so partial to them as to the ruddier ones from the south.

Good potatoes are firmer in the yard and best stock is quoted at 55c. The supply is scarcely equal to the demand.

Butter and cheese hold firm; eggs are steady and the general business is a little slow, due principally to the fact that it is the end of the month. Chestnuts are coming in briskly and there is a good demand for them. The crop is said to be a big one this year and the nuts are of exceptionally good quality.

Receipts of fruit and produce yesterday were light. The banana market is still stocking up, 13 more cars coming in yesterday, making a total of 25 in stock. Other receipts were: Apples, 4, making 25 in; cantaloupes, 3, making 26; grapes, 2, making 25; peaches, 7, making 23; potatoes, 2, making 22; sweet potatoes, 1, making 24; tomatoes, 2; California fruits, 3, making 8; miscellaneous, 8, making 15.

Tomatoes are nearing the end of the season and are beginning to slack up rapidly, although there will be some coming in for a month yet. The tomato season is practically winding up, however, and the vegetable will be merely a luxury in another week or two.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 27 cars hay, 8 cars oats, 3 cars straw, 5 cars corn, 5 cars feed; Baltimore & Ohio, 5 cars oats, 15 cars feed, 1 car straw, 1 car feed; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 5 cars hay. There is no change in prices and the market remains in the same condition it has been for several days.

SALE OF PRODUCTION IN HARRISON COUNTY, O.

Very little producing property has been changing hands of late, so that a small transaction attracts a little attention. In the Plum Run district, in Harrison county, O., the Ann Oil Company has sold its holdings to W. C. Kennedy & Co. The property consists of a half dozen farms, in all 382 acres, on which are 19 wells, having an aggregate net production of 23 barrels a day. The price paid was $30,000 and the new owners will proceed to fully develop the property. There is room for a large number of wells on the properties that should be good for 2 or 3 barrels a day.

In the Leetsdale district, Beaver county, Pa., the Contractors' Oil Company has drilled its No. 3 on the Charles Beeler farm into the Boulder and has a show for a very light pumper in that formation. In the Bristoria district, Greene county, the South Penn has completed its second test on the King McVay farm and has a 10-barrel producer in the Gordon.

In the Richwood Run district, in Wetzel county, Trees & Brast have drilled their No. 2 on the Josephus Morris farm down to the second pay and its production was increased to 180 barrels a day. No. 5 on the same farm is still holding up at 105 barrels a day. West of Middlebourne, Tyler county, Benedum & Trees have drilled their test on the D. M. Danser farm through the Big Injun and have a show for a 7 or 8-barrel pumper. West of Stringtown, Tyler county, the Fisher Oil Company has completed a test on the C. Z. Freeland farm and has a show for a 30-barrel producer in the Big Injun. In the Mannington district, Marion county, the Philadelphia Company has drilled its test on the J. M. Tetrick farm through the Gordon and has a duster. On the east side of the Folsom district, Harrison county, the South Penn is 36 feet in the Gordon with its second test on the F. V. Mason farm and the hole has filled up but 500 feet with fluid. The same company has drilled No. 2 on the Jesse Talkington farm 18 feet in the stray and the well has some gas, but no oil. The same company's No. 4 on the John Price farm is producing 60 barrels a day and has not been shot. In the Salem district the South Penn has drilled No. 5 on the Samuel Gain farm through the Gordon and the hole has filled up 500 feet with fluid. On Fish creek, Marshall county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has completed its test on the Washington Kelly farm and has a fair gasser in the Gordon. The South Penn Oil Company has given its No. 2 on the James Henry farm a 40-quart shot and it responded with a good flow.

In the Yellow Creek district, Calhoun county, the South Penn drilled its No. 3 on the H. I. Jackson farm into a second Berea grit pay and increased its production to 150 barrels the ensuing 24 hours. In the Burning Springs district, Wirt county, Roberts Bros. have completed No. 54 on the Rathbone oil tract and have a show for a 5-barrel pumper in the second Cow Run sand at a depth of 516 feet. In the Wick district, Tyler county, the Carter Oil Company has given its No. 6, an old producer, on the J. W. Ankrom farm a shot and increased its production to 240 barrels a day.

On the Ohio side, in the shallow sand territory, on Wolf creek, Morgan county, another good producer has been completed by the Hastings Oil Company and the South Petroleum Company. It is their No. 16 on the G. E. Morris farm and placed 125 barrels to its credit the first 24 hours after it was drilled into the pay. In the Rays Run district, Washington county, the Associated Producers' Company has drilled its test on the J. Heckathrone farm through the Big Injun and found nothing. It is now drilling to the Berea grit. In the Adams pool, Harrison county, the Clear Fork Oil Company has completed a second test on the Samuel Adams farm and will have a 5-barrel pumper in the Berea grit.

PRIMARY RECEIPTS ARE SENDING WHEAT DOWN

May Option Is Off a Cent and Other Cereals Act in Sympathy.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Increased primary receipts were influential in causing weakness today in wheat. Favorable weather was an additional drag. December wheat closed with a loss of ⅝@¾c. The May option is down 1c. Corn is off ⅜c. Oats show a decline of ⅜c. Provisions are steady.

Under the influence of higher cables the wheat market opened firm, being unchanged to ⅛c higher at $1 12⅝@1 12¾. May was unchanged to ⅛c higher at $1 13⅛. The market soon weakened on liberal sales by local longs and commission houses. A report from Duluth stating that stocks there so far this week had increased 750,000 bushels was responsible for part of the selling. Favorable weather conditions also had a depressing influence. Before the market received any considerable support December had declined to $1 12 and May to $1 12⅝@1 12¾. Inspired by reports of good flour sales in the northwest shorts bought quite freely. Later the demand became general. The market readily responded to the improved buying. December advancing to $1 13. May sold up to $1 13⅝. Heavy realizing sales soon caused renewed weakness. Primary receipts were 10 per cent in excess of those of a year ago, and this fact had considerable influence on the late selling. The low point in December was reached at $1 11⅝. May sold off to $1 11¾. The market rallied slightly, but the close was weak, with December at $1 11⅝@1 11¾; May closed at $1 12⅝. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 53,700 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,296,300 bushels, compared with 1,018,100 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 867 cars, against 964 cars last week and 696 cars a year ago.

Favorable weather there and a decline in wheat prices caused weakness in corn. There was a fair volume of business, with pit traders favoring the selling side. December opened unchanged to ⅛c higher at 51⅛@51¼c, sold between 50⅝c and 51⅛c and closed at 50⅝c. Local receipts were 108 cars, with 4 of contract grade.

Oats are affected by weakness of other grains. Trading was quiet. December opened unchanged to ⅛c higher at 30⅝@30¾c, sold between 30¼@30½c and 30¾c and closed at 30⅜c. Local receipts were 123 cars.

Provisions were weak early as a result of lower prices for hogs. A good demand for lard caused a steadier feeling later in the day. There was considerable liquidation of pork and at the close the January option was off 7½c at $13 07½. Lard and ribs were unchanged at $7 37½ and $6 82½, respectively. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 63 cars; corn, 119 cars; oats, 121 cars; hogs, 16,000 head.

EXPORT TRADE IS NOT THE IMPORTANT FEATURE NOW

Steel Manufacturer Says Home Trade Is Keeping Mills Busy and Will Increase.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—A steel maker is quoted as follows: "The cause of the big drop in the exports of iron and steel during August was not so much a falling off in orders from abroad as a very improved condition of affairs in the trade at home.

"If the present outlook is any criterion for the business of the future, the exports of iron and steel will continue to decrease until they become unimportant in their trade statistics. Of course, manufacturers of iron and steel will continue to go abroad in larger volume, but the truth is that 'dumping' of billets, rails, pig iron, structural steel and iron ore almost ceased in August and there was very little in that way done this month.

"This is decidedly gratifying, for it demonstrates that the makers of iron and steel are finding a market for their products at home and at far better prices than they have been getting abroad. The improvement thus noted has gone to the point where it looks as though it was genuine and lasting. The importance of this lies in the fact that when the steel mills of this country are able to cut off their dumping of surplus products abroad conditions at home must be good.

"It is a fact that American enterprises in the way of building, bridge building, track-laying and repairing, all of which require great quantities of iron and steel, have been so tied up for the last 15 months that it will require a good period of busy work to get back to normal."

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at a decline of 5 points in response to lower European cables, continued full Brazilian receipts and renewed predictions for a disappointing world's visible supply statement October 1. But there was a good demand at the decline promoted by the steadiness of the Brazilian markets and the lack of accumulation at those centers in spite of the big receipts, and following the call the market ruled generally steady. It closed steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 5 points, with sales of 63,750 bags, including October at 6.75c; November at 6.85c; December, 6.90@6.95c; March at 7.20c; May at 7.35@7.40c; July at 7.50@7.55c; August at 7.60c. Spot Rio steady; No. 7 invoice, 8⅛c; mild quiet. Sugar—Raw steady; fair refining, 3¾c; centrifugal, 96 test, 4 5-16c; molasses sugar, 3½c; refined quiet.

COULDN'T BREAK BOTTLE OF WINE

Workman Comes to Relief of Sponsor of Battleship Connecticut.

IS OUR FINEST WARSHIP

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Although successfully launched today, the battleship Connecticut did not have her bottle of wine broken by Miss Alice B. Welles, who had been selected as sponsor for the ship. She threw the bottle at the bow as the ship began to move off the ways, but it failed to break when it struck the vessel's side.

Secretary of the Navy Morton and Rear Admiral Rodgers stood beside Miss Welles. Rear Admiral Rodgers attempted to grasp the bottle as it rebounded, but failed. The ship was moving off into the water when a workman on the deck seized the string that held the bottle and dashed the glass receptacle of the champagne against the side of the ship, shattering it, to the relief of the superstitious.

This was the only variation of the prearranged plan, despite the many sensational stories of attempts to do the vessel damage. It is estimated that almost 30,000 persons witnessed the launching.

Soon after 11 o'clock the cautionary flag was run up on the huge crane, over the bow, and a few minutes later the warning to "get away" was given. To the accompaniment of creaking timbers, booming guns, sirens and whistles, the big red hull slid into the water at 11:16. It took just 25 seconds for the Connecticut to clear the ways.

After the launching several hundred guests were entertained at luncheon at the officers' club, at which Secretary Morton was the guest of honor. A reception was also held at the naval branch of the Y. M. C. A., where 1,000 were entertained. Miss Helen M. Gould received. Secretary Morton and Gov. Chamberlain made short, informal speeches.

The Connecticut is a sister ship of the Louisiana, and both vessels were authorized by an act of congress in 1902. The Connecticut was built in a government yard and under government supervision, while the Louisiana was built by a private shipbuilding company at Newport News, Va. The construction of both ships has been followed with keen interest, as it was recognized that it was a test of the government's ability to cope with private enterprise. Much depended on this competition of construction, for if the Connecticut is completed before the Louisiana then most of the government shipbuilding will be done by the latter, and it is expected the New York navy yard will be the shipbuilding center for government work.

The Connecticut, when finished, will be the finest and most powerful boat in the American navy. Her armament will consist of four 12-inch breech-loading guns, eight 8-inch guns, twelve 7-inch rapid-fire guns, twelve 14-pounders, twelve 3-pounders, six 1-pound automatic guns, two 1-pound semi-automatic and eight 30-inch machine guns.

The Connecticut is to be fitted for use as a flagship, and when in commission will carry 42 officers and 761 men. She is not to exceed $4,212,000 in cost.

This will be the third vessel to bear the name of Connecticut in the United States navy. The first was built at Middletown, Conn., in 1798. The second was a wooden side-wheeler, purchased in 1861 and used during the civil war.

DRUGS MADE HIM CRAZY.

Excuse Offered by Young Man for Assaulting and Robbing Wealthy New Yorker.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—(Special.)—"I was crazy when the idea came to me in the boat to rob the young fellow from drugs I had taken," said Thomas S. Price this afternoon in the Jefferson Market prison after waiving examination on charges of felonious assault and grand larceny preferred by Albert V. Luebbers.

Posing as a son of a wealthy family, Price started Tuesday for a trip on the Hudson in a motor boat that Mr. Luebbers was anxious to sell. When the launch was near the New Jersey coast, he attacked the owner, who was at the helm; beat him over the head with a monkey wrench and compelled him to take off his clothes and to exchange a good suit with money and a watch in the pockets for an old one. Then Price steered the boat back to a New York landing and stepped ashore.

Price is 22 years old and of slight build. He was married about two years ago and is said to have deserted his wife and baby.

Jury Would Not Condemn.

HUNTSVILLE, ALA., Sept. 29.—The jury in the case of George Frame, charged with murder, today returned a verdict of not guilty. Frame is the fourth alleged lyncher of the negro, Maples, to be acquitted.

AIRSHIPS FOR WAR PURPOSES

England Is Working on One and They Will Be in Use in a Few More Years.

SPECIFICATIONS FOR FLYER

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Lieut.-Col. John Edward Capper, of the Royal engineers, British navy, commander of the balloon sections at Aldershot, is here on a visit, accompanied by his wife. When seen at the Holland house he spoke of the future of aerial navigation as applied to warfare. He believes that the flying machine is destined to revolutionize military and naval conflicts.

"It is now only a question of time before man will gain dominion over the air," said Col. Capper. "Estimates of this time vary, but I think that within the next 12 years the supremacy of nations will be decided in the air.

"The British government is seriously considering and spending much money just now on the problem of the airship. Our war office recently commissioned Dr. Barton, the most expert man today on aerial machine construction, to build an airship for practical use in war, and the department will not scrimp him in the matter of money. The war office has stipulated and Dr. Barton has guaranteed that his machine shall be able to carry three men, also fuel and apparatus for 24 hours, remain in the air 24 hours, have a speed of 13 miles an hour in calm, turn in a circle of 100 yards and finally, ascend and descend without apparatus working from the ground. In all these particulars I believe Dr. Barton will succeed.

"It is a pity that in the present war the two opposing armies have not the advantages of the airship. If they had I believe the campaign would have been ended by this time without the appalling slaughter that has already been committed."

NEW FLYING MACHINE.

Sir Hiram Maxim Has a Rival Who Is Able to Fly.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—(Special Cable.)—Sir Hiram Maxim is not the only Londoner who is near solving the problem of aerial navigation. His rival is Senor Alvarez, whose flying machine went up from the Crystal palace a few days ago. The machine, which is far simpler than any shown so far, was under perfect control and was steered with ease in all directions, even when at the height of 5,000 feet above the ground.

It looks like a huge bird with great white wings measuring 40 feet from tip to tip. The motive power is a two-horse power gasoline motor which drives two propellers, one vertical and the other horizontal. These propellers revolve at the rate of 200 revolutions a minute. The whole machine only weighs 150 pounds and has a carrying capacity of nearly 400 pounds. On its next trip it will probably carry a passenger besides its inventor.

KINGS WERE PRESENT AT FINSEN'S FUNERAL

Discoverer of Light Rays for Lupus Is Signally Honored in His Death.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 29.—The funeral of Prof. Niels Finsen, discoverer of the so-called Finsen rays light for the cure of lupus, was held at the Frederick church today. Few scientists have been recognized in death as was Prof. Finsen. Two kings, those of Denmark and Greece, were present and almost every other European ruler was personally represented, while princes and high ministers of state and leading scientists came to pay a last tribute to the dead.

Among these famous personages several more humble mourners were seen—patients whom Finsen had cured. Wreaths, carried by special representatives, came from Emperor William, King Edward, Queen Alexandra and Count Von Buelow, the German imperial chancellor.

The crown prince of Denmark and Princes Waldemar, Karl and Hans were present in the church. The coffin was hidden beneath flowers. Hundreds of doctors, medical students and patients followed it to the grave.

Pleaded for Life of Dog.

Otto Conrad of Wickliff street was the owner of a dog which is alleged to have bitten two children of Mrs. Mary Morgan of Fifty-fourth street, and Mrs. Morgan promptly entered suit. All parties in the case, including the dog, appeared at the hearing at the Forty-third street police station yesterday. Conrad pleaded earnestly for the life of his pet, but Magistrate Kane was obdurate. In the midst of the hearing the dog broke away, and it took the entire reserve force to capture him. He was finally killed with chloroform and taken home by Conrad, who says he will have him mounted.

Was General Osterhaus' Son.

BERLIN, Sept. 29.—Maj. Osterhaus, whose death in a hospital in Southwest Africa, from wounds, has just been gazetted, was the son of Gen. Peter Osterhaus, who served in the northern army during the civil war in the United States, and who is now living at Bonn.

REBUKES FRANCE FOR PERSECUTION

Eucharistic Congress Condemns Actions Inspired by an "Infidel Faction."

WILL MEET IN PITTSBURGH

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Acting on the suggestion made by Rev. Father James Dougherty, pastor of St. Gabriel's church, New York city, on the first day of the session, the eucharistic congress of the Catholic church without a dissenting voice adopted the following:

The third eucharistic congress of the United States, held in the city of New York September 27-29, 1904, composed of prelates and priests, representative of and giving expression to the sentiment of Catholic America, having in view recent events in France, affecting religion and liberty, before adjourning decides to put itself on record by the following resolutions:

First. We tender to our holy father, Pope Pius X, our reverential recognition and profound admiration of his apostolic stand in favor of true human liberty and essential human rights as against the behests and threats of an infidel faction that has for the time being unfortunately possessed itself of the government of a once great Catholic nation and a sister republic.

Second. We, the children of the church and loyal ministers and dispensers of her mysteries, sympathize deeply with our much-tried brethren across the waters in the land whose glorious record for so long has been "Gesta Dei per Francos," and we assure her bishops, priests and people that we are heart and soul with them in their battle for right, truth and religion.

Third. We condemn with all the emphasis not only of the dictates of the natural law, but of the instincts, moreover, of Catholic faith itself, the action of a clique inspired by the secret societies in exiling and persecuting the religious orders and communities of men and women whose only crime was they had made a sacrifice of their whole selves, their belongings, their faculties and their very lives to interests of charity, of education and of the common weal of their native land. May the divine helmsman, whom we today in deepest adoration hail as our eucharistic king, rise up again and say as He once said to the storms and the waves, "Peace. Be still."

Bishop Maes, at the close of the congress, announced that the next congress would be held in 1906 in the University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Ind., and the congress of 1907 at Pittsburgh.

GERMAN DOUBTING THOMAS.

Conservative Papers Suspicious of Roosevelt's Peace Policy.

BERLIN, Sept. 29.—(Special Cable.)—The Frankfurter Zeitung, one of the most prominent conservative papers of Germany, writes today, commenting upon the idea of President Roosevelt to call a second peace conference:

"The people of Germany have reasons to congratulate President Roosevelt on this idea if he is really sincere, and if so he will have the heartiest co-operation of the best minds of all nations. But he will first have to convince the world that he is sincere and that the whole movement in favor of peace is not a campaign trick which would not come entirely unexpected from the man who glories so in military deeds and who only a short time ago was quoted as having said that no laurels won in time of peace could begin to compare with those which came to the heroes of war."

KING CARLOS MAY SOON VISIT KING EDWARD

LISBON, Sept. 29.—King Carlos, in his speech at the opening of the cortes today, intimated that he and Queen Marie Amelie will visit England in November, to return the visit of King Edward. He emphasized the neutrality of Portugal in the Russo-Japanese war, and referred in terms of gratification to the conclusion of the treaty with Spain and to the application to Porto Rico of the treaties with the United States.

HER BLOOD TOO THIN

GENERAL DEBILITY RESULTS FROM IMPOVERISHED BLOOD.

The Remedy That Makes New Blood Banishes Weakness, Headaches, Indigestion and Nervous Troubles.

Hundreds of women suffer from headaches, dizziness, restlessness, a languid feeling that makes all work a burden and a timidity that keeps them in constant fear of some vague disaster. Few realize that their misery all comes from the bad state of their blood, and that it can be relieved at small expense and with very little trouble. They take one thing for their head, and another for their stomach, and a third for their nerves, and yet all the while it is simply their poor blood that is the cause of all their discomfort.

If one sure remedy for making good, rich blood were used every one of their distressing ailments would disappear, as they did in the case of Mrs. Ella F. Stone, who had been ailing for years and was completely run down before she realized the nature of her trouble.

The particulars of Mrs. Stone's illness and recovery, as stated by herself, are as follows: "For several years I suffered from general debility. It began about 1896. I do not know the special cause, but I began to have indigestion, nervousness and steady headaches. Up to 1900 I hadn't been able to find any relief from this condition. Then I was in a pronounced anaemic state. I was very thin and bloodless. A friend who had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for a difficulty of the blood and was enthusiastic over the results urged me to give them a trial and I finally bought a box.

"I did not notice any marked change from the use of the first box, but I determined to give them a fair trial and I kept on. When I had finished the second box I could see very decided signs of improvement in my condition. Day by day the evidence that they were doing me good grew stronger. I began to feel better all over, and I began to have hopes of a complete cure.

"I used in all eight or ten boxes, and when I stopped I had got back my regular weight and a good healthy color, and the gain has lasted. I can eat what I please without discomfort. My nervousness is entirely gone, and, while I had constant headache before, I very rarely have one now. I cheerfully recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to women who suffer as I did."

Mrs. Stone was seen at her pretty home in Lakewood, R. I., where she is well known, and where, as the result of her experience, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are to be found in many households. These famous pills are sold by all druggists. A book that every women needs is published by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y. It is entitled "Plain Talks to Women" and will be sent free on request.

SUPREMACY!

At last we can announce to the public that Regal Shoes are made in QUARTER SIZES. Never before has such an achievement been accomplished in shoe manufacture.

There are now 288 different fittings in each of the 75 new Regal styles—36 quarter sizes in 8 widths. No other manufacturer can offer you more than half as many. If his even size is too small and his next half size too large, you are helpless. You must either wear shoes that don't fit, or buy made-to-order shoes at extravagant prices.

The exclusive Regal quarter-size system brings the fittings of shoes down to such minute gradations that no custom bootmaker in the land can build a shoe about your foot with more glove-like smoothness.

Regal quarter sizes mark the end of custom bootmaking—for where now does the highest priced custom shoe surpass a Regal?

Not in style, because Regal styles are designed by the same master shoemakers who set the shoe styles for the world.

Not in material and wear, as proven by the most stringent tests devised.

And now, not even in fit. With this, the final requisite achieved, Regals stand supreme.

When you consider that the Regal price is still $3.50, one-third the cost of a custom shoe which is not a bit better, you will appreciate the magnitude of this accomplishment.

75 Handsome Styles for Fall are now ready in each of the 80 Regal Stores. Never before has such an exquisite line of footwear been offered by any one dealer or manufacturer. Even if you're only "looking around," we urge your early inspection.
